VOTES FOR DE RIVERA MOUNTING

Spain's Dictator Draws Heavy Feminine Support; Balloting in Philippines

MADRID, Sept. 12. (AP)—The first official figures in the national referendum made public this morning show that 49,987 men and women in Madrid City and Province have voted confidence in the Primo de Rivera administration and for the establishment of a national assembly.

The regulations governing the referendum provide that only votes in favor of the government will be accepted. No vote against the government may be cast.

The patriotic union, under whose direction the plebiscite is being held, is satisfied with the results obtained thus far and is optimistic as to the final figures. No untoward incidents are reported. The voting, which started yesterday will continue until tomorrow night.

Forty-five per cent of the voters were women. Women also are acting on the plebiscite boards. A greater number of voters were from the government offices. Many members of the teaching staff of Madrid University voted confidence in Primo de Rivera.

"Vote getters" also were employed. They worked in squads to get out the late and lazy voters.

This is the first time that women ever have been able to vote in Spain, and they are out in full force to take advtange of the privilege.

MANILA, Sept. 12. (AP)—About 800 Spaniards voted in Manila in favor of the Prima de Rivera government in Spain in a plebiscite today. Others are expected to vote tomorrow. At the Spanish consulate it is estimated that 90 per cent of the Spaniards in the Philippines will vote in favor of the government. There are about 4000 Spanish citizens in the Philippines.

LAND FORCE AT HANKOW

British Act in China Row

Marines Go Ashore for Duty; Nationals Removed From Ports on Yangtze

Nippon Press Takes Stand Opposing 'Cat's-paw' Role for Japanese

SHANGHAI, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—The British cruiser Hawkins landed marines at Hankow today for the purpose of preventing damage to British interests consequent to the anti-British agitation which is now sweeping the Yangtze Valley, following the Wanhsien incident and the occupation of the Hankow district by the Cantonese faction.

All British nationals located in Chung King, Ichang and Wanhsien and in other upper Yangtze ports are being removed and it is reported that the British are issuing secret instructions that women of British nationality in Szechuen Province be removed to places of safety.

JAPANESE ACT

There is also considerable feeling against the Japanese but it is not as serious as that against the British, although the Japanese also are strengthening their naval craft in the Yangtzearea, dispatching Rear-Admiral Araki here to take command.

British organizations and press are actively demanding intervention but they admit the futility of that without Japanese and American co-operation. The Japanese are watching the situation carefully, strengthening their forces on the Chinese coast, but it is not expected that Japan will adopt coersive measures, owing to its hope that the present Chinese outburst will further weaken the British commercial and financial monopolies in the Yangtze Valley, as was the case in recent developments in the Canton area.

SITUATION UNCERTAIN

Whether or not Marshal Sun Chuan Feng, commander of the lower Yangtze district, will be able to prevent a Cantonese advance in this direction still is uncertain, owing to the superiority of the Cantonese forces in the Hankow district, plus the possession of Hankow's arsenal from which the Reds are able to replenish their stocks of arms and munitions.

Many of Marshal Sun's subordinates in Seiangusi, Fukien and Chekiang provinces are due here tomorrow for the purpose of investigating the local situation.

JAPANESE PRESS FOR "HANDS-OFF" POLICY

TOKIO, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Editorially the Japanese press takes the attitude that Japan is not even interested in Britain's troubles in the Yangtze Valley in China, while all of the papers are coupling Japan's name with Britain in the Cantonese proclamations and the Moscow protests. The Shanghai strike declarations are being slurred over in news reports or are disregarded entirely.

Jiji, one of the few papers commenting on the situation, says Japan is not ready to become a British cat's-paw in China, while any temporary revival of the Anglo-Japanese alliance is impossible.

Another paper takes the position that Japan has undergone several times experiences similar to that of the British at the present time and has emerged by regarding the incidents merely as local. It also makes plain Japan's determination not to move in any way against the Chinese, offering this course to Japanese officials.

Business has been hard hit, however. Exports in the first ten days of September have been considerably lower than they were at the corresponding period last year. Cotton shares are falling and production is shrinking.

FALL OF WU CHANG TO CANTONESE DENIED

PEKING, Sept. 12. (AP)—Advices from Hankow state, in conflict to previous reports, are that Wu Chang has not as yet been occupied by the Cantonese but that its evacuation by the allies is expected soon.

The southern army from Kwantung Province under leadership of Gen. Chang Kai-shek, military head of the Canton government, invested Hankow Saturday afternoon, the Wu Pei-fu forces yielding their Hupeh Province capital to the Cantonese but remaining in possession of near-by Wu Chang. The allied troops demanded $80,000 as a consideration for evacuating Wu Chang, retaining their arms.

Merchants and chambers of commerce were willing to raise the money but the Cantonese would not agree to permitting the northerners to depart armed, hence negotiations that were under way failed.

The southerners believe it will be impossible for the allied troops to hold Wu Chang more than a few days.

Entry of the southern army into Hankow was cheered by the residents who assembled by thousands to witness the spectacle. The occupation was carried out unostentatiously and in an orderly manner. Invading soldiers seemed to be friendly to the people of the city and paid for what they purchased. Refugees already are returning from the foreign concessions where they had taken refuge when it became certain that the southerners were to take the city, after a battle lasting several days.

ISLAND DEFENSE PLAN TOLD

Rodgers's Death Will Not Halt Demonstration of Hawaii-Phillippine Aerial Project

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Commander John Rodgers's projected second attempt to fly to Honolulu, cut short by his untimely death in an airplane crash at Philadelphia, it has been learned from authoritative sources, was only part of an ambitious navy program to demonstrate that the United States' Pacific possessions, if need arises, can be protected by air from our western coast. Secretary Wilbur is said not to have given the project official sanction, but there is strong probability the demonstration will be made within a year.

The Philippine Islands were the ultimate goal of the flight as planned under Rodgers's leadership, and five huge flying boats were to make it. Three of them already have been concentrated at San Diego, the others being at the naval aircraft factory in Philadelphia where they were built under personal supervision of the man who was to command the flight.

Rodgers's original machine, the PN-9 No. 1, and the PN-9 No. 3 commanded by Lieut. Allan P. Snody and forced down shortly after the first attempted flight to Hawaii, together with the tandem-motored Boeing PB, which failed to get off with Rodgers and Snody, are at the California base. Their crews will be picked up from the Pacific Coast.

The new planes designated as PN-19 and similar to the PN-9 except that their twin motors now develop 600 instead of 500 horsepower and the hull sets at a different angle, have taken up 1500 pounds more than Rodgers carried on his epic flight. Navy flyers say there is no doubt that these machines can carry fuel sufficient for the long hop to Honolulu and the shorter leg to Manila will be "pie." It is said Rodgers would have gone on to the Philippines in 1925 had he reached his first goal. Navy men say the object of this flight was to show either Hawaii or the Philippines could be relieved by planes in case they were besieged by an enemy.

ERROR MAY GIVE SCOPES NEW TRIAL

Tennessee Supreme Court Expected to Reverse Case on $50 Technicality

DAYTON (Tenn.) Sept. 12. (AP)—After all the tumult and the shouting at Dayton a year ago the famous Scopes evolution case is expected to be reversed by the Tennessee Supreme Court by reason of a little matter involving just $50.

An ancient and somewhat neglected provision of the State constitution limiting to $50 the amount of fine that may be imposed by a trial judge on any defendant has been dug up by attorneys interested in the evolution trial which, even in the absence of other error in the lower court, may entitle John Thomas Scopes, the high-school instructor, convicted of teaching evolution, to a new trial.

The antievolution statute sets the fine for persons convicted under it at from $100 to $500. The Scopes jury, when returning its verdict of guilty, left the amount of the fine to the trial judge, and Judge John T. Raulston imposed the minimum fixed by the act of the Legislature. Now is is contended that only the jury could impose a fine larger than $50.

Atty.-Gen. Tom Stewart, who prosecuted Scopes in the Dayton trial, in a statement today admitted the possibility of reversal by the Supreme Court by reason of the "$50 error."

Army Dirigible Returns After Midwest Flight

LANGLEY FIELD (Va.) Sept. 12. (AP)—The army blimp TC-5 returned to her base here at 4:50 a.m. today after an uneventful flight from the Middle West. Officers of the ship reported that almost perfect weather conditions prevailed throughout practically the entire journey from Scott-field, Belleville, Ill., across the Alleghenies to the Virginia army air base.

Completing a round trip from this station to the Illinois field without mishap, the TC-5 was the first dirigible to make an inland flight since the navy airship Shenandoah was wrecked in a storm in Ohio just a little more than a year ago.

The army blimp encountered rough going on its outward voyage, and at times there was fear for its safety.

On the return trip the TC-5 landed at Wright Field, Dayton, O., yesterday afternoon from Scott Field and took off for Langley Field at 5:45 p.m., sailing direct toward her Virginia base. She completed that leg of her voyage in eleven hours and five minutes.

Officer Killed by Son Avenging Deaths in Feud

PRESTONSBURG (Ky.) Sept. 12. (AP)—An outgrowth of what is termed a feud between members of the Mellon family and Jim Sizemore, Prestonsburg constable, resulted in the killing of Sizemore in the Courthouse here by Bev Mellon, Jr. Mellon fled to the hills immediately after the shooting and has not been arrested, although a posse went in search of him.

The shooting resulted, it was said, from the killing of Mellon's father, Bev Mellon, Sr., and uncle, Jim Mellon, brothers, in a fight over the election on the Prestonsburg Institute campus the night of August 8, last.

DEMOCRATS' FIRE OPENS IN BOOKLET

Pamphlet for Campaign Assails Six-Year Record of Republicans

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (AP)—The Republican administration was attacked as "morally and intellectually bankrupt," in a Democratic campaign pamphlet issued today under the title of the "Book of Facts" for use by Democrats in the November Senatorial and Congressional campaigns.

The record of the administration during the last six years, the book said, has been consistently subservient to big business, has increased governmental expenditures and has "failed utterly" to deal with the arms situation.

"The facts show that alike in its domestic and in its foreign policies," it asserted, "the Republican administration more especially, if that is possible, since President Coolidge went to the White House, has been morally and intellectually bankrupt.

"Republicans themselves are ashamed of the record during the Harding regime when the Daughertys, the Falls, the Forbes, the Jesse Smiths, the Howard Manningtons polluted the channels of government. President Coolidge, who lagged so far behind public opinion in punishing Daugherty, shows a similar lack of moral indignation in his attitude toward corruption in public life.

"The essential spirit of Republicanism in government is one of cynicism, of contempt for the intelligence and the idealism of the common people of the United States."

Farm relief was listed as one of the dominating issues in the book which said the Democrats propose to aid agriculture by restoring the farmers' export market, adjust the tariff to a competitive basis, lower rail and water rates, stimulate, cooperative marketing, liberalize farm credits, produce cheaper fertilizer and create a farm export corporation.

Advocating further tax reduction, the book charged that "every provision of the three revenue bills passed since the World War, which gave relief to the smaller and general taxpayer was put there by Democratic amendments."

Considerable space was given to discussion of the aluminum industry which, it is said, is the "most complete monopoly" in America and is "controlled by Secretary Mellon and his relatives."

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. (AP)—The Federal Water Service Corporation announced today the acquisition of four water companies in California. TRIBUTE FOR MUSSOLINI

Throngs Wild in Acclaim

Adoring Thousands Applaud Fascist Idol at Scene of Bomb-Throwing

Messages of Congratulation From All Parts of World Flood Palace

ROME, Sept. 12. (AP)—Il Duce was acclaimed today by adoring crowds on the spot where twenty-four hours before he had escaped death at the hands of a would-be assassin.

The calm courage of Premier Mussolini when his life was threatened by a bomb hurled by an anarchist roused popular admiration to a high pitch and thousands of persons stood for hours in the suffocating heat, unprotected from a burning sun, before the Chigi Palace to catch a glimpse of the Fascist idol as he entered and left his offices.

Sitting alone in his automobile, the Premier insisted that he be driven past the spot where yesterday morning Ermete Giovannini hurled a bomb at him. As the car passed by the scene of the attempted assassination, the crowd gathered at the spot cheered wildly.

Mussolini, evidently pleased with the manifestations of affection, returned the greeting with the Roman salute, stretching out his right arm in his characteristic manner.

In the throngs packing the Colonna Square before the palace were many women who cried:

"God bless him and keep him for us."

FLORAL TRIBUTE

One old woman bearing flowers appeared at the Chigi Palace and said she wished to present them to Mussolini in congratulation for his miraculous escape and also in remembrance of her son who was killed in the war.

The Premier, apparently deeply touched, received the flowers and ordered them placed on the tomb of the Fascisti Deputy Casalini, in observation of the anniversary of his murder by Communists.

The palace was flooded today with messages of congratulation and flowers, sent by sovereign heads of states and by humblest of individuals from all parts of the world. Among them were messages from prominent dignitaries of the Roman Catholic Church and from Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of wireless telegraphy, from Col. Umberto Nobile, who flew across the North Pole in the Norge, and from Gabrielle d'Annunzio, Italian writer and statesman.

Cabinet members who were outside of Rome at the time of the attempt on the Premier's life hurried back today, using automobiles and airplanes to return to the side of their leader.

One of them said to Mussolini:

"Thank God the would-be assassin's aim was no better, or the bomb would actually have entered the car."

DRAMATIC REPLY

"In that case," Il Duce replied dramatically, "I would have picked it up and thrown it back at my assailant as was done during the war."

The Premier's brother, Arnaldo Mussolini, editor of Il Popoli Italia, telephoned from Milan. The Premier shouted back:

"It's I talking—as hale and hearty and strongly determined as ever. Be quiet. Don't get excited. Prevent reprisals."

Religious ceremonies are being organized throughout Italy to offer te deums in thanks for the protection of the Premier.

Giovannini, the Roman press asserts, is shielding his accomplices in a wider plot to remove the Premier and end the Fascist regime.

The young would-be assassin still insisted to the police today that he was "an individualist anarchist" and that he acted solely on his own initiative.

Giovannini told the police he crossed the frontier near Ventimille the 9th inst., purchased two bombs and a revolver after entering the country, and then came at once to Rome, arriving by train only two hours before he tried to kill the Premier.

The newspapers assert, however, that the frontiers are watched so closely it is almost impossible for

GUNS GUARD MAIL CARS

"Shoot to Kill," Clerks Told

War Ordered Declared on Postal Robbers by Secretary New

Renewal of Bandit Raids Brings Drastic Methods to Combat Them

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (AP)—A command to "shoot to kill" was sent out today by the Postoffice Department to its army of 22,500 railway mail clerks to protect from bandits, even at the cost of their own lives, the millions of dollars' worth of treasure handled daily in the United States mails.

The command, which applies to the thousands of other postal employees, also constitutes a warning to the underworld that the Postal Service means war and anyone found attempting to rob the mails may expect a cold-lead reception and no mercy.

In issuing the command, it also was indicated that, if this means of protection fails, the United States Marines again may be called to guard the mails as they did late in 1901 when banditry was prevalent.

This drastic move wasdetermined by Postmaster-General New at a council of war with his lieutenants as a result of the recent hold-up near Chicago in which bandits stole $130,000 in currency.

Assistant Postmaster-General New has considered calling the marines, but the "soldiers" of his own forces—the postal employees, who have been fully armed—will be able to cope, he believes, with the present epidemic of banditry.

SHOOT WHEN NECESSARY

Calling into conference Second Assistant Postmaster-General Glover, who has direct charge of the Railway Mail Service; General Superintendent Fisher of that service, and Rush D. Simmons, chief inspector of the department, the Postmaster-General took steps to tighten up the handling of valuable mail. Every precaution was taken by regulations to prevent any unauthorized person from entering mail cars or postoffice quarters, and orders given to shoot when necessary.

"It is self-evident," Mr. Glover said, in a communication to his men, "that members of the underworld and bandit gangs throughout the United States have again thrown down the gauntlet of battle to the Railway Mail Service to hold up at every possible chance the postal cars and attempt to steal valuable registered packages. It means only this, that we must tighten our belts, place the holster easier of access, clean up our revolvers, be more careful in the protection of this valuable mail, and, with a more determined will 'to shoot to kill' finally renew our pledge to protect the mail intrusted to our care.

CALL TO ARMS

"I have faith in the railway mail service and will back it against any similar body of men anywhere. We have a record to protect and we will do it. The number of recent hold-ups of postal cars makes it necessary and the last one, which has just taken place near Chicago, is the call to arms."

Mr. Glover expressed confidence in his men and made a personal offer of a reward of $500 for the first railway mail clerk who kills anyone attempting to rob a railway postoffice, and also promised a reward for any railway mail clerk who captures anyone attempting to hold up a railway postoffice car. While he feels his men are doing everything possible to protect the mails, he believes the further incentive of a reward of a couple of months' salary on the side will help.

There were fourteen major robberies in the year which ended June 30, last. These resulted in the loss of $1,408,540 and Chief Simmons and his force of inspectors already have succeeded in recovering $760,634 of the money. In the last two years there have been sixty-five convictions of mail robbers in major cases. The robbers received an average sentence of sixteen and three-fifths years each. One was sent to the peni-

STATE BANK CHIEF RESIGNS

Johnson Gives Out Statement Declaring Richardson Pleased to be Relieved of Official Burdens

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 12. (AP)—Resignation of John Franklin Johnson as State Superintendent of Banks was announced by the Governor's office today in a statement which also makes clear that Gov. Richardson has conceded his defeat in the recent primary election and "is personally pleased to be relieved of the great responsibilities of his position."

The statement in full follows:

"State Bank Superintendent Johnson called at the Governor's office yesterday and handed his resignation to Gov. Richardson to take effect at the pleasure of the Governor. Johnson has an offer of a private financial position. After the conference Supt. Johnson said:

"'I have had four strenuous years as Bank Superintendent and will be glad to lay down my work. I have always had in mind the protection of the people who deposit money in State banks. That not a dollar has been lost by any State depositor in any State bank in California is a source of satisfaction.

"'I have known Gov. Richardson from boyhood. He has worked his way up from poverty to chief official of the State.

"'He is personally pleased to be relieved of the great responsibilities of his position. He is an optimistic philosopher who believes everything turns out for the best. I have always admired his calm spirit. He has been Governor one term. To be Governor another term adds nothing to his honor and only continues his work.

"'He has never been under any illusion and four years ago predicted that an administration on business principles with economy and efficiency and free from politics would not be popular. He became a candidate only at the urgent request of friends and voters. His loyalty to the taxpayers to to the men he has placed in office was his sole reason for running.

"'And if Gov. Richardson had lost a horseshoe game it would have disturbed his calmness no more than did the recent primary.'"

Johnson was appointed Deputy State Treasurer in 1916, when Gov. Richardson was treasurer. When Gov. Richardson was elected, he appointed Johnson Superintendent of Banks. In the three and one-half years since the Superintendent of Banks has been a target of numerous attacks incident to controversies over the operators of chain banks, and in the recent primary campaign several of Gov. Richardson's opponents singled out Johnson among the Richardson appointees as a special object of criticism.

anyone to enter without a passport, that it was improbable that Giovannini could find within two days an armorer ready to sell the bombs and revolver and that he could not have learned in two days in Rome the route followed by the Premier on his way to his offices and the time he would pass the scene of the attempt, as well as being able to recognize so readily the Premier's car.

A young girl, who passed the spot a few minutes before, asserted that she saw the young man arrive in a yellow automobile with four other men. The Fascisti who helped arrest Giovannini stated he was speaking with two other individuals before Mussolini's approach.

Il Messagero declared today that the police are on the trail of a vast plot hatched abroad, adding the belief that Ermete Giovannini is not the prisoner's name, and that he arrived in Rome a week ago.

Unbreakable automobile windows ordered in England were already on their way to Italy when the attack occurred, it was learned today. It was planned to fit them in Mussolini's car without his knowledge because of his repugnance to special protective measures. Yesterday's bomb explosion shattered the windows of the car, the flying glass injuring several bystanders.

FRANCE DISCLAIMS BOMB RESPONSIBILITY

PARIS, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—The French charge d' affaires at Rome was instructed today to protest to the Italian government against the officially inspired article in the Giornale d' Italia of Rome, which practically blamed France for the attempt on Premier Benito Mussolini's life yesterday on the grounds that the would-be assassin, though an Italian citizen, came from Marseilles.

This charge, as well as Premier Mussolini's pointed allusions "to the hatred abroad," in his speech from the Chigi Palace balcony last night, has aroused profound resentment in France.

The semiofficial Temps, in its leading article, remarks that when the Italian, Casserio, in 1894, assassinated President Sadi Carnot, nobody in France thought of laying the blame at Italy's door. The Temps stiffly defends the hospitality which France accords to the enemies of Fascism or of any regime as long as they obey the French laws.

"It is up to the Italian police to watch their frontiers, and it is shameful for the Fascist press to b' me us for r abortive attempt at assassination by an Italian in Italy," the paper protests.

PREMIER PLEASED OVER KELLOGG MESSAGE

NEW BEAUTY QUEEN SHIES AT WEDLOCK

Miss America Gets Offer of Mate and Cookstove and Takes Stove

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 12. (AP)—Miss America of 1926, Miss Norma Smallwood, the Tulsa (Okla.) girl, who was declared national queen of beauty at this resort pageant, today was offered a husband and a cook stove. She took the stove.

"Cook stoves are sometimes essential, but husbands—well, at least, they are not absolutely essential just now," said Miss Smallwood.

The rejected offer of marriage came from a New England college professor, who said he had seen the girl's picture in the newspapers.

RECOVER STOLEN MONEY

Among hold-ups which the department's inspectors have been called to run down was the Leonard-street mail-truck robbery in New York City in October, 1921, when Gerald Chapman and "Dutch" Anderson stole $1,600,000, all of which was recovered. Another was the Rondout (Ill.) hold-up in 1925 when $2,000,000 was stolen. Of this amount $1,657,000 was recovered and three of the bandits sentenced to twenty-five years, three to twelve years, one to three years and another to one year.

In the Rawlins (Wyo.) hold-up of August 13, last, eight persons were arrested and of the $227,000 stolen, all but $500 was recovered, while six have been convicted of the Los Angeles hold-up and $599,000 of the $609,000 stolen has been recovered.

Postal inspectors are still on the look for and expect some day to land the three Deautremont brothers, who are charged with blowing up a Southern Pacific train near Siskiyou, Or., killing a mail clerk and shooting and killing three trainmen. They secured no loot.

OFFICERS HUNT MONEY STOLEN FROM MAIL

CHICAGO, Sept. 12. (AP)—Six details of Federal postal inspectors and Chicago detectives searched the underworld today for traces of $135,000 in bills stolen from a Grand Trunk mail car here last Friday.

Two suspects, one of them identified, according to reports, by John H. Kelly, the robbed mail clerk, remain in custody under continuous questioning.

Nick Kramer, lieutenant in the McErlane-Saltis gang of beer runners, was the man said to have been identified by Kelly. Kramer was arrested by detectives who hold the theory that the mail robbery was perpetrated to obtain defense funds for Frank McErlane, soon to face trial for murder at Crown Point, Ind., and "Polack Joe" Saltis, in jail here charged with murder.

The other man under arrest is Peter Gusenberg, said to have been implicated in a rich mail robbery at the Dearborn-street rail station, for which "Big Tim" Murphy, Chicago union labor leader, recently served a sentence in the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan.

Kramer and Gusenberg have refused to talk, according to reports, except to deny implication in the Grand Trunk robbery.

The man, a recluse is said to have been acting strangely for some time. When found dead, groceries for a winter were in his cabin. The only surviving relative is said to be a brother, living in St. Louis, with whom authorities here are trying to communicate. Andreas had $30,000 to his credit in a bank here, it is said.

MEXICAN DEADLOCK HOLDS

Senate Minority Strike Enters Thirteenth Day; Legality of Lower House Acts Doubted

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—With the strike of the minority bloc of the Senate entering its thirteenth day with no apparent intention of breaking the deadlock that has prevented the upper house from functioning since Congress convened the 1st inst., the newspaper Excelsior raises the point as to whether the Chamber of Deputies, the lower house, can legally function without the Senate. It is doubted whether legal status can be given measures discussed by the lower house and other business transacted there.

Since the 1st inst. the Senate minority bloc has refused to attend sessions, thus preventing a quorum and absolutely prohibiting the organization of the Senate for business. The law requires that a majority of the members of each House be present at the opening day, which was the 1st inst., when President Calles read his message. Enough Senators attended to make it possible for the President legally to convene Congress, but since then the minority party has steadfastly refused to attend. There appears no immediate likelihood of majority and minority leaders reaching an understanding.

According to some opinions of leading jurists gathered by Excelsior, the Senate's action prevents the legislative power from functioning. Others are that the Chamber of Deputies can function, but approval of bills will have to wait until the Senate strike is over. According to these views, the Constitution, although stipulating that Congress shall be composed of both houses, also states that when in one of these a quorum cannot be reached, thirty days are allowed for either Senators or Deputies to reach an understanding.

If the deadlock then still exists, the substitutes elected with each Deputy or Senator shall be called on to take their seats, and if these, after thirty days, fail to do so, new elections can be held.

All efforts to conciliate minority leaders have failed, minority members asserting they have been eliminated from membership on dominating committees. Although majority leaders state they are willing to grant concessions, they have not yet presented any proposal acceptable to the minority.

Political reasons govern both sides, and the Excelsior article, quoting the opinion of numerous politicians, shows a divided opinion on the legality of Congress. An article to be published tomorrow quotes Senators of both factions, each giving his party's arguments, although a majority are inclined to the belief the lower house can function without the Senate, but no measure can become law without the Senate's approval.

If the deadlock continues, passage of all legislation will be delayed and such an accumulation of business threatened that it will be too late, when the Senate does meet, to dispose of it before December 31, necessitating either an extension of Congress in extraordinary session or the holding over of business until next year.

LEADER OF ARIZONA BAR DIES IN DOUGLAS

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Allen R. English, for more than forty years a leader of the Arizona bar, has died in a hospital here, after long illness. Though a resident of Bisbee in later years, he was a pioneer in Tombstone, an associate of Mark Smith, who for many years represented Arizona in Congress and who was Arizona's first Senator. Mr. English served as District Attorney of Cochise county and was counsel in many of the most important mining suits of the bonanza camp. Two sons survive.

With 800,000 tons of iron ore in Spain awaiting purchasers many large mines of that country have been compelled to shut down.

DAWES PLAN PAY JUGGLE POINTED OUT

Germany Has Borrowed Nearly Twice as Much as Reparations Total

LONDON, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—According to statistics worked out by John Maynard Keynes, authority on international finance, Germany, since the Dawes plan went into effect, has borrowed nearly twice as much money abroad as the whole amount of her reparations payments. The Dawes payments sent abroad since the inauguration of the Dawes scheme amount, according to Keynes, to about £97,000,000 while Germany got a Dawes loan from the Allies of £42,000,000 at the outset and since then has borrowed £110,000,000 in the United States, £16,750,000 in Great Britain and £6,750,000 elsewhere, making a total borrowing of £175,500,000 abroad since September 1, two years ago.

Keynes also calls attention to the important modifications last week of the schedule of Germany's payments under the Dawes plan under which Germany probably escapes paying £19,000,000, upward progression of annuities is rendered more gradual, budgeting is made less doubtful and the Allies get a little money a little sooner. Germany has agreed to pay a total of £75,000,000 this and next year and a total of £87,500,000 in the two following years, instead of payments fixed under the original scheme.

Now that the difficulties of the transition period have been almost entirely overcome, Keynes comments:

"What of the normal period which now is almost in sight? In 1928 and 1929 Germany will have to pay double what she has paid in the year just ended. What are the prospects of her doing so? Ought we to prepare our minds for a new reparations crisis not later than 1928-29? Probably we ought. But the answer largely depends on the further question of how far Germany has been paying out of her own resources and how far by merely handing back to the Allies the proceeds of foreign loans."

Keynes then quotes the figures given above showing Germany's foreign loans under the Dawes scheme are almost double her reparations payments.

"Rerapations and inter-Allied debts are being mainly settled in paper and not in goods," he says. "The United States lends money to Germany, Germany transfers its equivalent to the Allies, who pay it back to the United States government. Nothing real passes—no one is a penny the worse."

Vizualizing the whole area around Los Angeles, with its cities, towns, harbor, industries, crops and scenic features, it will impress the nonresident more than volumes of figures and printed matter. Copies of the permanent map will be mailed anywhere, postage prepaid, on receipt of 25 cents per copy, or they may be had at the counter, at The Times' main office, Broadway and First, or The Times' branch office, 621 South Spring street.

FLOODS SWEEP KANSAS TOWNS

rents after a record-breaking rainfall, which lasted nine hours. The precipitation ranged from five to eleven inches.

Rock Creek, flowing through the heart of the business district of Burlington, sent a stream of water six feet deep down the town's main street. Damage to stores and their stocks was heavy.

Charles Rodgers, 60 years of age, a farmer near Burlington, dropped dead today when he peered from his bedroom window and saw the rising tide creeping up the front steps of his home.

The family of George Throckmorton, a farmer near Burlington, is missing. The house was surrounded by water. A rescue party in a row boat, led by Ray Pierson, county attorney, has left Burlington.

The Neosho River has reached the twenty-seven-foot stage at Burlington, reports here say. Fifty persons were homeless tonight in that city, all of them living near the turbulent creek. The main damage is in the business district, where thirty-seven stores have suffered injury.

Water is waist deep over railroad tracks and it is estimated that two or three days will elapse before service is resumed. Newspaper men reached the city by hand cars and by wading through the flood, sometimes above their waists. Tracks are washed out on both sides.

A wall of water hit Saffordville after most of the population had reached safety on high ground. One merchant marooned in his store donned a bathing suit and swam to shore.

Boats were used to rescue people stranded in parts of Emporia, Madison, Strong City and Cottonwood Falls, all of which were damaged by the flood waters.

Rivers were believed to have reached their crest tonight and no further damage was feared except for a new flood threat at Madison because of a rapid rise in the Verdigris River.

BOY SWEPT FROM RAFT AND DROWNED

BURLINGTON (Kan.) Sept. 12. (AP) Billy Brandon, 4 years of age, drowned at Madison, near here, today, when the raft carrying him and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brandon, from their marooned home, was hurled against a tree. The boy was thrown into the swirling waters. The body was recovered several hours later.

Madison and all towns in Greenwood county have been hard hit by the flood and it is estimated that more than 150 homes have been inundated, several being swept away. Churches were converted into billets for the homeless.

C. S. Wingett, Burlington Mayor, tonight estimated the loss at $800,000. The Neosho River stood at twenty-seven and one-half feet and continued to rise at the rate of three inches an hour.

Although this city is cut off by rail from the rest of the world, Mayor Wingett thought no outside help was needed. The Red Cross chapter of Kansas City, however, had notified him that it has dispatched money and supplies to the stricken area. Members of the local National Guard unit have been mobilized by their officers and are patrolling the flood district of Burlington.

SCORES OF FAMILIES ROUTED FROM HOMES

IOLA (Kan.) Sept. 12. (AP)—Scores of families were driven from their homes when flood waters from a miniature couldburst in the watershed of the Neosho northwest of here descended upon Iola today. Railway transportation on the Missouri Pacific and Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroads was tied up.

Portions of the residence district were under water shortly after daybreak and tonight parts of the town still were inundated, with several feet of water flowing through residences along Elm Creek and Rock Creek.

The Neosho River is out of its banks and farm homes in the valley for miles in either direction are flooded to a gradually increasing depth. Some may be completely engulfed.

Thousands of dollars in damage was caused by flooded basements in Iola and live-stock loss will be high. The rainfall is continuing and the Neosho is slowly rising, threatening further damage.

ELECTRIC STORM IN WISCONSIN KILLS TWO

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 12. (Exclusive) The worst electrical storm of the year today took the lives of two persons and caused considerable damage by floods throughout the State.

The two victims were farm hands, one was Charles Mikke, 34 years of age, who was struck by lightning while plowing on the farm of Ed Barrett, Jefferson. The other was Peter Berken, 35, Depere, who was killed while driving his team in the storm.

Nearly half an inch of rain in less than an hour made miniature lakes of downtown streets here.

NATION-WIDE RADIO PLAN ANNOUNCED

Station WEAF Will be Nucleus of Proposed New Broadcasting Service

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. (AP)—Inauguration of a national broadcasting service with station WEAF, recently purchased for $1,000,000 from the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, as a nucleus, was announced today by the Radio Corporation of America.

The station has been incorporated as the National Broadcasting Company, the corporation announced, and active control will be acquired November 15.

"The Radio Corporation of America is not in any sense seeking a monopoly of the air," the announcement stated. "That would be a liability, rather than as asset. It is seeking, however, to provide machinery which will insure a national distribution of national programs, and a wider distribution of programs of the highest quality."

The programs will be broadcast through WEAF, and will be made available to other stations desiring them so far as practicable, it was stated. The new company may also lease time from other stations.

There will be an advisory council for the company, composed of twelve members, chosen as representatives of various shades of public opinion, whose names will be announced upon obtaining their acceptance.

Merlin H. Aylesworth, managing director of the National Electric Light Association, and former chairman of the Colorado Public Utilities Commission, will be president of the new company. George F. McClelland, connected with WEAF, under the management of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, will be vice-president and general manager.

CARSON DIET ROW NEARS CONCLUSION

County Attorney Holds Up Attempt to Free Prisoner on Bread-and-Water Fare

TEKAMAH (Neb.) Sept. 12. (AP)—County Physician Benson's report of his examination of Roy Carson, who now is serving a bread-and-water jail sentence on a liquor charge, probably will be made tomorrow, County Attorney Rhodes announced tonight. Confined with Carson on a similar sentence is Thomas Nelson, 50-year-old farmer.

County Attorney Rhodes today refused to acknowledge service on an injunction suit to free Carson to be instituted by R. C. Hunter, Omaha attorney.

"There is not a thing in the world to that injunction; it will never touch the question," Rhodes declared.

MERTON MAY BE AID TO DEFENSE

Legal Aspects Unique in Alien Property Trial

Skillful Strategy Played at Daugherty Hearing

Next Tactical Move Awaited With Great Interest

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. (Exclusive) Legal circles showed interest today in unique tactical aspects imputed to the examination of Richard Merton, German metal capitalist, who will return to the witness stand tomorrow morning in the trial of Harry M. Daugherty former Attorney-General, and Col. Thomas W. Miller, former Alien Property Custodian.

Both defendants are charged in the Federal Court with fraudulent conspiracy growing out of $441,000 "commission," which Mr. Merton said he paid to the late John T. King to obtain the return of $7,000,000 in impounded alien assets. The assets were restored to Mr. Merton in 1921 on the authority of Mr. Daugherty and Col. Miller, the one acting through an assistant, the other personally.

Mr. Merton has been on the stand before Judge Julian W. Mack and a jury since last Wednesday as a witness for the government. On Friday afternoon he was turned over to Col. William S. Rand, counsel for Col Miller.

MAY AID DEFENSE

As Col. Rand's cross-examination progressed the crowded courtroom began to be in a quandary whether Mr. Merton would not prove also to be a witness for the defense. Such legal comment as was heard today seemed disposed to reserve judgment on the question until each side had finished with Mr. Merton. Confidence was expressed that the government and the legal force of the defense were each playing a skillful strategy. much of which remained to be revealed. Beginning tomorrow morning, the "next moves" which the two sides make with their witness-pawn will likely develop crisp tactical surprises such as delight a lawyer's heart, it was held.

The government charges in its indictment that Mr. Daugherty and Col. Miller defrauded it of "their honest, unbaised and unprejudiced services," through allowing in their official capacity the transfer in September, 1921, to the Societe Suisse Pour Valeur de Metaux of German-owned assets in the American Metal Company, seized in 1918 and valued at $7,000,000. The indictment further asserts that Mr. Daugherty and Col. Miller received part of at least $391,000 of the "commission," which Mr. Merton, as agent of the Societe Suisse, paid to Mr. King as a go-between. The late Jess Smith, Mr. Daugherty's personal confident, and Mr. King died, respectively before and after being named in the same indictment as co-conspirators with the present defendants.

NEGLIGENCE ISSUE

An earlier indictment, dismissed last August at the government's request, charged that Mr. Merton and his family at Frankfort-on-Main always had held stock control in the Societe Suisse. This, Mr. Merton himself admitted on the stand to be a fact. Inasmuch as the $7,000,000 American Metal assets now at issue were owned also by the Merton family, this being the reason for the seizure, the government contends that Mr. Daugherty and Col. Miller must have known, or should have known, that their action in 1921 restored these holdings to the Mertons intact in violation of the Trading With the Enemy Act.

While the merit of the claim itself is no longer an issue in the case, the asserted negligence of the two defendants is the government's further contention that the asserted negligence was deliberate and committed in consideration of shares in the distribution of the $391,000 in bonds which Mr. Merton testified that he gave to Mr. King in the offices of Goldman, Sachs & Co., brokers, at 80 Wall street, on October 1 of that year.

The opinion was expressed today that Emory R. Buckner, United States Attorney, had used Mr. Merton to tell how he got his claim passed and how much it cost him, and that in this Mr. Buckner had been successful. It was held also that Col. Rand had used Mr. Merton to show the propriety of the claim and to serve, to this extent, as a "character witness, for Mr. Daugherty and Col Miller. Col. Rand was held apparently similarly successful.

The "next moves" by government and defense, accordingly, are awaited with great interest.

CAMPAIGN IN CANADA WINDS UP

Dominion Elections Will Climax Bitter Fight With Result in Doubt

OTTAWA (Ontario) Sept. 12. (AP)—A bitter election campaign comes to a close tomorrow night, and Tuesday morning the electors of Canada will go to the polls to elect 244 members to the Sixteenth Parliament.

The 245th member has been elected unopposed. He is A. L. Beaubrien, a Liberal-Progressive, in Provencher, Manitoba. His Conservative opponent's car was stuck in the mud and so he failed to file his nomination papers.

When the Fifteenth Parliament was dissolved last July, the Conservatives, led by Premier Arthur Meighen, had 116 members, the Liberals 101, Progressives 24, Independent 2, and Labor 2. Premier Meighen therefore will have to increase his forces in Parliament by seven members to give the government an absolute majority over the combined opposition.

Should he fail to obtain a clear majority, his position would be very precarious, and while he might decide to carry on with a minority government, as did Premier Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, after the 1925 election, danger would lie ahead when his fiscal policy of a protective tariff came before the legislators.

The Progressives, or farmers, who have in the last two Parliaments held the balance of power and supported the minority Liberal government in the House, are almost certain to join with the Liberals, should any effort be made by the Conservatives to increase the tariff.

On the other hand, the Conservatives might, by making their legislation attractive to the farmers and leaving the tariff alone, obtain sufficient support to continue the government of the country, as did Mackenzie King for nearly five years.

The campaign, which was slow in developing, has grown to rival the most heated elections this country has known and from British Columbia to the Atlantic Coast the issues, particularly protection, the Robb budget and the customs inquiry, are being argued on every corner.

SUSPECT IN UNION ROW DEATH HELD

Asserted Gunman Accused of Murdering Open-Shop Contractor in Chicago

CHICAGO, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Roy Tagney for fifteen years rated as one of the most notorious of Chicago's labor-union gunmen and terrorists, was trapped today as he slept in an apartment shared by a woman who, police say, has sheltered him since the murder on August 3 of Morris Markowitz, wealthy open-shop teaming contractor. The woman, Mrs. Agnes Higgins (nee Davis) nationally famous as a bowler, also was taken into custody in the raid, as were her sister, Mrs. Ella Martin, a telephone operator, and George Granberry, a radio salesman.

Tagney is under indictment for the Markowitz murder for the investigation and prosecution of which the Employers' Association has raised a special fund and employed detectives. The others are held on suspicion and Mrs. Higgins, police said, may be booked for harboring Tagney.

Police, after more than a month of investigation traced Tagney to a summer retreat in Wisconsin, a home they believe was provided by Mrs. Higgins, and thence back to Chicago.

"Yes, I knew Markowitz," admitted Tagney. "He had trouble with the union for twelve years. I don't know anything about his murder. I wasn't there."

Police charge that Tagney trailed him to a tool shanty at Thirty-seventh street and Princeton avenue, engaged in a quarrel, drew a revolver and shot him in each leg, so that he fell on the ground, and then deliberately fired a bullet near his heart.

Markowitz struggled to his feet and stumbled a few feet in pursuit of his slayer then toppled over dead.

LIQUOR HOLDS DEATH

Bootleg Seized in Pennsylvania Raid Carries Deadly Poison

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12. (AP)—Poison, similar to that which caused the deaths of a score of persons at Buffalo recently, has been discovered in bootleg liquor in the Pittsburgh district, it was said today at the headquarters of John D. Pennington, Federal administrator for Western and Central Pennsylvania. The poison, agents said, was found in whisky at the plant of the Union Chemical Company, Hopwood, where eight gallons of the chemical were confiscated.

J. F. Dymond, a chemist, was arrested when the raid was made on the plant and held under $1000 bail for a hearing.

PATIENT RUNS AMUCK FOR WANT OF LIQUOR

TAUNTON (Mass.) Sept. 18. (Exclusive)—Because he had not been able to obtain liquor, Harry Brown, 42 years of age, went on a rampage at the Morton Hospital, where he had been operated upon for appendicitis, and assaulted a couple of nurses, threw an alarm clock at another and finally jumped from a second-story window, breaking an ankle and sustaining numerous other injuries. Police, who responded to a hurry call, found the man traveling through Maryland street, 300 yards to the rear of the hospital buildings. He was committed to the Taunton State Hospital for the insane.

COLORADO SET FOR KLAN FIGHT

Primaries Tomorrow Will Settle Long Row

Republican Party Control Point at Issue

Shoup Seeking Third Term as Governor

DENVER, Sept. 12. (AP)—A two-year fight for control of the Colorado Republican party, waged by United States Senator Lawrence C. Phipps and Senator Rice W. Means, directing head of the State Ku Klux Klan, against Clarence C. Hamlin, Republican national committeeman and leader of the anti-Klan faction of the party, will be settled at the State primary election Tuesday. The campaign, one of the most bitter in the political history of the State, has resolved itself into a campaign of personalities, without a national issue.

The fight has centered entirely on the support declared to have been given by Senator Phipps to the candidacy of Senator Means, but which was denied a few weeks ago by Phipps, who declared that he was not interested in the candidacy of Means, but was devoting his time to bringing about the nomination of John F. Vivian, his candidate for Governor against Carl S. Milliken, Secretary of State and Ex-Governor Oliver H. Shoup, Colorado Springs, who has Hamlin's unqualified support.

Means is opposed by Charles W. Waterman, Coolidge pre-convention manager in Colorado two years ago, and by George Luxford, Denver county judge.

Shoup is seeking his third gubernatorial nomination after an absence of four years from the Governor's office. Vivian is Federal prohibition administrator for Colorado, Utah and New Mexico. He also has the indorsement of the Colorado Klan.

The fight in the Republican ranks has completely overshadowed a similar contest in the Democratic party where Ex-Gov. William E. Sweet is opposed for the United States Senatorial nomination by Paul Prosser, Denver attorney, and Frank J. Hayes, former president of the United Mine Workers of America.

For the Democratic nomination for Governor, William H. Adams of Alamosa, State Senator thirty-eight years, is opposed by Judge Samuel Johnson, Arvada.

All of the present four Congressmen are candidates for renomination.

MARYLAND GOVERNOR WILL SEEK THIRD TERM

BALTIMORE, Sept. 12. (AP) — Gov. Albert C. Ritchie Tuesday will ask the Democrats of Maryland to approve him for a third term in the executive mansion. No Governor before him has had more than one.

Sole opponent of the Governor's third-term ambition is William Milnes Maloy, former Public Service Commissioner, and Ritchie appointee. Maloy, dismissing the prohibition question as "by no mean the most important," at issue has waged his campaign on a background of internal State politics and finances, with particular stress on asserted corporation domination of State government.

POINTS TO RECORD

Gov. Ritchie's campaign is based on a seven-year administration record His second term has been three years, due to the initial operation of a "fewer elections" law. He points to a 25 per cent tax reduction and his nationally waged State's rights campaign, and opposes "enactment of the Volstead law as a State enforcement act." Maryland has no State prohibition law.

The prohibition question promises to wield greater influence in the Republican primary. Representative John Philip Hill, leader of the House wet bloc, heading an antiorganization group, has indorsed Marion A. Humphreys from the dry Maryland eastern shore for Governor, opposing Addison E. Mullikin, Senator Ovington E. Weller's organization candidate. Humphreys has avoided the liquor question. Col. Hill himself is opposing Senator Weller for the Republican United States Senatorial nomination. The wet-dry demarcation between them is definite.

FOUR OTHER CONTESTS

Four Congressional contests, two Democrat and two Republicans also are before the primary voters. Franklin Upshur, Democrat, has invaded the dry eastern shore with a wet campaign. T. Alan Goldsborough, dry incumbent, opposes him. In Western Maryland Representative Frederick N. Zihlman, dry Republican, is opposed by George Louis Eppler, advocating modification of the prohibition laws. William Hettleman and John McGinity are contesting for the Republican nomination for the Third Congressional District, in Baltimore City. which is being vacated by Col. Hill.

PROHIBITION MAJOR ISSUE IN LOUISIANA

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 12. (AP)—More than 250,000 persons have qualified to vote in the Louisiana Democratic primary Tuesday to determine whether the nomination for the United States Senate shall be bestowed upon Edwin S. Broussard, the incumbent, or Jared Y. Sanders, a former Governor.

Prohibition and toll bridges have been the principal issues in the campaign which has been waged actively over practically every section of the State within the past month.

Senator Broussard is a staunch wet. Mr. Sanders is an avowed dry but has drawn the support of the old regular faction in New Orleans and South Louisiana by his stand in favor of a referendum. The old regular organization is overwhelmingly wet and its support of Sanders partly was drawn by his friendship with Mayor Arthur O'Keefe of New Orleans, who made a speaking tour of the State in behalf of Sanders.

Broussard adherents have attacked Sanders on various phases of his past administration of the State government and because of his stand in favor of a toll bridge across Lake Pontchartrain near New Orleans. They urged that the State should bear the cost of building the structure. Senator Broussard's stand on the Rice tariff has drawn the fire of Sanders boosters. The Republicans will not hold a primary.

CAROLINA TO HOLD NEW PRIMARY TOMORROW

COLUMBUS (S. C.) Sept. 12. (AP)—Ellison D. Smith, serving his third term as United States Senator from South Carolina, will contest for renomination to his seat in a second primary to be held Tuesday. He is opposed by Edgar A. Brown, Speaker of the State House of Representatives, who trailed him by less than 7000 votes in the first primary two weeks ago, when no candidate received a majority of the votes cast.

Former Senator N. B. Dial was eliminated in the first contest.

In his fight for nomination, which is equivalent to election, Brown attacked Smith for his stand in favor of the World Court, which Smith defended. Agricultural problems were also an issue.

Though nearly 250,000 persons are registered, less than 175,000 voted two weeks ago. Of this number, Smith received 72,015, Brown 65,331, and Dial 34,144.

Surviving a field of nine candidates, John G. Richards, member of the State Railroad Commission, and I. C. Blackwood, solicitor, will be in the run-off for Governor. In the first primary, Richards led with 44,806 votes to 34,870 for Blackwood, his nearest rival.

While six of the State's seven Congressmen were either unopposed or renominated in the August primary, Representative H. P. Fulmer will compete with Ernest M. Dupre, Columbia business man, having fallen short of a majority in the Seventh District race.

SAN DIEGO OFFICIALS TO TESTIFY

Jury in Graft Quiz to Call Officers Connected With McMahon Murder Trial

BY ALBERT NATHAN
By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 12.—Every city and county official who had any connection with the now famous George McMahon murder case will be called before the grand jury, now investigating asserted graft and vice in this county, and questioned. The finding of McMahon's body near this city last February resulted in the arrest on murder charges of Thomas Johnson and Hugh McGovern, their trial and acquittal.

That all of the officials connected with the case will be called before the grand jury became known today when it was learned that a new list of witnesses was in the hands of investigating detectives who have orders from Richard Kittrelle, special deputy Attorney-General, to bring all those named before the grand jury.

Early tomorrow morning both Mr. Kittrelle and Mrs. Firman, who has been heading the force of detectives operating in this city for the grand jury, are expected to return from Los Angeles and will at once put in order the evidence to be presented to the grand jury when that body meets again Tuesday morning. The first witness will probably be Agnes Keller, former queen of the San Diego underworld, who was returned to this city from San Quentin to testify. It is believed that the Keller woman will finish her story during the morning and then will be returned at once to prison.

Following Miss Keller it is now believed Mr. Kittrelle will call the city officials and others who played a part in the McMahon case and that then indictments may be voted by the grand jury. According to Mr. Kittrelle, one indictment is expected Tuesday and others during the week.

Prior to taking charge of the church at Sunnyvale he was secretary to Archbishop Riordan of San Francisco. He was a native of Ireland.

COTTON PICKING HALTED BY RAIN

Growers Believe Estimate of Yield Too Large

Prospect of Early Frost Now Chief Concern

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Continued rainfall over a large part of the South during the past week prevented cotton from maturing as rapidly as it should and effectively stopped picking in many sections, giving the crop an additional setback, which, however, was not as severe as has been the case lately. A deterioration of 1 to 2 per cent would be a fair estimate of the amount of damage incurred the past week, with reduction of about 100,000 bales in the final yield. Extra good weather is needed generally for a fortnight to bring the grown bolls to maturity in the northern belt, to fight the insects generally, and to permit picking the open cotton in the southern three-fourths of the belt.

The Census Bureau's estimate of 15,166,000 bales as the indicated yield as of the 1st inst., was quite a shock to the South, and the fact that it was generally discredited in this region was evidenced by the heavy southern buying the first day or two after the report was issued. In view of the extremely low ginnings and the bad season generally, the South cannot reconcile the bureau's estimate with the actual condition of the fields, although the estimators of around 14,500,000 bales have been temporarily hushed. The break in the futures market today was believed due largely to margin calling on a somewhat overbought market and a weak spot demand. This afternoon the market is believed very strong by the South and with the colder weather and prospects of rain apparent over the week-end, the South presumably will begin buying again if these handicaps materialize as threatened.

DISCREDIT ESTIMATE

"The South believes that the Census Bureau has overestimated the crop this year about as much as it was underestimated last year," declared F. G. Barton, president of the Memphis Cotton Exchange. "While the bugaboo of around 47,500 acres to be picked naturally is the mystifying factor, those in this region in closest touch with the crop cannot believe the crop to be as large as the bureau estimate."

Texas and Oklahoma suffered during the past week from additional rains, especially in the Panhandle of Texas, where cotton is 80 per cent picked. The holiday weather found showers in several sections of the belt, and nearly all stations in Oklahoma had light to heavy rainfall Monday. The Alabama crop continued to deteriorate considerably, but in other States the crop apparently held its own, or deteriorated only slightly. Weevil activities did not spread and the first crop of army worms, in themselves not dangerous, but serving as progenitors of the second, or dangerous crop of worms, has disappeared or webbed up and the next two weeks will find plenty of these caterpillars again. About 75 per cent of the crop in the northern belt will be immune to such damage. Only the youngest cotton and the latest bolls will suffer from any defoliation that might take place.

Whether the cool waves recently over the belt bear any indication of an early frost on such a late crop is a matter to which the market has not yet paid much attention. But it is generally acknowledged that an early frost can curtail the present indicated yield from 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 bales. Consequently, frost has begun to be the chief fear of the growers and the temperatures will be the center of interest henceforth in addition to the kind of picking weather.

Demand for spot cotton at interior markets suddenly vanished this week following the bureau's report. Mills quit the market on the theory that with a 15,000,000-bale crop still a possibility cotton at 18 cents was too high. The remarkable strength shown by the market after the bearish report failed to stimulate spot buying and the break in futures today can be attributed somewhat to that influence. Middling white cotton at Memphis dropped 125 points this week, being quoted now at 17 cents.

LOWER GRADES DROP

Lower grades such as the ordinaries and the middlings, dropped only 25 points, due to revision by the committee as the old crop passes out and prospects for considerable white cotton appears. Cotton seems to be moving freely in Texas, but sales in comparison to the volume of cotton available are relatively small and spot demand there is hardly better than elsewhere over the belt, reports indicate. Spot sales at Memphis for the last week were only 675 bales and sales of f.o.b. cotton, 4525, the aggregate being lower than the previous week. However, shippers find a ray of hope in the reports from spinning centers of increases in takings and better demand for cloths. Shipments from Memphis since August 1 are 105,000 bales, compared with 26,000 the same period last year. Receipts at forty interior markets this week were only 65,000 bales, against 303,000 last year, and shipments were 67,600 bales, compared with 131,600 bales in 1925.

The long staple association says broad interest in new-crop staples was halted by the bureau's estimate. W. M. Garrard, manager, expresses the opinion, however, that the lull will be of short duration. On the business booked in long staple to date mills have indicated shipments extending well into 1927. Undoubtedly such deferred deliveries for cotton bespeak confidence in present premiums, as well as the general level of values, Garrard says.

TEXAS CITY FOUNDED BY ALSATIANS

Eighty-second Anniversary of Church Corner-stone to Be Celebrated

CASTORVILLE (Tex.) Sept. 12. (AP) More than four-score years ago a little group of Alsatians founded here a little settlement that was the first between San Antonio and the Rio Grande to survive in the face of Indian attacks and the hardships of pioneer days. Today is the eighty-second anniversary of the laying of the corner-stone of St. Louis' Roman Catholic Church, an event commemorated from year to year, though the original church has given way to another structure.

This village, declared to be changed but little since the day the settlers came in the early 1840's, was named for Henry Castro, their leader. He and several other men of his group had served under Napoleon, some of them participating in the retreat from Moscow.

The population of Castorville, which is thirty miles west of San Antonio, has mixed as the years passed but descendants of the pioneers from Alsace-Lorraine still are here. And tourists going to or from El Paso and the Far West still remark on the quaintness of the village scene—one not unlike a painting of an old master.

Arizona Honors J. H. Kibbey in Bronze Tablet

PHOENIX, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—In the State Capitol rotunda has been erected a bronze tablet to the memory of Joseph H. Kibbey, who was Governor of Arizona from 1905 to 1909, Attorney-General and member of the Territorial Council and a justice of the Arizona Supreme Court. He was born in Centerville, Ind., March 4, 1853, and died in Phoenix June 14, 1924.

Judge Kibbey's legal services especially are recognized in the tablet, on which is recited: "His most enduring monument is the precedent he established that land and water are legally inseparable. He saved the river's flow and power for the Arizona farmer." This refers to the Kibbey decision, relative to irrigation priorities and to his work in drafting the agreement between the farmers of the Salt River Valley and the Interior Department, in which utilization of the hydroelectric power of Salt River was reserved to the association of water users then organized. The system of farmers' associations then created by Judge Kibbey has been followed closely in subsequent utilization of water stored by the Reclamation Service Works.

ATTEMPTS TO FORM FARM COLONIES FAIL

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Several unsuccessful efforts have been made during the year to establish foreign agricultural colonies along the American border. The establishment of these colonies has been prohibited by the Mexican government under the constitutional prohibition that aliens hold to real property within 100 kilometers of the frontiers. The colonization projects were German, Polish and Czecho-Slovakian. Colonization in other parts of the country has been permitted when it has been found by the government that the colonists were in reality elements which were desirable and when they were supplied with the funds necessary to insure their not becoming dependent on the government.

COTTON REPORT JOLTS MARKET

Government Estimate Runs Above Predictions

Prices Take Heavy Drop as Figures Are Released

Later Season Enters Into Future Guesses

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. (Exclusive) The government's crop report for the 1st inst., condition and indicated yield of that date, announced at noon Wednesday, proved between 200,000 and 300,000 bales more than the trade had been expecting on the consensus of opinion here and in the South. The average of eighteen private forecasts of recognized trade authorities and crop experts had been it would show a crop promise of about 14,900,000 bales, against 15,248,000, the government figures of the previous fortnight's report, and 15,621,000 a month ago for the August 1, condition.

In anticipation of such a bullish report the market, which had been rallying toward the close of last week, worked up 45 to 50 points from the final prices of last Friday to the quotations established just before the report appeared on new trade buying and covering of shorts—October selling at 18.05 cents; December, 18.25 cents; January, 18.28 cents; March, 18.50 cents, and May, 18.65 cents. When the government's report was announced as 15,166,000 bales on its September 1 condition of 59.6 per cent, against 63.5 for August 16, there was an immediate break of 50 to 60 points in prices from those stated above. This was followed by a rally of 20 points on bull support on the belief the crop is smaller at present than the government's figures. Recent bullish sentiment was much disturbed, however, by the liquidation and fresh southern selling has predominated the last few days, causing renewed declines.

October contracts sold as low as 17.34 cents just before the close Friday; December, 17.51 cents; January, 17.57 cents; March, 17.82 cents and May, 17.96 cents, an extreme decline of between 68 and 74 points, or an average of $3.50 a bale from the high prices just before the appearance of the government's report. Closing prices yesterday were a few points above the day's low levels, October finishing at 17.39 cents; December, 17.57 cents; January, 17.62 cents; March, 17.85 cents, and May, 18.01 cents, with this small rally mostly due to some profit-taking by shorts over the week-end; on the cold wave in the West containing a menace of early frost, and also another tropical storm heading toward the cotton belt from Porto Rico.

As this is the time of the year for equinoctial storms and sudden frosts and the cotton crop is two or three weeks late, it would be subject to heavy damage from the development of either during the next two or three weeks. Killing frost does not usually occur in the cotton belt, however, until about the middle of October.

This makes it still largely a weather market. It still has no definite trend. A month of clear weather with seasonable temperatures from now on, with an average date of killing frost as late as the end of October, appears now to be necessary to develop the top crop in rounding cut a yield of over 15,000,000 bales without linters, from present conditions. So far 1,013,000 bales of the crop have been brought into sight from August 1 to date, against 1,638,000 bales the same time last year, with world's spinners' takings from August 1 to date, 1,201,000 bales against 1,116,000 last year, and exports of 519,000 bales, against 438,000 last year. The present world's visible supply of all kinds of cotton is 3,260,000 bales, against 2,686,000 a year ago, including 2,090,000 of American product against 1,646,000 a year ago.

Patzel, picturesque Nebraska champion whose calls to hungry piggies during the week's competition gave him the highest score in the preliminary trials, came through the final contest outclassing some of the best talent of the corn belt, and winning $700 in cash, a gold medal and a chance to go into vaudeville.

The hog-calling contest was held in connection with the annual Omaha radio show.

DRYS RAID SCORE OF PLACES IN SALINAS

SALINAS, Sept. 12. (AP)—Fifty Federal prohibition agents swooped down on twenty places where liquor was being sold last night, arrested the proprietors and rushed them before the Justice of the Peace, David Wallace, where fines of from $200 to $400 were assessed when the defendants pleaded guilty. Eight of the defendents pleaded not guilty and their cases were put over until Monday when they will be turned over to Federal jurisdiction. The Federal officers were aided by local police and a squad of thirty-four private detectives from San Francisco.

JAPANESE BELIEVE IN SPIRITS OF OYSTERS

TOKIO, Sept. 12. (AP)—The Japanese firmly believe that the Pearl oyster has a soul, and that the spirits of oysters from which pearls are taken must be propitiated. One of the largest pearl firms of Japan has constructed a miniature pagoda in the Grand Imperial Shrine of Ise, using more than 10,000 pearls. This monument to oyster souls will be dedicated this month with a public Buddhist mass.

FIFTEEN UNDESIRABLES EXPELLED BY CALLES

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Orders of expulsion of undesirable aliens issued during the past year by President Calles totaled twenty-three. Of this number, eight cases were reconsidered on the basis of evidence presented by the individuals involved that they were not guilty of the accusations made against them and the order of expulsion was revoked. The persons expelled were Spanish, Cuban, Russian or Chinese.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

Por el Profesor R. Guerrero

DEL DEPARTAMENTO ESPANOL DE "THE TIMES"

Número 466

En uno de los ejemplos del último párrafo de la Plática 464 dice "le volvió a llamara," en vez de "le volvió a llamar". En la última linea del segundo párrafo de la 465 dice "cap. XIII3", en vez de "cap. XIII)".

Para terminar con las lucuciones que denotan sucesión inmediata de hechos, citaré lo que nos dice el señor Cuervo sobre el vulgarismo "a no que": Es notable que el vulgo no se ha contentado con el "a lo que" mencionado, sino que dice "a no que"; sin embargo, creemos que esta frase no se emplea sino para denotar inmediata anterioridad: "Lo cogieron A NO QUE salió" (He was caught the moment he came out). Es obvia la corrección.

Es difícil que en castellano pueda usarse este modo de hablar en otro sentido que el que ofrecen los lugares siguientes, donde significa "a no ser que": "Ni él mismo tocó a nada, ni permitió que tocase ninguno otro, A NO QUE algunos ocultamente tomasen alguna cosa" (Not even he dared to touch anything, nor did he permit anyone to touch, unless some did hiddenly take something) (Ranz Romanillos, trad. de Plutarco, "Arístides"); "Aquí atado quedarás,—Donde fieras o hambre fiera—Te acaben. —A no que quiera—Darte el vestido" (Here shall you remain tied up, where the wild beasts or a beastly hunger will finish you. —Unless I wish to give you the dress) (Lope, "Los embustes de Celauro", acto III, esc. XVII).

Es posible que "a no que" sea contaminación de "a na que" y "a lo que". Como en Aragón se dice "naa", "na" por "nada": "no se l'olvida naa" (Botana, "La gente de mi tierra", tomo I, p. 29), de ahí sale sin duda la locución "a na que", la cual Borao escribe "aná que", y dice se usa en algunas localidades en el sentido de "así que" o "al punto que": "A na que llegue, te escribiré" (No sooner shall I arrive than I will write to you); frase corriente en otras partes de España y que, según Calcaño, se le oye también al pueblo maracaibero. Comprueban esta explicación los pasajes siguientes, que ponen de manifiesto la gradación de los significados: "Cuanto acabo de oír es de muncha consicuencia, y mientras la dotrina he estado piensando que su enclinación por ahí va, y A NADITA QUE yo le apunte, siguirá con esa mesmísima rilación" (All I have just heard is of great moment, and during catechism I have been thinking that his proclivities run that way, and should I steer him ever so little, he will keep in the same direction) ("Don Quijote de la Manchuela", p. 125); "La imitación de esta poesía requiere un talento y un gusto el más exquisito: A NADA QUE suba, ya no es ella; A NADA QUE baje, ya no es poesía" (The imitation of this poetry demands the most exquisite taste and talent: at the slightest flight, it is no longer itself; at the slightest fall, it is no longer poetry) (Quintana, "Parnaso Español, Fr. Luis de León"); "Quie taparse la cara a ca istante,—Como se la tapan al que ya está muerto;—Y a na que lo dejan, ya está tapaíco—Con la sábana blanca de lienzo" (He wants to cover his face at every moment, as that of a dead man is covered; and no sooner is he let alone than he wraps himself up in the white linen sheet) (Medina, "Aires murcianos", p. 78).

Sin embargo, como en Bogotá no se usa "na", e ignoramos que "a no que" se diga en otra parte, tenemos por dudosa la explicación que precede, y nos inclinamos más bien a mirar aquella locución como mezcla de "a lo que" con frases como "no bien llegue"; en favor de lo cual obra el que también se oiga decir "a no llegue".

En uno de los párrafos del artículo de Fernández-Flórez que estamos comentando, se lee lo que sigue: "Antes, cuando era un hombre vulgar, solía dar un paseo por la calle de Alcalá. Subía de la acera de San José a la acera de la Unión y en Fénix, y seguía. Esto se me antojaba natural. Ahora, una tarde en que iba a insistir en ese itinerario, me asaltó esta idea: . . ." (Formerly, when I was a vulgar man, I used to take a walk along Alcala Street. I would go up from the sidewalk on which stands San Jose Church over to that on which stand "La Union" and "El Fenix", and proceeded. I used to fancy this was natural. Well, an afternoon on which I was going to stick to this itinerary, I was struck by this idea. . . .)

Note el estudiante que en todas las oraciones de ese párrafo, salvo la última ("me asaltó esta idea"), el escritor ha usado el imperfecto o copretérito de indicativo ("era", "solía", etc.), y que tan incorrecto sería reemplazar en el citado párrafo esos imperfectos por pretéritos, como poner en la última oración el imperfecto "asaltaba" en vez del pretérito "asaltó".

Como quiera que, en inglés, a veces no es posible marcar con formas verbales distintas ciertos matices diferenciales de un estado o una acción pasados, y traducimos de idéntico modo las oraciones, "En año pasado estábamos en París" y "El año pasado estuvimos en París" (Last year we were in Paris), necesita el estudiante anglosajón una guía tan segura como sea posible para saber si en una oración dada debe emplearse el imperfecto ("amaba") o el pretérito ("amé").

En el primero de los dos ejemplos citados, el imperfecto "estábamos" indica que nuestra estancia en París se prolongó por algún tiempo, y queda indeciso si ya estábamos allí antes del año pasado, y si allí seguimos concluído ese año. En cambio, con el pretérito "estuvimos" denotamos que nuestra estancia en París fue en el año indicado, y no en el anterior ni posterior. Esa estancia puede haber sido de un día o de varios meses del año señalado, pues que el pretérito deja indeterminada su duración, a menos de llevar consigo algún complemento de tiempo: "El año pasado estuvimos en París unas horas"; "El año pasado estuvimos en París once meses".

Para que la frase inglesa traduzca las diferencias de significado de estas dos formas pasadas castellanas, preciso es reemplazar "were" por algún otro giro, vertiendo la oración de imperfecto por "Last year we were staying (sojourning) in Paris", y la de pretérito, por "Last year we stopped in Paris, or stopped off in Paris, or visited Paris, or paid Paris a visit, or spent a season in Paris, or stayed in Paris", o "Last year we spent in Paris", según los casos.

En ejemplos como éstos, en que se menciona un período de tiempo dentro del cual se efectuó lo denotado por el verbo, úsese el imperfecto español (escribía) cuando la idea por expresar equivalga a la que en inglés se expresa con la forma progresiva (was writing), y empléese el pretérito (escribí) cuando la idea que quiera denotarse no pueda traducirse en inglés por "was writing", sino solamente por "wrote". En los dos ejemplos siguientes puede apreciarse claramente la diferencia entre el imperfecto y el pretérito de indicativo. "En 1920 escribía yo mi segunda novela"; "En 1920 escribí mi segunda novela". El imperfecto "escribía" tiene el valor de "was writing"; el pretérito "escribí" no puede traducirse sino por "wrote". La acción denotada por "escribía" no está circunscrita al año de 1920; puedo haber comenzado mi novela antes de ese año y estaría aún escribiendo; la denotada por "escribí" comenzó y terminó en el año citado (I began writing and finished the work within 1920).

PORTUGUESE REVOLT

Dispatch to London Reports Seizure of Chaves by Rebel Troops

LONDON, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Messages received at London today from Lisbon state that the Portuguese government announces a military revolt occurred in North Portugal at Chaves. An infantry captain, supported by civilians and insubordinate troops, led a revolt in support of the radicals and occupied the railway station and postoffice at Chaves.

The officers of the garrison, however, remained loyal and the rebel captain, after failing to obtain support for the insurrection, finally surrendered. The official statement adds that the rumors of serious fighting are exaggerated, that the disturbances are slight and complete order and calm reign in the country.

OUT OF GAS? JUST THROW IN A LITTLE DUST

BEES AS FANS TO VENTILATE HIVES

APPLY MECHANICAL SYSTEM IN REPLACING FOUL AIR WITH OXYGEN

In hot weather a number of bees in every hive are acting in the capacity of electric fans, their wings working away at a great rate while they drive the air in just in the direction needed in a well calculated ventilating system.

In front of any hive, holding their proper stations at the narrow entrance, a detachment of these ventilating bees may be seen. Their heads are always turned toward the entrance so that the air is kept moving past them toward the rear, the reason for this position being that these bees are drawing out the foul air from the hive.

On the inside of the hive, their heads turned also toward the entrance, is another file of bees propelling the air past them toward the interior. These bees are sucking in fresh air to take the place of the foul air. It is a double ventilating system based upon good mechanical principles.

The effect of this well-directed activity is not only to give a supply of life-sustaining oxygen to the multitude of workers in the hive, but also to keep down the temperature when there is danger of the comb melting; and in addition, to evaporate the surplus water from the honey stored in the cells, which are never sealed shut till the product is properly "ripened."—[Atlantic Monthly.

PARISIAN DANCER SIGNS FOR FILMS

Jean de Navelle

Another European has hearkened to the insistent call of the American screen. Jean De Navelle, Parisian dancer, has been signed to a long-term Paracount contract by Jesse L. Lasky. The transaction was completed by cable.

The real name of Mlle. De Navelle is said to be Jeanne De Navaille. She is the daughter of Jean and the late Courtney De Navaille, the latter a widely known dancer of the continent and one-time member of the Russian Ballet. Mlle. De Navelle attracted first attention as a child of 6 years. Under the direction of Walfann Furee, Paris and London producer, she toured the world with her mother. She made her initial appearance in the United States at the age of 12, when she toured the East on the Orpheum Circuit.

CITIES PROPOSE SECESSION

Political Economists Discuss Forming Independent Districts Out of Chicago and New York

CHICAGO, Sept. 12. (AP)—Through hundreds of years from the days of ancient Greece and Rome down to the Venice of more modern times the city-State has made its mark in political history.

Now a few advanced political economists are discussing the possibility of some leading American cities becoming political entities or city-states. Chicago and New York particularly, whose spheres of influence and environs have crossed the borders of their own States, are prominently mentioned.

The continual warfare between the urban and country districts of such States as Illinois and New York is seen as another reason why a separation of a city from the rest of the State is within the range of possibilities.

The ancient cry similar to "no taxation without representation," has been raised in both Illinois and New York. The two largest cities in the country both have complained that they are not equitably represented in the State Legislatures, in proportion to their population, wealth, influence and the size of their tax bill. In Illinois, for instance, a down-State majority has halted every attempt of Chicago representatives to put through a legislative reapportionment program, which, it is claimed, is provided in the State Constitution.

The metropolitan district of New York is in three States, New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. Chicago has overrun Northern Illinois and it suburbs reach into Wisconsin and Indiana. A city, however, can not push its limits across the border into another State, so that in the case of New York and Chicago artificial barriers break up what is really a unified metropolitan district.

Some Chicagoans, feeling that their city is not fairly treated in State affairs, have proposed a new State of Northern Illinois and adjacent territory of which Chicago is the center. A Chicago legislator recently asked the census bureau to include in the metropolitan census, all persons in a fifty mile radius from the city's center.

The government could only reply that it could not include citizens of another State. The Chicago city limits parallel the Indiana border for several miles. Across the line are the great steel centers of Hammond, Michigan City and Gary, allied to the industrial sections of South Chicago.

On nights when the "seeing" is good anyone may see in the midst of myriads of stars certain dark patches which stand out in sharp contrast with the dotted area about them. These are not merely spaces which happen to be devoid of stars, but clouds of lightless matter between the earth and the milky way, blotting out from our view stars behind them, and themselves lightless. Photographs have been secured of a great spiral nebula, itself like a small luminous cloud, cut in half by the edge of a dark cloud. And this obscuration proves further that the clouds are clouds of solid matter, or if they were composed of matter in gaseous form they would not always obscure the stars behind them. They are of an immense size, immensely larger than the largest sun, and covering an area many times greater than the largest nebula of luminous gas. They cannot be atmospheric clouds of the kind known to us. They must apparently be clouds of fine cosmic dust, perhaps incomparably less substantial than the thinnest earth fog, but by their enormous extent interposing between us and the starry background enough matter to veil the latter completely. The dark cloud in Taurus is 1500 times as long as the distance between the earth and the sun.

NEW JERSEY TEAM WINS RELAY IN AIR

Civilian Flyers in Closing Feature of National Meet; Races Without Fatalities

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12. (AP)—The team headed by Basil L. Rowe of Keyport, N. J., today won the novelty race for civilian flyers, feature of the final day of the national air races at the model farm field. The event, which was for the Benjamin Franklin trophy, was the second relay race won by Rowe during the meet. His team-mates were C. S. (Casey) Jones, Garden City, N. Y., and A. H. Kreider, Hagerstown, Md.

Rowe's team flew over the thirty-six-mile course in a total elapsed time of 18m. 12.52s., or an average speed of 118.624 miles an hour. The contest was a combination airplane and foot race, the passenger in the plane being required to run 200 yards at the completion of each lap.

Second place went to the Ludington Exhibition Company of Philadelphia, whose pilots were Robert P. Hewitt and John Thropp III, this city, and Douglas Davis, Atlanta, Ga.

E. B. Heath, veteran aviator and airplane builder of Chicago, flying a tiny Heath sport plane, won the midget race of fifty miles for the Dayton Daily News trophy. He covered the distance at a speed of 86.454 miles an hour.

Harold J. Lass of Dayton, O., flying a Driggs Dart, was second, with a speed of 82.762 miles. Third place was won by A. H. Kreider, Hagerstown, Md., in a K. R. A. Midget, with a speed of 76.771 miles. The machines were all monoplanes and were the only entries in the event.

Parachute jumping by navy petty officers and other stunts gave the spectators plenty of thrills.

In the sport plane event of sixty trophy, Kreider turned the tables on Heath, winning with an average speed of 94.493 miles an hour. The best Heath could do 91.267 miles. Kreider piloted a K.R.A. Midget with a Wright Morehouse motor, while Heath flew a Heath sport plane equipped with a Bristol Cherub motor. Third place went to Clarence D. Chamberlin, Hasbrock Heights, N. J., who flew a Bellanca biplane and averaged 89.342 miles.

This event brought to a close the eight days of flying, during which the contestants covered close to 350,000 miles without a serious accident.

SAN FRANCISCO DRIVER HELD IN FATAL CRASH

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12. (AP)—Arthur Savage, 34 years of age, a mechanic, was arrested here today, charged with manslaughter in connection with an automobile collision in which Jack Salvato, 16 years of age, was killed and Angelo Salvato, the boy's father, and Edward Kibbe were injured. The accident occurred early today in South San Francisco, a suburb.

CARDS REVEAL PRINCE'S TALENT

BIARRITZ, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—It is to cards and not horses that the Prince of Wales's talent runs. At 40,000 francs ($1160) each deal, Great Britain's royal heir turned up nine four times running, which is a winning streak rarely precedented at the high stakes table in the Casino here. By pyramiding during his run of luck the Prince netted 640,000 francs ($18,560) before the tide turned. After losing a bundle of thousand-franc notes he cannily withdrew, his pockets still heavily bulging with the paper.

FREE SPEECH IN BRITAIN LAUDED

Pacific College Head Praises British Fairness

Says America Lags in Stand on Freedom

Finds Mediterranean Nations Facing Dictator's Lips

STOCKTON, Sept. 12. (Exclusive) America must travel a long way before she reaches the standard of British free speech, says Dr. Tully C. Knoles, president of the College of the Pacific, who has returned from a three-months' trip abroad. Dr. Knoles went to Europe with a group of college and university presidents in search of facts relative to the political, economic and social conditions of foreign countries. He studied and heard the opinions of the best minds in the capitals visited and asserts his trip was too strenuous to be called a vacation.

"We were all struck by the fact that the leaders of European thought are facing courageously the real facts of their suffering peoples," said Dr. Knoles. Continuing, however, he said that the touring party was faced with a series of contradictions in European affairs everywhere it went.

MEDITERRANEAN

"The Mediterranean peoples are nearly all facing dictatorships. England, France, Germany and Russia are all in serious unemployment conditions, while their currency is stable. France and Italy, on the other hand, face depreciated currency while everybody is at work," Dr. Knoles asserts.

"The Englishman is a realist and a debater. English speakers we heard included representatives of all groups in the industrial crisis and all groups of political faith. Each one with the utmost candor would speak of the good points of the opposition, and with the finest grace in the world, listen to the opposition."

German speakers were described as dignified and fully prepared to discuss their subjects.

"The study of world politics in America is likely to be somewhat academic. In Europe, it is vital. Problems that seem remote to us are ever present to them," said Dr. Knoles.

Russian political leaders did not desire to lecture, but with charming courtesy, said Dr. Knoles, and with full and amazing frankness, they would answer any question asked of them.

RUSSIAN IDEALISM

"They are all intense realists. They believe profoundly in the task that they have set for themselves and are willing to give their lives in service or sacrifice to see their ideals realized. They have no illusions; they do not believe in God, hence there will be no providential guidance. They alone are the captains of their souls and the architects of the workingman's and peasant's government.

"If life stands in the way, life must be given or taken; unlike the English, they do not desire free speech. I heard it said in Moscow that one of the old regime should expect no more human treatment than a member of the I.W.W. might expect in California. Everywhere men and women are looking to America more for capital to aid them than for principles of government or of economy to guide."

TRADE BODY TO HASTEN NEW ROUTE

Stockton - Oakland Road Will Be Major Project for Chamber of Commerce

STOCKTON, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—The long proposed Oakland-Stockton highway via Walnut Creek, the north base of Mt. Diablo and Marsh Creek, has again been taken up by the Stockton Chamber of Commerce as one of its major pieces of work.

According to John H. Eagal, chairman of the road committee, the Oakland Chamber of Commerce is willing to proceed with the joint plans of the two chambers as soon as some decision is reached in Oakland relative to the new entrance to that city. According to Eagal, it can not be decided in Oakland whether the new entrance should be at the head of Broadway or whether it should enter the business district by way of Lake Merritt.

In the meantime, a reconnaissance of the route from Stockton as far as Walnut Creek is being made for the chamber by Maj. James S. Greene, engineer for the National Automobile Association. This will be completed and a report with recommendations received within a week or ten days.

The new route will bring Stockton and Oakland within sixty-one or sixty-two miles of each other and will provide motorists with two main trunk routes into the San Joaquin Valley.

While the chamber is primarily interested in the Oakland-Stockton route, it also fosters at the same time hopes for the establishment of a short cut highway between this city and Knights Ferry, thus creating a new direct and straight route between Oakland and Yosemite.

GIFFORD IN DEBUT AT CULVER CITY

Art Gifford, Kansas City lightweight, better known as Charley Pitts, will make his California debut Tuesday night when he tackles Jack Thompson in the ten-round main event at Culver City. Although still a youngster, Pitts has met and defeated some of the leading lightweights in the country. In looking over his scrapbook one finds some interesting yarns on his fights with Benny Leonard, Mickey Walker, Lew Tendler and Charley White.

Jimmy Fox and Dick Bowers, a classy pair of lightweights, will tangle in the six-round semi-wind-up. K. O. Joe Cardosa will try a comeback when he encounters Elmer Lamsen in the scheduled six-round special event. Two four-rounders complete the bill.

To get the full effect of ventilation, it is not enough to admit a steady supply of fresh air at such an opening; it is also desirable to keep the whole mass of air in motion.

SELF-SUFFICIENT

Grows in a Sealed Bulb, Producing Its Own Nourishment

The other morning, at the National Academy of Sciences, I saw something amazing. On a table stood, neck downward, a dozen large electric light bulbs, and in each was a plant alive and growing, although each bulb was completely sealed at the neck. One contained a seedling of a Norway spruce; the others held ferns, club mosses and sensitive plants. In the plaster-of-Paris plug in the neck at the bottom a thistle tube was stuck. This was filled below with sand and above with soil, out of which the plant was growing.

But how can the plant breathe since it is sealed in the glass bulb? We would soon suffocate if so inclosed. There is where a plant has the advantage over an animal. It can make its own oxygen out of the carbon dioxide in the air by the aid of the sunshine falling on the glass container.

But how does the plant get food? It lives on the carbon that it gets from the carbon dioxide in the air.

But why does not the supply of carbon dioxide run out since only a limited amount of this gas is inclosed within he glass? Because the plant continually makes carbon dioxide out of its own carbon and the oxygen of the air.

You see, it is a complete cycle. The plant manufactures its own food and air as it uses it up. The water goes a similar round. It is sucked up from the soil, evaporated by the leaves, condenses on the glass, rolls down to the sand, and is again sucked up by the roots. If a leaf drops off, the bacteria of the soil, members of the Plant Wreckers' Union, break it up into carbon dioxide and nitrates, and feed it back to the plant. How long the plant can live and grow in its hermetical prison nobody knows yet, not even the inventor of the device.

There is nothing new about all this. Every schoolboy learns about the cycle of the elements through plant, soil and air. Yet when he sees it here actually demonstrated before his eyes for the first time, he realizes that he has never really believed what he had been told; he has merely accepted it.—[Edwin E. Slosson in Collier's.

Chemists Find Themselves Two Centuries Behind Amazon Natives

VIRTUES OF THE LEMON

One of Them Is Not as a Beautifier of Human Form, Writer Says

The virtues of the lemon have been somewhat obscured in recent years by the unusual advertising accorded to the merits of the grapefruit and the orange. No doubt the tributes to the latter member of the citrus family are well merited because of its delightful flavor, sweetness and richness in vitamins.

The lemon, on the other hand, has had to overcome the disadvantages of a sour and acrid flavor which does not appeal to as many persons as the sweeter taste of the orange. The ridicule unfortunately associated with the name "lemon" since the time when it occurred to a not too brilliant comedian to connect it with a gesture indicating disdain has not aided its favor.

Astute manufacturers of cosmetics have not overlooked a natural interest in this unusual fruit, and have prepared all sorts of substances for use on the skin and the hair, claiming for them special virtues because they contain the juice of the lemon. Unfortunately, there is not the slightest scientific evidence that lemon juice is of any value whatever in the beautification of the human form.—[Hygeia.

WASHINGTON IS READY FOR KLAN HOSTS

Third Biennial Meeting Opens Today with Parade; Extra Police Ordered

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Hundreds of members of the Ku Klux Klan, advance guard of the many who are expected to participate in a monster parade tomorrow afternoon, opening the Invisible Empire's third biennial convocation, arrived in Washington today by special trains, cars and automobiles. Railroad officials estimate that between 40,000 and 50,000 Klansmen will be handled over the various lines into Washington.

No accurate estimate can be made of the number who will motor to the celebration, but already the streets of the capital are filled with automobiles, bearing Klan insignia and banners of the order.

Police are taking unusual precautions against any disturbance—furloughs have been suspended, regular days off canceled, men away on vacations recalled and every policeman will be on duty, continuously throughout the three days' celebration which the parade will inaugurate.

Police reserves will be quartered in downtown precinct stations and in congested colored districts where trouble might be expected. Pennsylvania avenue, on which the paraders will move, is to be roped at curbs with heavy steel cables from Fifteenth street, for several blocks toward the Capitol and as is customary during periods of unusual excitement or emergency, the guard about the Treasury Building will be augmented by a regiment of marines.

PASSENGER TRANSPORT PICKING UP

Railway Ticket Sales in First Half of Year Show Business Increasing

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—After five years of almost constant decrease in railway passenger business and earnings, figures made public by the Interstate Commerce Commission show that for the first six months of 1926 railway passenger revenues exceeded those for the corresponding period of 1925.

Passenger revenue of Class I railroads for the six months ended with June aggregated $504,254,107, as compared with $498,526,266 for the corresponding period of 1925. While the increase was only $5,727,841, it is regarded as indicative of a general trend, because in recent months there has been a gradual increase in passenger revenues

The peak of railway passenger traffic was reached in 1920, but until the end of 1925 every year except 1923 showed a decline under the preceding year. In 1925 passenger business was 23 per cent under that of 1920.

The decrease was attributed mainly to the increased use of private passenger automobiles and the competition of bus transportation. The change in the trend began to be noticed toward the end of 1925.

The average miles per passenger per road was 39.46 in the six months ending with June, as compared with 38.04 in the corresponding period of 1925, and as a result there was an increase in the total of revenue-passenger mileage from 16,735,266,000 in the first six months of 1925 to 16,864,310,000 in the first six months of 1926.

In other words, while fewer passengers are traveling, the proportion of those taking longer trips is increasing. The increase in the long-haul business has offset the losses due to elimination of much of the short-haul business on account of motor competition.

Barnsdall Oil Reported Seeking 980-Acre Poso Creek Tract

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—According to reports, the Barnsdall is closing a deal for the leasing of 980 acres in the Poso district from Nash Valencia of Delano. ALSATIANS ASK AID OF AMERICA

Autonomist Leader Reveals Revolt Imminent

People Said to Plan Appeal to League of Nations

Situation May Prove Blow to French Prestige

STRASSBURG (France) Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—"To the great heart of America and to the principles of freedom enshrined in the hearts of its people, I and my comrades appeal for freedom from the terrorist and dictatorial rule of France."

This message to America was given today by Dr. Eugene Ricklin, leader of the widespread autonomist movement in Alsace and Lorraine, which, a newspaper investigation discloses, soon will be a dynamite spot in Europe, together with the Saar, which lies to the north.

BRINK OF REVOLT

Pushed almost to the brink of revolution, with passive resistance to French rule an immediate possibility, autonomists in the departments of Moselle, Basrhin and Hautrhin, where the party includes even government functionaries, thousands of school teachers and clerics, as well as the bourgeoisie and workers, are preparing an appeal to the League of Nations for an autonomous government.

The appeal, if formally taken up by the League, will come as one of the most severe blows to French prestige. Moreover, the present ominous conditions prevailing in the liberated territories are such that Geneva's consideration of the Alsatian appeal looms as a possibility.

This imminent blow to French prestige, which France can sorely afford at this disturbed time, will be more severe by reason of the fact that most of the world believes the people of Alsace-Lorraine achieved final contentment with the triumphant entry of the French armies here in November, 1918.

The investigation reveals that nothing could be a greater distortion of the evident facts. Three "liberated" departments, comprising a total area of 5600 square miles, about the size of Connecticut, are afire with discontent and are revolutionary in spirit. The crisis has attained such proportions that even the departmental prefects cautiously admit the brooding danger, but the true state of affairs is generally unknown to others than French and German frontier officials and a few discreetly close-mouthed subministry officials in Paris.

TROOPS STATIONED

A number of French troops at present are stationed in the departments of Moselle, Basrhin and Hautrhin, according to military authorities at Strassburg. The troops are constantly changing, because of periodic troop transfers from occupied Rhineland to regions northward, but they number between 8000 and 10,000, as compared with the reported 14,000 German troops stationed permanently in the provinces during the German rule.

"Any number of men—and we number at least 1,000,000—couldn't face the huge stores of ammunition, artillery and machine guns with which the French troops are garrisoned in the three departments," continued Dr. Ricklin. "But there is one effective recourse. We can and will appeal to the conscience of the world. The continuation of the present regime under France must mean the ultimate loss of Alsace-Lorraine to France, which it obtained at the cost of 4,000,000 lives."

FRENCH MAY CUT ARMIES IN GERMANY

Stresemann-Briand Parley Ironing Out Differences at League's Direction

GENEVA, Sept. 12. (AP)—Conversations, the object of which is a broad Franco-German understanding, not only on problems existing between France and Germany, but on international policies as a whole, were begun today between Gustav Stresemann, the German Foreign Secretary, and M. Briand, Foreign Minister of France, with the knowledge of both Sir Austen Chamberlain, Great Britain, and M. Vanderveldt of Belgium.

This is the beginning of embodiment of pledges made by the German and French statesmen in the League Assembly that they would strive to reach an accord and the announcement of the pourparlers attracted tremendous interest because of the possible repercussion for a successful understanding on world politics.

It is understood that broad lines were discussed today and it is learned from German sources that Dr. Stresemann broached the matter nearest to the German heart, namely the reduction of the French forces in the Rhineland and proposed, first, that the troops should be cut down from about 70,000 to 38,000; second, the evacuation of three watering places, Kreuznach, Langenschawlbach and Neunehr, and third, rendering all occupation "invisible."

One special subject to be embraced in the proposed understanding is elaboration of an accord of financial and economic questions along the lines of the Franco-German trade agreement which has been under negotiations but with larger ramifications.

After a long conversation with M. Briand, Dr. Stresemann conferred with Sir Austen Chamberlain and put the British statesman in touch with the details of the Franco-German conversations which will be continued next week.

MARRIAGE AGENT TO SEE JAPANESE PRINCE

TOKIO, Sept. 12. (AP)—Viscount Matsudaira, secretary to Prince Chichibu, sailed for England yesterday on the Empress of Canada. Vernacular newspapers reported he was carrying with him messages from the Imperial household regarding the proposed marriage of the Prince when he returns to Japan next year from England, where he is studying. It is expected his return trip will be by way of the United States. If the Prince's bride has been selected her name has been carefully guarded, but it is understood that his marriage is desired as soon as he returns.

ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—With the water which inundated a large section of the lowlands of Hannibal after a record rain of 5.83 inches in twenty-four hours, receding danger from the flood is practically over. Sections which suffered worse are now almost entirely relieved from the high water, and the Mississippi River after reaching flood stage, is falling.

Southeast Missouri's watermelon crop is being marketed at a decided loss this season. Prices ranging from $175 to $240 a car in the early days of the harvest slumped to the point where many cars are now being sold for less than the freight and loading cost. An unusual crop in Southern States flooded the early market prior to the time the crop of that section was marketable.

The Volstead law became effective in January, 1920. That years there were 500 acres of grapes in the Ozarks. This year there were 16,000 acres—an increase of 3200 per cent in six years. Only twenty cars were handled in 1920, while the Frisco alone expects to handle a total of 1300 cars this year.

INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Growers of tomatoes will suffer losses in Indiana because of the recent heavy rains. Vines in some places have been under water, while in other places the rain has beaten them into the ground. Farmers who have suffered losses in damage to unthreshed wheat and oats, now look to saving the corn crop. This, too, has been damaged in many sections.

Cravens, farmer, living near New Frankfort, suffered severe pains in his head and came to Scottsburg to consult a physician, who found a splinter of wood three-quarters of an inch long imbedded in an ear. Cravens recalled that the splinter had first entered his head thirty-five years ago while he was employed at the Howard shipyard at Jeffersonville, but it had never given him pain and had been forgotten until he experienced a feeling of "something jarring loose" in his unusual exertion in rescuing his team from the bees.

DETROIT

DETROIT, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Much interest attends the divorce trial of Mrs. Margaret E. Goodenow, of Kalamazoo vs. Earle A. Goodenow, in the Calhoun Circuit Court, at Battle Creek. Both have been prominent socially and are well to do. Mrs. Goodenow is seeking divorce on the grounds of cruelty and seeks a portion of the husband's estate, which includes property which, she declares, is worth in excess of $35,000 as well as alimony based on what she says is his income of $25,000 a year.

The closing of the estate of former Mayor George E. Ellis, private banker at the time of his death nearly six years ago, was ordered of Attorney Joseph Renihan, administrator, by Probate Judge Clark E. Higbee. His bank was closed immediately upon Ellis's death and since that time dividends aggregating 75 per cent have been paid creditors and depositors. Attorney James T. McAllister, counsel for the administrator, predicted the estate will pay close to 100 per cent.

Bonds were fixed at $500 on each count before Justice of the Peace A. M. Lumley of Porterville, before whom they were arraigned. The Newman brothers had not secured their bond of $1500 each. The trio will come up for trial on the 16th inst.

VISALIA, Sept. 12.—"Bitters," which C. C. Young, local Chinese herb doctor, contended were only "medicine" proved to contain 26 per cent alcohol when analyzed and led to arrest of Young on charges of liquor possession. He was fined $75 by Judge J. S. Clack.

Local officers declared that Young objected when members of the Board of Fire Underwriters wished to examine his place, while inspecting basements in Chinatown. A raid was made on his establishment and his arrest followed.

NO PLACE FO RJAZZ

GIANT FOREST (Sequoia National Park) Sept. 12.—The "forest primeval," is no place for jazz, according to Congressman Phil D. Swing of El Centro, a summer visitor here.

Jazz is all right in its place, in opinion of Congressman Swing, but in the silence of the forest, Nature's own thrill should suffice.

Congressman Swing spoke here against the conversion of the great scenic and recreation spots into citified jazz resorts.

"The spirit of the forest should be retained forever," he declared. "As for those who want jazz, let them go where jazz is. It doesn't belong in the forest."

FORETOLD MILLENNIUM TO BURST BONDS OF FLESH

Christ's Mission to Free Body as Well as Soul Emphasized by Speaker at KHJ

Declaring that the time shall come when man will be able to defy the law of gravitation and lift his body, without mechanical means, into etheric space, Dr. M. Clarissa Christeen, a speaker for the Order of Melchizedek, in an address from The Times broadcasting station yesterday told her invisible audience that the mission of Jesus was not only to free the soul but to immortalize the body. Dr. Christeen spoke in part as follows:

"'Even as in Adam all die, so shall those in Christ Jesus be made alive: for to this end Christ both died and rose, that He might be Lord both of the dead and of the living,' declares the Scripture. "We talk of a Christ consciousness, of soul salvation, but do we consider that Jesus laid great stress on body redemption? Yet the mission of Jesus was to make of us spiritual carpenters, that we might build physical temples, temples not made with the sound of saw and hammer, temples in which Christ might direct all activities in mind, heart, brain and body; that He might be the high priest of our profession, bringing bodily redemption with His indwelling presence.

"We might ask, 'Who are the dead?' We are told in Scripture that we are 'as dead men walking,' unless we have received the inner baptism, new birth, born of the regeneration, or Holy Spirit, which makes of us new creatures, hiding us, as it were, in Christ; giving to us a new state of consciousness, which contacts limitless realms.

"We become dead to sin when we touch the hem of the Master's garment and tap the powerhouse of the Almighty, to be fused with the Christ consciousness.

"St. Paul said we should die daily. In fact, we are passing from death into life each day of our stay upon or within this earth, if we but think so, for as a man thinketh in his heart, so is he.

"Is life a picture play, which is forgotten when we have left this earthly stage? Or do we form a setting for an act of life's drama and then leave the stage with the play unfinished, to make our appearance in another field of action in another world, which has had no part in our story?

"Are we adding length of days to our lives by loving the Lord, our God, with all our heart, with all our soul and with all our mind, and loving our neighbors as ourselves? Jesus said, 'Upon these two commandments hang all the laws and the prophets.'

"When the earth is filled with righteousness and justice and peace prevails the mission of Jesus will have been accomplished, that a holy nation will be called out from all nations: that a creedless, cultless race will inhabit the earth; no more pain, no more sorrow, no more tears, no more death of the spirit, soul, mind or body.

"Then will man and beast again be friends 'and the trees shall clap their hands for joy.' In Christ Jesus there shall be freedom, wealth and happiness for all. And in that blessed day there shall be no bondage to gravitational law, for, as the will of the indwelling spirit, man shall be able to soar aloft and visit every shining planet in the stellar universe."

SCIENCE CHALLENGES CHRISTIAN CHURCHES

"Religion for an Age of Science" is the subject of a sermon preached yesterday by Rev. E. Burdette Backus at the First Unitarian Church. Mr. Backus said in part:

"No religion can last when it ceases to be reasonable. A most drastic revision of religious thought is necessary if religion is to be made acceptable to the thinking men of our day. The demands of the churches for belief in the oriental trappings of the Christian theology have driven educated and thinking people out of the churches and left our modern religous institutions in the hands of people more or less well-meaning but intellectually incapable of meeting the needs of the youth of today, so that the modern churches are for the most part stumbling blocks in the way of progress and render no beneficial service to humanity. The wreckage of Christianity must be cleared away and a religion developed in accord with science to command the allegiance of the alert portion of our younger people. Until this is done we cannot expect the churches to regain any hold upon the people who are really doing things in the world."

HEAVEN AND HELL IN HEART OF MAN

Rev. William C. Isett, pastor of Amanda Chapel, preached yesterday on "Earth, Heaven and Hell." He said in part:

"Theology is an interpretation of God. Religion is a study of man in relation to God. Theology is dogmatic; religion is philosophic. It is of interest to every human being to learn how he ought live. We are all interested in bringing ourselves to our highest perfection. Therefore all religions have a great deal to say with regard to man's conduct, and Christianity most of all.

"Except for the fact that the belief in immortality is universal, we would not need to concern ourselves much about the life that follows this. One world at a time might be enough if it were not true that our conduct here has a great deal to do with the life after death. The death of the body is not the end of our existence. We make our own heaven or our own hell, according to our religious life, albeit the place and character of the life to come is theological and not religious.

"Jesus made it clear that the kingdom of God is in our midst. We do not wait until we die to get into it, although we do wait till that time to get into heaven, the place. I have a great desire to get people to live now according to the principles of eternal life. Every man develops according to the natural law of evolution. Present forces determine future conduct. That is the reason Jesus taught the importance of character above conduct. The thief on the cross was still a thief. That is what he was executed for. But certainly before he died he had the heart which fitted him for a future life of righteousness, and Jesus, who knew the hearts of men, realized that whatever his conduct might have been, he was in heart worthy to associate with the angels and be a companion to Jesus Himself. Men judge according to conduct. God judges according to character.

"Therefore, if we are now sons of God, let us act like sons of the righteous, loving Father. If we now have eternal life, then let us not think and act as if we had death ruling in our bodies or our minds. A man is known by the character he displays. If he is making all his plans to die off at the age of 70 years, to retire at the age of 65, to do a work which ends with time, he certainly does not have the eternal life of God in him.

"Just as we make our own heaven life, so we make our own evil life which leads to hell. There is a place of wickedness as well as a place of good. If the spirit of evil and wickedness is within us, if our work is planned to destroy ourselves or others, then the kingdom of hell is within us just as surely as the kingdom of heaven is within the good. God does not send us to hell because He wants to, but because we fit ourselves here for that place and develop that kind of character.

"Finally, by holding before the human race continually the reward of righteousness and showing the way to it and removing, through Jesus Christ, all obstacles to its accomplishment, God stimulates man to attain the holiness and righteousness such as He Himself possesses. All the spiritual aid of the Almighty is placed at our disposal to make this earth a heaven."

SERMON PROPHISIES DEFEAT OF DRAGON

Rev. S. H. Bailes, pastor of Hollenbeck Presbyterian Church, preached yesterday on "Revelations." He said in part:

"Milton has used his genius in describing the great war which must take place in fulfillment of the Book of Revelations. First notice the armies engaged Michael and his angels on the one hand and the Dragon and his angels on the other. Remember that God never created an evil being; He never created the devil nor any of the legions of demons—they are all of their own choosing and making. God created them perfect, sinless and glorious, but, led by Satan, they rose in revolt against God until He cast them down to hell.

"This epic gives us some idea of their last end, for in all past ages they have tormented the people of God, seeking to compass their destruction, until the day comes when, invading the very courts of heaven, they declare war upon Michael, the archangel, and the angels of God. But notice in closing the Dragon's defeat. We read that the forces of righteousness overcome by the blood of the Lamb. In this alone is there victory now, henceforth and forever."

PROBLEM OF GODHEAD MOST VITAL TO MAN

Dr. Kerr Boyce Tupper preached at Temple Baptist Church yesterday on "God Knowable." He said in part:

"Of all the problems that have challenged man's mind and agitated his spirit, that of the Godhead is conspicuously and confessedly the most profound and the most vital. Is there in the universe a supreme personal intelligence, interposing fully and freely in human affairs, imminent in, yet transcending, all things, alike an Almighty and an all-gracious Father and Redeemer of Mankind? Behold here the primary question of the ages, around which have gathered clouds of darkness and aureoles of light. How diverse men's view of God! The atheist denies that God is. The agnostic declares that he knows not whether there is a God. The materialist asserts that a God is not necessary. H. G. Wells's God is a 'nondescript finite deity whose paternity neither philosophy nor religion is willing to acknowledge.'

"All this on one hand, while on the other Christianity, with a broader, more illumined vision from the lofty mountain peaks of divine revelation, rejoices in God as the Father Almighty, maker of heaven and earth—personal, spiritual, omnipotent, omniscient, omnipresent, benevolent. Here is no mere ideal of a God simply to contemplate and to worship, but One with whom man may have conscious, personal, redemptive relations. Here is the God who, as the Victorian laureate so finely expresses it, is 'nearer than breathing, closer than hands and feet.'

"Much of the hesitancy of faith respecting God's existence and holy character, which once characterized scientific thinkers, has passed away. Since the death of Haeckel few of our scientists and philosophers hold the view of Locke, of John Stuart Mill, of Rosseau, of Huxley, of Edward Von Hartman. Deism is dead; agnosticism is losing popularity alike in religious and scientific circles, while the atheist is almost as extinct as the megatherium!"

PASTOR INTERPRETS MYSTICAL REFERENCES

Dr. H. C. Culbertson preached yesterday at Mesa Congregational Church on "Mystical Sayings of the Master." He said in part:

"There are some strangely beautiful saying of Jesus and Paul concerning the significance of the Christ; poetical, mystical sayings which have often been distorted and caricatured by theologians who have taken literally what to the Master and His Great disciple were words of symbolism and rhetoric. Such passages are the teachings concerning Jesus as 'the bread of life,' 'eating His flesh and drinking His blood.' Christ as the sacrificial lamb of the Passover, Christ as the Mediator between God and man, the Atonement, and 'being clothed with the righteousness of Christ.'

Many earnest souls, finding themselves unable to accept the medieval doctrines built upon those sayings, have discarded them altogether and cling to the plain messages of the Beatitudes and the simple truths of the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. This is to miss some of the most wonderful possibilities of life, however, which may be ours if we refuse to allow past misinterpretations to prejudice us against those sayings of Jesus and Paul, and if we take them in their true spiritual meanings.

"'Imputed righteousness' sounds utterly unjust to us, as taught by old-time theologians, but it is beautifully true when we think of God as looking forward to the complete and glorious character-development of those who have become so devoted to Jesus that they are growing into His likeness. It is beautifully true when we think of our mystical oneness with the Christ who is an indwelling presence. Partaking of bread and wine at the communion table does not save your soul, but poetically this is a symbol of the way our hearts and minds may figuratively feed their best impulses and noblest outreachings upon the words and memories of the Master. The cross was not needed to placate God, but when we see God Himself, in Jesus, stooping to suffer from man's inhumanity on Calvary, that supreme event cleanses our hearts from selfishness and binds us to God."

EVANGELISM CALLED ENEMY OF RELIGION

Rev. Curtis Abel preached yesterday at Hollywood Unitarian Church on "Evangelism." He said in part:

"Evangelism—the preaching of such doctrines as the fall of man, the atonement of Christ, and redemption by faith—is the greatest enemy of true religion. The doctrines are unethical, historically false, scientifically impossible and mentally enslaving. Moreover, the methods used by evangelists generally, in their appeal to the emotions and their dependence upon mob psychology, are only conducive to social ills but are a positive hindrance to intellectual development, and religious health. Without a free education democracy is doomed."

REFORMER FANATICS CRITICISED BY RABBI

Dr. E. F. Magnin, rabbi of Temple B'nai B'rith, preached yesterday on "Do Good Ends Justify Bad Means?" He said in part:

"There are those who believe that the end always justifies the means; that good causes permit of questionable methods, so long as the end is achieved. I am not one who believes that way. I believe that means are ends in themselves; that every act of life is sacred in itself; that every word spoken should be governed by truth; that honor, justice, love, peacefulness should characterize every move we make in life.

"The trouble with adopting the the means is that we become the judges ourselves of both the end and the means. Religious persecution and destruction of human liberty have been brought about many a time in history just because some one had very decided convictions as to what was right and how the right was to be carried out. I do not believe in killing men in order to save their souls or taking from them their liberties in order to protect their morals."

BANDIT SUSPECTS SEIZED

Pair Accused of Roaming Streets in Stolen Car Believed Figures in Several Recent Hold-ups

With the arrest early yesterday of John A. Murphy, 22 years of age, alias Wesley E. Budy, and Harold McCauley, 26, oil workers, in an asserted stolen car, police declared they believe they have in custody a pair of bandits responsible for numerous recent robberies.

The pair were apprehended at Thirty-seventh street and Grand avenue by Officers Bartholómai and Boydstun who reported the suspects were driving about in a manner as though watching for hold-up victims. On being searched both suspects were found to be carrying pistols, the officers report. They were taken to the University police station and locked up.

The roadster they had been driving, according to the officers, was found to have been reported stolen from Edward Murphy of San Bernardino on the 8th inst.

Subsequent investigation by detectives connected the pair with, at least, two recent robberies. R. A. Allen identified Murphy, the police stated, as the man who held him up on the 9th inst., and described the asserted stolen car as the one used in the robbery.

Murphy also was partly identified by William Broazy as the bandit who shot him and another man during the course of a robbery at Ed's Auto Livery at 717 West Eighth street on the night of the 5th inst. The suspects also answer to the descriptions of bandits in numerous other recent robberies, the police stated. They were booked on suspicion of robbery, assault to commit murder, and grand larceny.

GASOLINE BLAST MAY BE FATAL

Husband and Wife Severely Burned When Cleaning Fluid Explodes

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Snelgrove may die from burns suffered yesterday in a gasoline explosion at their home at 6122 Afton Place, police reported. Snelgrove was burned in endeavoring to extinguish flames attacking his wife.

Mrs. Snelgrove, it was reported, was cleaning a fur coat with gasoline, which was ignited by the friction caused by rubbing the coat with a piece of silk. Snelgrove's efforts to save his wife's life probably were futile, it was said. Snelgrove's condition is critical, it was said at the Hollywood Emergency Hospital, Sunset Boulevard and Gower street, to which both were taken. The house was badly damaged by the flames.

BANDIT WOUNDS DETECTIVE

Lieut. Frudenberg Shot in Hand in Encounter With Two Suspected of Prowling

One officer was shot and another was severely cut about the head in efforts to make arrests of recalcitrant suspects early yesterday morning. Detective Lieutenant Frudenberg was the officer shot. A bullet broke the second finger on his right hand.

He reported that Officer Swanson and himself were called to investigate a suspicious car parked in front of 607 South Commonwealth avenue. A citizen, they said, had observed two young men alight from the car and prowl about the neighborhood.

When the officers arrived the car was still there but the two young men had disappeared. While Swanson left to call up the station to find out if the car had been reported stolen, Frudenberg remained watching near the car. A few minutes later the suspects appeared and were duly stopped and interrogated by the waiting officer.

SHOOTS AT OFFICER

While he was searching one of the pair for weapons, the other suddenly drew a revolver, he said, and fired point-blank at him. The bullet clipped his right-hand finger. After firing the one shot the suspect turned with his companion and fled between two houses near-by. Several shots fired by Frudenberg failed to stop them. A later search for the pair was unavailing.

Later the officers stated they found the car had been reported by Charles H. Mauhern of 920 South Longwood avenue as stolen from in front of the Brentwood Country Club.

OFFICER CUT

Officer E. T. Howard was cut up while assisting his partner, Officer O. W. Nolton in arresting two men at 510½ South Main street for liquor-law violations, according to their reports. The officer stated that they learned that Lee Marlow and J. R. Barron had liquor in their possession at that address and when they investigated were attacked by the two men. Before the latter were overpowered Howard said one of them slashed him with a knife. The suspects were booked at the City Jail for violation of the Wright Act and resisting arrest.

Howard was given emergency treatment at the Receiving Hospital, where it was stated his wounds were not serious.

MORON HUNT LED BY SIX OF FAIR SEX

Policewomen in Chicago Ordered to Kill Maniac for Attacking Girls

CHICAGO, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Six resolute policewomen who do not shrink at the sight of blood or the smell of gunpowder were sent into the Summerdale district with magazine pistols in open handbags, with explicit instructions to decoy and kill a moron who has attacked a number of women and little girls. In addition, a squad of detectives was assigned to the district, but their duty was to hang around the fringes to be on hand when and if any shooting began.

Four women were seized, robbed and attacked Friday and three more cases were reported last night. The moron is described as about 25 years of age, tall and wearing a mask over the lower part of his face. In each case he brandished a revolver in the face of his victims with one hand and clutched their throats with the other, to prevent their crying out for help. In three of the attacks his victims were saved by passing pedestrians. In every case the women were first forced to deliver all their money and jewelry, but due to the fact that so many people were passing through the park saved them from worse indignities.

The moron is known in the district as the "cat," because of his custom of springing upon his victims from clumps of shrubbery and overpowering them before they can set up an alarm.

Guisto Day Celebrated by Acorns With Double Win, 5-2 and 4-0

OAKLAND, Sept. 12. (AP)—Oakland celebrated Louis Guisto day by defeating Los Angeles, 5 to 2 and 4 to 0, here today.

Dickerman hurled for the Oaks during the morning. Although he walked eight men, the Angel batters appeared afraid of his wildness, and did not score on him after the first inning.

The Oaks won the second contest by bumping Walter Glazner for a quartet of scores in the second and third innings.

SHORT HILLS (N. J.) Sept. 12. (AP) One hundred and fifty-one golfers will take up their clubs on the Baltusrol links tomorrow in an attempt to dethrone Bobby Jones as national amateur champion under heavy psychological impost.

Probably never before in the history of the event has a titleholder entered on defense of his crown with signs pointing so plainly to victory as in the case of the 24-year-old Atlanta marvel this year. His easy dash through the 1925 tournament, his record qualifying score of 134 in the British open, his subsequent winning of the coveted European title and, finally, his triumph in the American open, have lifted him so high in the scale of good golf as to shake the confidence of the most seasoned campaigners and the most daring youngsters.

Dempsey Says He Will Never Take on Wills

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Sept. 12. (AP)—Jack Dempsey never will give Harry Wills a chance to win the world's heavyweight championship or even make any money in the ring at Dempsey's expense. The titleholder delivered himself of this declaration today after his workout.

"I don't believe Wills, or his manager, Paddy Mullins, deserve any further consideration from me, considering the way they have acted." Dempsey said. "They have tried to stop my fight with Tunney. They had the fight thrown out of New York and now they are even trying to prevent it in Philadelphia."

DODIE BLEWETT FAILS

Icy Coldness of Water Too Much for Local Girl in Attempt to Swim Catalina Channel

The icy coldness of the water in Catalina Channel was too much for Miss Dodie Blewett, 19-year-old Los Angeles girl, and she was forced to abandon her attempt to swim the channel Saturday night, 57 minutes after she had been in the water. The girl took off from Point Vincente on the mainland at 9:40 o'clock.

Miss Blewett was forcibly taken from the water by her coach, Frank P. Holborow, who was preceding her in a rowboat. The girl cried hysterically and fought against being taken out, but Holborow, after a conference with the girl's brother, John Blewett, who was on the accompanying tug, dragged her from the water. Holborow first urged Dodie to come out of the water, when he noticed her fingers were drawn by cramp from cold water. His pleadings, however, were to no avail and he was finally forced to overtake her in the small boat. She even then tried to elude him. Miss Blewett had covered approximately two miles when taken from the water.

Frank Holborow

The conditions were perfect for such a swim except for the cold water. There was no wind and the channel was calm with no whitecaps anywhere. But the cold water also told on Ludy Langer, former Olympic star, and Frances Blewett, sister of Dodie, who paced her in the water. Langer, in the water forty minutes, was chilled to the bone when he boarded the tug, and when Frances dived in to relieve him she could stay but ten minutes. Jim Blewett, another brother, was in the water when Dodie was taken out.

Miss Blewett did not compete for the $25,000 prize hung up by William Wrigley, Jr., for the first person to swim the Catalina Channel. She is an amateur swimmer and did not want to impair her standing. When the young lady had been worked over by doctors and was fully recovered from the icy water, she took her defeat stoically.

"Why, you know Gertrude Ederle didn't swim the English Channel the first time she tried," Dodie said with a smile.

Langer, an Olympic swimming champion of several years ago, expressed the opinion after his turn in the water, that swimmers competing for the Wrigley prize will have to undergo strenuous training to be in shape to combat the cold water.

REDS ONE GAME BEHIND CARDS

Paste Brooklyn in Both Ends of Twin Bill

Donohue Blanks Robins in First Tilt, 5 to 0

Big Pete Then Goes in and Saves Second, 4 to 3

BROOKLYN (N. Y.) Sept. 12. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds annexed both ends of a double-header from Brooklyn today by 5 to 0 and 4 to 3, climbing to within one game of the Cardinals, who were idle. The Pirates kept pace with the Reds by taking a twin bill from the Giants, leaving the same margin of one and one-half games separating the clubs.

PETE DONOHUE

Pete Donohue blanked the Robins with three hits in the opener and then came back to save the contest, relieving Luque with two on the bases and one out.

Aided by splendid fielding support, Donohue easily disposed of Brooklyn in the first game. Dazzy Vance went the route for the flock, allowing thirteen hits, four of which were made by Eddie Roush in the same number of times at bat.

Brooklyn advanced to an early lead in the second game and was not overtaken until the eighth, when Hargrave hit a home run into the left-field bleachers with a runner on. Doug McWeeny of the Robins was banished by Umpire Rigler in that inning and Bob McGraw finished the contest.

Singles by Butler and Pinch Hitter Cox jeopardized Cincinnati's one-run lead in the ninth and Donohue staved off a threatening score

ST. LOUIS IDLE; LEAD IS CUT

Reds and Pirates Gain a Game Each on Cards by Winning Twin Bills

BOSTON, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Manager Rogers Hornsby's leading Cardinals were idle here today and received reports of their rivals, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh, winning double-headers. The Reds cut St. Louis' lead to one game, while the Pirates are two and one-half games behind Hornsby's crew. How they stand:

Pirates But Two and One-half Games Behind Cardinal Club

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. (AP)—Pittsburgh entered on its invasion of the East today with a double victory over the New York Giants by 5 to 1 and 7 to 1, thereby advancing the Pirates to within two and one-half games of the League-leading Cardinals.

Home runs featured the opening contest, Kelley breaking a scoreless tie with a circuit blow in the sixth while Waner knotted the score with another in the seventh. However, two rallies in the eighth and

HOLLYWOODERS ANNEX SERIES

Vittmen Take Five Out of Eight From Seals

Cellarites Drop Struggles by 7-4, 10-3 Scores

Nine-Run Rally Brings on Shower of Cushions

BY BOB RAY

Oscar Vitt's Hollywood Stars, who are soaring again, handed the cellar-guarding Seals a double-shellacking yesterday, copping by scores of 7 to 4, and 10 to 3. The double victory gave the Stars the series by a 5-to-3 count and moved them to within a half-game of fifth place in their climb toward a first-division berth.

The second contest was decided in the sixth inning when the Stars took advantage of five San Francisco errors to put over nine runs. Just after the fifth error had let in the ninth run scores of the fans, probably figuring that the Seals needed a short rest in which to steady their erratic nerves and throwing arms, started a straw hat shower that gave way to a cushion barrage that halted the merry-go-round for some fifteen minutes. Umpire Joey Beck got out his Ingersoll to show the fans that he had one and to inform the Stars that if they didn't get the field cleared before nightfall he would forfeit the game to the Seals. Whereupon the Stars set in to clearing the cushions off the field while the fans, who thought it was a game, did their best to keep the infield littered with more soft seats. The fans finally ran out of cushions, so what was left of the ball game was resumed.

The Seals were apparently enjoying a 3-to-1 lead when the showery sixth started. Two of

HOWARD KINSEY COPS STATE TENNIS TITLE; GORCHAKOFF WINNER IN JUNIOR EVENT

BERKELEY, Sept. 12. (AP)—Howard O. Kinsey, who became an international tennis star this year, won the California State men's singles tennis championship here today, by defeating Gerald Stratford of Berkeley, the defending title holder, 5-7, 6-0, 6-2, 6-4. The women's singles title was won by Helen Jacobs, former holder of the national junior girls' championship. She defeated Edith Cross, 6-0, 6-1.

HOWARD KINSEY

The State junior boys' championship was taken by Ben Gorchakoff of Los Angeles, who defeated Arthur Kussman of Los Angeles, 6-0, 9-11, 7-5, 6-3. Bobby Seller, the former champion, did not play in the event.

Dorothea Swartz of San Francisco retained her title as girl's national hard-court champion in defeating Adeline Brohn of Berkeley, 6-2, 5-7, 6-2. The Kinsey brothers, Howard and Robert, former holders of the national doubles, won the State doubles championship, defeating Stratford and Alan Herrington of Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

Helen Baker and Howard Kinsey won the mixed doubles title in a match with Avery Follett and Bradshaw Harrison, 6-4, 6-2.

ROBERTS AND GRELLA TO BATTLE IN NORTH

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12. (AP)—Eddie Roberts, Tacoma middleweight, and Johnny Grella of Los Angeles, were matched today for the ten-round main bout of a boxing program at Dreamland Auditorium Friday night. Three Japanese fighters also appear on the card, two against white opponents and the third against a Filipino.

KATHLEEN WRIGHT ANNEXES DEL MONTE GOLFING CROWN

DEL MONTE, Sept. 12. (AP)—For the second time in two years, Miss Kathleen Wright of Pasadena today won the annual Del Monte championship golf tournament for women, defeating Mrs. Harry Grossman of Los Angeles, 5 and 4.

KATHLEEN WRIGHT.

The winner was in perfect form, and had her opponent quite at her mercy. She went into the lead with a four on the third hole, and retained the advantage for the remainder of the match. She ended the game with a birdie two on the fourteenth, and had four pars left for a 36 coming in and a total score of 77.

The first hole was halved in five, and the more difficult second was halved in the same number of strokes. Miss Wright won the third. The fourth was halved. The 180-yard fifth found Mrs. Grossman short from the tee, whereas Miss Wright was nicely on the green from the tee. Mrs. Grossman's chip left her a long putt, which she missed, while Miss Wright was down in three, to increase her lead to two holes.

Miss Wright got into all kinds of trouble on the sixth, conceding a win to Mrs. Grossman after she had hit trees and gone in the rough. Mrs. Grossman was down with a splendid five as against the approximate seven of Miss Wright.

The Pasadenan regained her two-hole lead on the seventh with a par to Mrs. Grossman's five, and she increased the advantage to three holes with a four on the eighth, as against Mrs. Grossman's six. The ninth and tenth were halved.

Mrs. Grossman won the eleventh with a beautiful three, chipping her approach dead to the pin. The twelfth was halved in five and Miss Wright won the thirteenth with a five to Mrs. Grossman's six.

Miss Wright was then four up and five to go. She brought the match to a finish on the fourteenth when she holed a long putt for a two as against Mrs. Grossman's three.

Summary of finals:

Miss Kathleen Wright defeated Mrs. Harry Grossman, 5 and 4.

Mrs. T. H. Pike defeated Miss Ann Webster, default.

Mrs. A. C. Callan defeated Mrs. F. S. Hardin, 20 holes.

Pacific Coast and Southern Conference Grid Stars Returning Today for 1926 Sea

DOWN TO GRIND ON WEDNESDAY

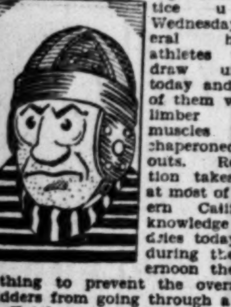
Card Athletes to Get Two Workouts Daily

Watch Exendine in First Year at Oxy

BY BRAVEN DYER



Although all Pacific Coast and Southern California Conference football teams are prevented from starting official practice until Wednesday, several hundred athletes will draw uniforms today and scores of them will unlimber their muscles in unchaperoned workouts. Registration takes place at most of Southern California's knowledge foundries today and during the afternoon there is nothing to prevent the overzealous gridders from going through a bit of unofficial practice. It will be day after tomorrow, however, before anything like concentrated drill takes place, the coaches resuming active command at that time.

California has the jump on her Pacific Coast rivals, most of the Bruin regulars having benefited by some two weeks of interclass games. None of the letter men are allowed to take part in these contests, but many of them serve as advisory coaches and as a result are in pretty fair physical condition when the opening bell sounds.

Stanford's students do not register until October 1, but "Pop" Warner wastes no time after the 15th inst., for with the first day of official practice the Cards are in for two hours of work in the morning and another dose in the afternoon. In this way "Pop" has his athletes with him almost every hour for the first two weeks of every season.

In the Southern California Conference many of the coaches are anxiously awaiting completion of registration in order to be sure that all of the returning veterans are actually in the fold. Frequently some chap falls by the wayside during the summer months and his coach sometimes doesn't receive the jolt until registration days are over. The mentors react in varying emotions to such catastrophes, some muttering that "We won't miss him at all, he was a big bum," while others moan that "The team is shot to pieces."

With the exception of Redlands all of the Southern Conference institutions are to be blessed with a flock of returning letter men. Most of the teams will start off with as many as ten veterans, while Whittier, Occidental and La Verne have more than a dozen each.

Considerable attention will be focussed on A. A. Exendine at Occidental. The former Washington State mentor has as seasoned material as any of his rivals. Just how long it will take these men to become used to his system is another matter. It is possible that he would prefer green men in such a case, figuring it easier to instill his own style of play into such material rather than persuading his veterans to forget what they used to do for Coach Nichols and Coach Pipal before him.

Bill Spaulding will also be closely watched. He did exceptionally well last year and Grizzly fans are certain the showing was no flash in the pan. Spaulding has more men to draw from than any other mentor and being a big-time coach will probably continue to turn out teams as good if not better than last year's outfit.

Monks Divide Double-header With Seattle

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12. (AP)—The Missions and Seattle broke even in the double-header here today, and also split the series, each team winning four games. The Missions won the morning game, 8 to 2, while Seattle won in the afternoon, 5 to 3.

The morning contest was a free-hitting affair. Charley Eckert, hurling for the Missions, was given a terrific hammering by Seattle, but the visitors had a hard time scoring. In the sixth they bunched six hits yet scored only one run.

Miljus pitched the winning game for Seattle in the afternoon. The scores:

PIRATES TAKE DOUBLE-HEADER

ninth netted the visitors four runs to put the game safely away.

Aldridge twirled steadily until the last frame when he blew up and left the game with the bases full and two out. Bush went to his rescue and retired Pinch-Hitter Terry for the final out.

In the second game Meadows pitched perfect ball for six and two thirds innings, when Frisch beat out an infield tap. New York's lone run was the result of Meusel's triple and Tyson's single in the eighth. Pittsburgh totaled thirteen hits off Greenfield while Meadows yielded only five.

Paul Waner of the Pirates was the batting star of the day with five safeties good for fourteen bases, two of which were home runs. He drove in two runs in each game.

The Giants announced the purchase of Chick Thompson, second baseman of the Buffalo International League Club. The price was not states. The scores:

Browns Split Bargain Bill With Lowly Red Sox

CLEVELAND, Sept. 12. (AP)—Cleveland made it three straight today, winning, 14 to 4, from Washington in a game played in the mud, pelted by rain and finished in semidarkness. Washington played erratically in the field, while Marberry, starting pitcher, was hit very hard. Levsen was fairly effective throughout and was brilliantly supported.

Speaker and Burns had perfect days at bat, Speaker having a single, two doubles and a triple, while Burns had two singles and two doubles, his sixty-second and sixty-third, respectively, of the season. The score

PLAYS FOR SQUASH TITLE TODAY

In Finals at Hollywood Athletic Club

Bill Holman

DAN JONES won the right to meet Bill Holman yesterday when he won two straight games over Dick Hinckley, the national senior squash champion, in the semifinals of the annual squash championship of the Hollywood Athletic Club, by the scores of 21-14, 21-7. Holman and Dan Jones meet today at noon for the club squash championship.

Tomorrow at 12:30 p.m. more than 100 squash players from all parts of the country start play in the first round of the national A.A.U. junior squash tournament at the Hollywood Athletic Club. Bob Howard, athletic coach, requests all entries to report to him in the locker rooms.

Among those entered are teams from the Birmingham Athletic Club, the Dallas Athletic Club, the Los Angeles Athletic Club, the University Club, the Denver Athletic Club, the Jonathan Club, the University of California and many other leading athletic clubs and colleges.

The outstanding favorite in the coming tournament is Jones of the Hollywood Athletic Club. If Jones is in shape he will go through the tournament without much trouble. Holman, Leslie Klawater, Bert Hartwell, Kent Redwine, Sandy Wilson and Frank Borzage also look good.

STARS ANNEX TWIN BILL

Straw Hats and Cushions Fly as Hollywooders Nab Series and Two Games, 7 to 4 and 10 to 3

their runs came over in the second when Camilli doubled, Taylor sacrificed, Smirch singled, and Kunz doubled. Hollywood got one of those runs back in the fifth on a walk to Zoellers, batting for Murphey, Gooch's single, and Shur's wild throw to first for an attempted double-play, but the Seals immediately increased their margin to two runs by scoring again in the sixth when Averill tripled and romped home on Camilli's sacrifice fly to O'Doul.

THE BIG PARADE

Then came, not the dawn, but the showery sixth. Les Sheehan opened the round with a home-run drive over the left-field wall and Johnny Frederick followed with a hit to right. Coumbe's out advanced Frederick to second and Vitt walked. John Peters drove a single to center, scoring Frederick with the tying run and putting Vitt on third. The Hollywood catcher reached second on Johnson's heave past Mulligan. Oliver Mitchell then relieved Kunz and forced Strategian Vitt to shift his plans. Hank Hulvey had been announced as pinch-hitter, but when Nick Williams sent in the southpaw Vitt retaliated with a right-hand hitter, Leslie, for Hulvey. Leslie lifted a dinky fly over short that fell just out of Averill's reach and allowed both Vitt and Peters to score. Johnson scooped up the ball and got off a throw to the plate in an effort to nip Peters, but the ball hit the Hollywood backstop as he was sliding home and bounded to the stands allowing Leslie to continue to third. Gooch sizzled one past Mitchell's whiskers for a single to center, Leslie scoring. Suhr kicked Lee's roller and all hands were safe. O'Doul's infield out advanced the runners to second and third and Sheehan was purposely passed, filling the sacks. At this juncture Johnny Frederick doubled to right center, scoring Gooch and Lee. Suhr relayed the ball badly, the pellet bounding to the stands once more to allow Sheehan to count. Smirch ran the ball down and then tossed to the plate, which was surrounded by Seals, who were evidently off duty, for they allowed the errant pill to bound down the field-base line, Frederick scoring to leave the bases empty. Then came the straw hats and cushions.

After that it matters not what happened, so let us turn to the first contest. Hank Hulvey started hurling against Bob Geary and both of them failed to finish. However, Hulvey didn't leave until the eighth and retired with a large enough lead to give him the victory.

The Stars got to Geary for three runs in the fourth when Coumbe and Peters singled and Kerr and and Hulvey doubled.

Frank Brower lifted one of Hulvey's slants into the bleachers to give the Seals a run in the fifth. Averill followed the circuit swat with a double, but Hank settled down and prevented any more scoring.

RAP GEARY TO COVER

Geary was rapped to the showers in the sixth when two more Stars flickered over the plate. Johnny Kerr rammed one over the left-field bricks to bring in the first run, and Peters and Hulvey followed with singles. Gooch flied to Johnson, but Lee singled over short to send Peters home. Moudy then relieved Geary and walked O'Doul, but Sheehan forced Lefty at second to end the round.

Johnny Kerr was forced from the game in the San Francisco seventh when a hot bounder from Brower's bat bounded up and hit him in the head, knocking him out for a moment. Gooch was shifted over to second and Oscar Vitt went in at third.

GET LAST TWO RUNS

The Stars got their last two runs in the seventh to practically ice the contest. Singles by Frederick and Hulvey, with an error by Baker, a walk, and Peters's sacrifice fly sandwiched in between, did the damage.

The Seals, after being held to three hits in seven innings, landed on Hulvey in the eighth, five hits and a walk producing three runs and driving Hank to cover. Dick McCabe relieved Hulvey and pitched to one batter to retire the side. Scores:

CHANDLER EGAN GOLF CHAMPION

Portland Star Carries Off State Crown

McHugh Beaten in Finals at Del Monte

San Francisco Youth Loses in 3-and-1 Tilt

yards from the rough, over two lofty trees and caught the thirteenth green, twenty feet from the cup. Egan sliced his drive badly but the remarkable recovery shot temporarily dazed McHugh, who from a perfect lie in the center of the fairway, pitched to the fair edge of the green—made a weak attempt with his approach putt and rimmed the cup with his six-foot try for a par 4. Egan laid his approach putt dead and won the hole with a 4.

PAGES TURNED BACK

Harold Thompson of the Oakmont Club, defeated Egan in the State championship here last year, and while it doesn't seem right that the greatest stylish of the past quarter-century should remember at such an inopportune time, but Thompson defeated Egan by winning twelve and thirteen during the afternoon round—and in exactly the same manner that McHugh won twelve and should have won thirteen.

McHugh missed a long putt for a birdie four and a win on fourteen and practically lost the match when he approached over the green, after a mediocre second, going to fifteen. Egan duplicated his yesterday's tee shot into the trees going to fifteen, made a beautiful out, but then approached short of the green. McHugh pulled his iron and was to the left of the green on his second. He chipped thirty feet past the pin and was forced to claim a halve with a five when Egan laid a long approach putt dead.

Egan's greatest strategy came after his tee shot hooked into the rough going to sixteen. McHugh carried 250 yards down the center of the fairway. Egan, 180 yards from the green—with an open shot but from a very poor lie, chipped out into the center of the fairway and then laid his approach dead for a par four. The shot did not help McHugh's approach which barely carried the green and his weak attempt for a birdie fell short. Egan, faced with the task of defeating a man who has scored under par consistently, deliberately reposed all faith in his mashie niblick and the perfect shot to the well-played green broke the fighting spirit of even the battling Johnnie McHugh.

STRAIN TELLS

The strain told on the seventeenth tee for after Egan carried the tricky green, McHugh laid two balls into the ocean and after half topping his third shot, conceded the hole and match to one of the greatest players national golf has ever known.

Egan's perfect gam this morning resulted in seventeen pars, and a seven-inch stymie robbed him of his eighteenth par on the fourth hole. McHugh required 76 strokes this morning and would have finished with about the same number in the final round this afternoon. Egan started golfing for his first California amateur championship by winning the first hole this morning with a par 4 when McHugh, slightly nervous, fumbled his putt for a halve. Egan continued driving for every hole, never forgetting the safety factory, but, faced with the task of heading one of the finest youths in the West, the great Pacific Northwest stylist lost no opportunity to pick up shots.

YOUNGSTERS SURPRISED

The super drive of the old master started and McHugh squared the match with a wonderful birdie 3 on the difficult eighth hole and when the dust had settled after the twelfth hole, a very much surprised youngster was trailing, by halving the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth, the greatest stylist of all time by four holes. Johnnie rallied with dropped birdies to win the next two holes, sinking long putts on both the par 4 sixteenth and the par 3 seventeenth.

Unruffled by the sensational play of McHugh, Egan laid a beautiful tee shot, 250 yards down the center of the fairway coming home, dropped his 220-yard brassie, with the semblance of ease that characterizes his play, twenty yards short of the green, then watched his chop approach stop fifteen feet from the cup and was down in two for a par 5, to win the hole, when McHugh missed a difficult try for a halve. Winning the eighteenth hole this morning gave Egan a three-point advantage, but the eighteen holes that followed this afternoon will long be remembered by the gallery, numbering thousands of persons, who folowed and applauded the championship efforts of the stellar contestants.

McHUGH WINS HOLE

Egan slipped up to a six coming to one this afternoon and McHugh, who also played the hole badly, won with a 5, 1 over par. Egan came right back with a birdie 4 to win the long second hole and was again three up. They halved the third in even figures, but Egan ran down a long putt for a birdie 3 and a win on 4.

Egan lofted his first ball out of bounds playing to the famous Canary Cottage fifth hole and McHugh, after carrying the green, won the hole with a par 3. McHugh threatened to drive through to the lead when his short approach hit the cup and dropped dead in a long try for an eagle 3 on six. He won the hole with a birdie 4.

McHugh played a beautiful shot that carried the treacherous eighth green, after halving the short seventh with a three, and Egan was short and below the green. Egan laid one of his famous approach shots dead and Johnnie again rimmed hte cup in his try for a birdie. The hole was halved and both played perfect 4s on the ninth. McHugh was out in 36 and Egan in 37.

TRIES FOR PLAY

Both slipped one over with 5's on ten and Egan's second to the eleventh green offered him a fourteen-foot putt for a birdie three. McHugh ran down a nice second putt to halve the hole when Egan's try stopped within inches of the cup.

McHugh tried fearlessly for the flag on the 200-yard twelfth hole and his ball barely trickled off the green. Egan was short and also off the putting surface but approached to within five feet of the cup. McHugh half missed his up-hill approach, but ran down a sweet ten-foot put to win the hole when Egan missed his second putt.

McHugh laced out a screaming tee shot that carried 250 yards down the center of the thirteenth fairway and Egan sliced nearly out of bounds into the rough, leaving himself 200 yards from the green and stymied by several trees. He carried to within fifteen feet of the cup and the sensational rcovery really won the championship for McHugh carried to the upper edge of the green and then missed two putts. Egan won the hole with a par-4.

TUFTS PRAISES VICTOR

Every hole halved carried him that much closer to the championship and the two up lead going to sixteen was more than McHugh could fathom.

The greatest shot of the match, the short chip to the fairway, and the confidence in his 120 mashie niblick won the praise of Uncle Eddie Tufts, Capt. A. Bullock-Webster, Dr. Paul Hunter and other seasoned champions and lofted Chandler Egan to a plane just about three strokes from the lofty pedestal tenanted by George Von Elm, the greatest amateur the West Coast has even known.

Egan's victory today was a fitting climax to his California invasion and he won his first local State title on the eve of the national amateur classic, the same event he won for the first time twenty-two years ago—and over the same course a fine field will start contesting over tomorrow—at Baltusrol.

MITCHELL TAKES BRIEF WORKOUT

Pinkey Mitchell, world's junior welterweight champion, who defends his title here against Mushy Callahan at the Vernon arena on the 21st inst., took a light workout at the home of some relatives yesterday afternoon. Billy Mitchell, brother of the champion, is due to arrive in a few days. Meanwhile, Fred Suddy is in charge of Mitchell's training preparations.

Solons Divide Two Games With Portland Ducks

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 12. (AP)—After dropping the morning tilt in Stockton, 13 to 6, Sacramento came back before a small crowd on the home field in the afternoon to win a thirteen-inning classic, 3 to 2 from Portland.

Mangum, of the Beavers and Kallio of Sacramento, engaged in a pitching duel in the afternoon game, each going the distance and yielding only nine hits. Both pitched shutout ball after the third inning. Two scratch singles and a drive into right-field by Monroe ended the long tussle. The scores:

BOBBY JONES DEFENDS TITLE

drawn by his rivals from the defeat of Bobby, however, in the British amateur championship. After an overwhelming victory against the title-holder, Robert Harris, the smiling Georgian fell before the assault of young Arthur Jamieson of Glasgow.

No more threatening field ever gathered to challenge a title-holder than that which will be sent away tomorrow on the difficult layout.

Of the veterans, Francis Ouimet, Jerry Guilford, Max Marston, Chick Evans and George Von Elm will draw chief interest of the gallery, but there also will be strong opposition from Eustace Storey, well-known English amateur.

Watts Gunn, Jones's bosom friend from Atlanta, who reached the finals last year; Dick Jones of Westchester Hills, who reached the semifinal; Roland McKenzie of Washington, D. C., the qualifying medalist; Lester Bolstad, the public links champion; Frank Dolp, new western title-holder, and Densmore Shute of Huntington, W. Va., are among the younger stars expected to be heard from.

Dempsey Will Wind Up Training for Championship Bout Behind Locked Gates

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

Twenty thousand dollars for three fights in the Middle West is the story of Fidel La Barba's six weeks' sojourn in the Middle West. The little flyweight king, Los Angeles' only world's champion, battled Emil Paluso, Happy Atherton and Paul Milner while he was away. In the parlance of the fight game the bouts with the last two named gents were just ordinary shots. The one with Paluso in Chicago drew the big dough, the gate amounting to $48,000, according to George Blake, the demon manager of the champion, who returned with him Saturday.

George says that while Fidel knocked Paluso down a couple of times he had a harder battle with him than when they met at Vernon earlier in the year. Atherton was boxed at Loyola College, South Bend, Ind., and Milner at Peoria, Ill. Both places have small fight clubs. La Barba won all three bouts by a good margin. An interesting point about Milner is that he has met Newsboy Brown three times, Blake says. The record is said to be a victory apiece and one draw.

Blake brought back the news that Spug Meyers, who did a lot of fighting at Hollywood last year, is quite a card in Chicago. Aagainst Russe Le Roy, who was knocked out here by Mushy Callahan, Spug played to a gate of $47,000 while Blake and La Barba were in Chicago.

Rain or shine La Barba declares positively that he will enter college next fall and that whatever amplification he makes of his wad by fighting will have to be made between now and next September, when he intends to matriculate at Stanford.

From Lonnie Austin in Seattle we hear that Dode Bercot's re-entry into the game of fisticuffs, from which he retired a year ago because of a liver complaint, is turning out great. Recently he fought another draw with his ancient enemy, Ted Krache, and declares he is fighting better than ever, weighs 147 pounds and looks as he did two years ago except that he is cleverer.

But the kick of his stable, Austin declares, is a new boy by the name of Walter Cleghorn, an Alaskan Indian weighing 155 pounds. "I don't believe I ever saw a man as fast with his hands," Austin writes. "He hits in good form, is game and has that Indian cat style."

Boxing wasn't quite as fat in the month of August this year as in 1925, judging from the official report sent out by Walter Yarwood, secretary of the State Athletic Commission of California. The receipts in August, 1925, were $15,005.36 as compared to $10,576.81 the same month this year. This probably is due to the fact that there were no outdoor shows staged here or in the North. Last year we had the La Barba-Genaro championship scrap at Ascot in August to help pad the receipts.

Wayne "Big" Munn is to have the fraternal aid of former mates at Nebraska when he tangles with Ed "Strangler" Lewis at Vernon tomorrow night. Hugh Harlan, president of the Sigma Nu Association in Southern California, says he helped to paddle Munn into the fraternity and he and a whole section of Sigmas will be on deck to cheer him on against Lewis tomorrow night. They are to banquet Big Munn at the Hollywood Athletic Club Wednesday night, win, lose or draw. That's how much they think of him.

COMMERCIALS BEST

The Commercial Club won its ninth straight game yesterday, defeating the A. H. Bayer nine by a score of 7 to 3. OSAKA (Japan) Sept. 12. (AP)—Japan defeated Hawaii in an international track meet here yesterday, but the Hawaiian relay race team ran 400 meters in 41 1-2s., within 2-5s. of the world's record set in 1924 by an American team running in France.

TOO MANY WRENCHES AND TOO MANY BREAKS IN GRID SPORT FOR BIG MUNN; STAYS MATMAN

WAYNE MUNN

Wayne "Big" Munn would rather be a wrestler than a football player. The former giant center for the University of Nebraska has had several offers from professional football teams in this city to join them, but he has turned them all down and will stick to the mat game.

Munn meets Ed "Strangler" Lewis in the two-hour main event of John De Palma's wrestling show at Vernon Tuesday evening.

LACKS COIN

"Too many broken bones and not enough money," is the way Munn looks at the grid racket. "I have played it for years and I never came out of a game unless I was injured in some way. I expect to be the world's heavyweight wrestling champion again, and a man needs all of his bones to win the title. A dislocated shoulder or a broken leg would put me out of the wrestling game for life."

Lewis and Munn will wind up their training Monday afternoon.

The "Strangler" has been working at Garden Grove, just outside of Santa Ana and he was pronounced in perfect condition yesterday by his manager, Billy Sandow.

"Ed doesn't need another day's work," was Sandow's comment after looking the big fellow over yesterday. "He is ready to take on Stecher right at this minute if the match were ready for him. He will scale a few pounds lighter in the championship match, but he is just right now."

Lewis doesn't expect a picnic with Munn.

MUNN HEAVIEST

He wants to beat the giant in fast time, but he will have to ramble to accomplish the feat. Munn will outweigh Ed by something like fifty pounds when they meet, and that is an advantage Lewis will have to overcome.

The semi-wind-up between Mike Romano and "Toots" Mondt is attracting the attention of the fans who like good fast work.

Mike is certain that he can take "Toots" in a one-hour match and they will be trying from the first gong. Mondt has been working steadily for the bout here in town while Romano has done his training in the country.

John Evko and Hans Bauer meet in the first preliminary.

Many Seek to Join in Sport Conservation

All of last week saw a heavy demand for membership in the recently organized Citizens' Fish and Game Conservation Committee, a body of men that is earnestly working without pay to again place Southern California to the front as a place to have good fishing and hunting.

As an example of just what the conservation committee is doing and has done, just a few months ago, Baldwin Lake, which is near Big Bear, was planted with the favorite food of canvasbacks, bluebills and redheads, the diving species of ducks.

At the present time Baldwin Lake is covered with sagos ponds, wild celery and wild potatoes and with such a variety of food, ducks will stay there longer each season.

Memberships in the conservation committee are to be had at any of the local sporting-goods stores. The minimum fee is $1, good until September 30, 1927.

POPE STARS IN RIFLE CLASSIC

Premier Marksman Wins Leg on Reed Trophy

Shooter Also Victorious in Verbeck Event

Maj. Goddard is Winner in Crossman Match

Lester A. Pope, late of the crack California civilian rifle team, with a dozen other rifle shooting parties, spent a pleasant day at the range of the Los Angeles Rifle Club yesterday, but so far as the results were concerned the rest of the gang might as well have gone to the beach. Pope cleaned up the Verbeck rapid-fire match, the first leg on the L. F. Reed small-bore match, and the medal match. It is not known how he came to overlook the Crossman small-bore match, which went to Maj. C. H. Goddard, a visitor from New York, with 92, the highest score yet recorded on this 200-yard small-bore shoot.

The feature of the day, outside of the Hungarian picnic down in the park below the range, was the return of W. D. Murphy of Pasadena, president of the outfit, after a year in the East.

Pope, who mopped up so thoroughly, won a rapid-fire match with the army rifle, a slow-fire match in three positions and then a small-bore match with the .22 rifle, showing that the great ex-member of the California team is a real pinch-hitter with any sort of rifle.

GREENBAY PACKERS WALLOP RIVAL GRIDS

GREENBAY (Wis.) Sept. 12.—The Greenbay Packers opened the pro football season here today by walloping the Iron Mountain (Mich.) eleven, 79 to 0. The Wolverines never made a first down. The Badgers uncorked a slashing attack that ripped the Mountaineers' line to shreds.

Enright, the former Notre Dame star, made his debut with the Packers and went good.

Cecily Cunha Hangs Up New Swim Record

NEWPORT BEACH, Sept. 12. (AP)—Cecily Cunha of Santa Monica shattered the Pacific Coast record for the 440-yard free-style swim here today in the Pacific Coast outdoor swimming championships. She made the distance in 6m. 38.2s., bettering by 3.8s. the mark held since 1924 by Viola Hartman of Los Angeles.

The program was held in Newport Bay under the auspices of the Southern Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union. High scoring honors went to the Club Casa Del Mar of Santa Monica, whose team chalked up twenty-seven points. The San Francisco Olympic Club tallied seventeen markers to take third place. The Fleishacker Pool of San Francisco took nine points for fifth and the San Diego Rowing Club five.

MAT CARD COMPLETE FOR OLYMPIC SHOW

"Carnation Lou" Daro yesterday completed his card for the second round of the international heavyweight wrestling tournament the 22nd inst. at the Olympic Auditorium. Jimmy Londos, the "Greek Adonis" who was forced into the tournament, will meet Nick Lutze in the main match of the card. Ad Santel, the famous "Flying Dutchmen" from Oakland, will grapple with Paul Jones in the semifinal.

Hans Steinke, a late entry in the tournament, will meet Dan Koloff in the special event. The pair are two of the biggest and strongest in wrestling. Steinke stands six feet four inches tall and weighs upward of 240 pounds. Koloff makes the Fairbanks groan at 230.

Dick Daviscourt and Renato Gardini will grapple in the fourth event.

DUNDEE AND MORGAN CLASH NEXT MONTH

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. (AP)—Johnny Dundee, New York featherweight, will oppose Tod Morgan, of Seattle, Wash., for the junior lightweight championship at San Francisco October 12, Dundee's manager, Joe Jacobs announced today. The bout will go ten rounds.

The match originally was made for the 7th inst., but was put off when Dundee suffered an injury to his arm. Morgan is scheduled to oppose Carl Baune of New York in a title bout here the latter part of the month and in the event he is defeated, Dundee will meet Jimmy McLarnin, Coast boxer.

LOCAL NET STARS IN SQUASH PLAY

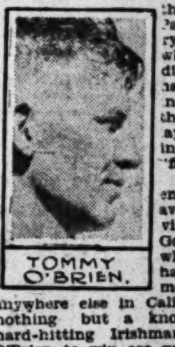
Harold Godshall, first ranking tennis player of Southern California; Jimmy Harrington, Bob Allen and Johnny Doeg, other well-known tennis stars, signed up yesterday for the National A. A. U. squash tournament to be held at the Hollywood Athletic Club, starting Tuesday noon.

Bill Tilden and A. H. Chapin, Jr., tennis stars, competed in the squash tournament held last year and the former advanced to the finals, but was defeated by Tom Gallery for the title.

GANS HAS BIG BACKING

Colored Scrapper Getting Even Break on Bets in Wednesday Bout With O'Brien at Olympic

Wednesday night's bout between Tommy O'Brien and Baby Joe Gans at the Olympic Auditorium is presenting an unusual predicament in the betting market. Along Spring street, where partiality gives way before good boxing sense, there is a lot of wagering going on at an even figure.



TOMMY O'BRIEN.

In Pasadena nothing but Gans money seems available. The colored lightweight sensation started bowling them over at the Pasadena Armory. That was where he was discovered, and half the fight-going populace of the Crown City may claim to having made the "find."

Naturally enough, Central avenue and environs are all Gans. Hollywood, where O'Brien has knocked out more men than anywhere else in California, can see nothing but a knockout for the hard-hitting Irishman. Odds on O'Brien to win are going begging in the Movie City.

O'Brien k.o'd Joe Schlocker, Teddy O'Hara, Frankie Schaeffer and Frankie Farren at the Hollywod stadium. All four boys were rated high until the dynamite right of the Irish lightweight connected with their chins. Hollywood fight fans figure O'Brien will finish the sensational climb of Gans in just as decisive fashion as he ruined the spurts of the aforementioned.

Gans and O'Brien both weighed in light yesterday. Gans is down to 137 pounds and should have little trouble making 136 by 2 o'clock in the afternoon on Wednesday. O'Brien, as fat as he ever was for a fight, will not scale at more than 135 pounds. Both men have been training for more than three weeks for the fight.

Matchmaker Joe Levy's supporting card Wednesday night should be a slambang series. Billy Adams, San Francisco sensation who has won his last eleven starts, will meet Johnny Reisler in the six-round semi-windup at 140 pounds.

Two slugging heavyweights—Jack McGreer and Eddie Barrett—are down for the special. Both are crude at boxing, but each likes to keep swinging. A knockout before six rounds are over seems certain. Two more four-rounders complete the card.

BREAKFAST CLUB BACKS JACK TO WIN

Carrying to Jack Dempsey a vote of confidence from the entire membership of the Breakfast Club, with which the world's champion is affiliated, Maurice DeMond, president of the club, left yesterday on the California Limited for training quarters in Philadelphia.

Dempsey specially invited President DeMond to be his personal guest during the days intervening before the championship battle, and the visitor will have the opportunity to observe the final preparations of the heavyweight to defend his title against Tunney, as well as to occupy a ringside seat at the fight.

THREE-FLIGHT PLAY NEARS CONCLUSION

The three-flight squash tournament will wind up Monday at the Hollywood Athletic Club. In the A flight Clarence Pye advanced to the finals in the lower bracket by winning two out of three games from Bill Rockey and meets Archie Postell in the final match of the lower bracket. The upper-bracket final game will be played Monday noon between Floyd Carleton and Hal Cooley.

In Flight B, Bill Becker meets the winner of the Holmes Herbert and Archie Head. Flight C is down to the finals. Ben Hendricks takes on Don Cass for the championship.

NOTES FROM THE HOLLYWOOD A. C.

Bill Holman's win over Leslie Klawater in the annual singles championship of the club did not surprise some of the squash fans. Holman has been playing a great game of squash and will give Dan Jones a tussle for the title.

The locker-room will resemble the Chicago stockyards, Tuesday noon, when that big mob of squash players report for the tournament.

STEVENSON ANNEXES GOLDEN GATE SWIM

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12. (AP)—Carl Stevenson, Stanford University aquatic star, won the second annual Golden Gate swim, held here today under the auspices of the San Francisco Chronicle. He negotiated the mile and one-eighth course in 33m. 21s., defeating Leo Purcell, last year's winner, in a close finish. The winner's time bettered Purcell's 1925 mark by eleven minutes.

Third and fourth places were won by teammates of Purcell, all members of the Olympic Club. Art Hargraves landed in third position and Frank Mooney in fourth place.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

VALLEY BOASTS BEAN CROP

Baby Lima Harvest is Expected to Be Largest Ever Produced in San Fernando Areas

VAN NUYS, Sept. 12.—The harvesting of the baby lima bean crop in the San Fernando Valley sections is well under way. Despite the fact that the crop was planted to less acreage than last year, the production will be greater and the quality must better.

John H. Walters, manager and secretary of the Van Nuys and Owensmouth Bean Growers' Association, stated yesterday that the total acreage is about 14,000 and the yield would be approximately 225,000 100-pound sacks.

Some growers report an average of from twenty to twenty-five sacks per acre. These figures assume bumper proportions in view of the fact that fifteen to eighteen sacks per acre is regarded a very good crop.

E. T. Lodge of Cahuenga Park states he had just finished threshing thirty acres out of a total of seventy and got twenty sacks to the acre.

Mr. Lodge says that this year's crop is the best that the valley has ever produced and that many sections would yield nearly twice that of previous years. Seventy acres of beans have been threshed on the W. J. Petit ranch with an average yield of eighteen to twenty sacks to the acre. Harvesting of the remainder of the crop from 270 acres is progressing rapidly.

A. L. Schumacher reports he has threshed sixty acres and has an average of eighteen sacks to the acre.

Reports from the H. J. Clever ranch indicate that the yield from this acreage, which is one of the largest in the valley, will be around twenty sacks to the acre.

The 700-acre field at Walnut Acre Farms, also one of the largest in the valley, is expected to produce the largest crop in the three years of its existence. Preparations to handle 15,000 sacks are being made.

The late springs rains and the warm weather have been a great aid to the growth of the plans and they have matured more rapidly as a result.

A preliminary price of $7.25 has been fixed by the association until the market becomes more stable. Inasmuch as the quality of the crop is unusually high this year and a good demand is expected in the East, this figure likely will be larger in the fall.

The market committee of the association held a meeting in Oxnard Thursday to discuss market prices and conditions.

TRAFFIC TO BE BOSSED BY PUPILS

Older Schooboys Aids to Officers Near Schools at Alhambra

ALHAMBRA, Sept. 12.—The regular police traffic squad will be aided in their duties at school crossings by a junior traffic squad, composed of older school boys, it was announced today by City Manager M. H. Irvine and Superintendent of Schools E. V. Routt.

The members of the new organization are to have special police powers and will assist in carrying out a safety program for the benefit of local pupils. They will go on duty for the first time Monday when all schools in the city open.

Police Chief Shull was emphatic today in his warning that motorists will be expected to obey the signals and the directions of the junior officers, and that all violations will be prosecuted. "Make Sure" was the slogan adopted as applicable to drivers. While the idea of the junior traffic squad is not original here, the plan will be carried out on a much more elaborate scale than in any other community, it was stated.

Under the new system, there will be two or more crossings for the pupils at each of the schools. Three boys will be assigned to each crossing. One boy will escort the children across the street while the others will direct the traffic. It is intended to install signals at the crossings later on. Each junior officer will be furnished with a police badge and a police whistle and will have authority to enforce the traffic regulations. The youths will, of course, be assisted by the regular police traffic men, who will have a general supervision of their work.

Merit badges will probably be given to the junior officers who do the best work in regulating the school traffic, according to the City Manager.

Break Ground for Church at Fontana

FONTANA, Sept. 12.—A large crowd attended the ground-breaking ceremony yesterday for the new $35,000 community church to be erected on Magnolia avenue. A. B. Miller, president of the Fontana Farms Company, turned the first shovelful of earth, Rev. Benjamin B. Knapp led in prayers and Mrs. Frank Williams and others took part in the ceremonies. The building will be concrete block and metal lath construction and will contain large Sunday-school and social rooms aside from the beautiful auditorium.

Surrounded as it is by the park and public gardens, the church will provide a material addition to the Fontana Civic Center. Across from it to the north is the Fontana Inn in its setting of gardens; to the east are the junior high and grammar schools; to the south at the other end of the park is the Woman's Club Building, where church services are now being held.

The exterior design of the church is the work of Hugh Kirk, whose Spanish buildings at Fontana have done much to give the community its present charm.

INGLEWOOD OPENS NEW PUBLIC SCHOOL

INGLEWOOD, Sept. 12. — An audience of more than 500 thronged the auditorium of the new $50,000 Oak street school last night, the occasion being the dedication of the structure.

Herman Pelphrey, president of the grammer school board, presented the building to the school children of that section of the city, and it was accepted on their behalf by George W. Crozier, superintendent of schools. The twelve teachers of the school were introduced by the principal, Mrs. Huckaby, and a large American flag was presented to the school by Melville Rhodes and Stanley Thatcher, representing the American Legion post.

MISSIONARY DROWNED

SANTA ANA, Sept. 12.—Word has just been received here of the drowning of Rev. R. G. McGill, American missionary in Egypt, well known in Orange county. Mrs. McGill was born and grew to womanhood near here and is a graduate of the Santa Ana High School. They had been engaged in missionary work in Egypt for the past twenty years. Dr. McGill, in company with Rev. J. W. Baird, another missionary, was bathing and in an attempt to rescue several others from a heavy surf, both were drowned.

SET TRIAL DATE

SANTA ANA, Sept. 12. — Paul C. Lifton, 22 years of age, charged with causing the death of his sweetheart, Miss Melva Fields, when the automobile he was said to have been driving turned over near here August 28, is to come up for trial the 21st inst. He is being held in jail here in default of $500 bail. Miss Fields was killed when she was riding with Clifton and J. W. Kennedy of Long Beach.

SHIP CITRUS TREES

SAN DIMAS, Sept. 12.—One hundred and twenty-five citrus trees from San Dimas are now on the way to San Marto, Colombia, South America, where they will be added to one of the largest groves in that country, according to a report made by the Teague Nurseries. The shipment is one of several sent to the same grove and included ten tangerines, thirty-five Valencias, thirty-five navals and forty-five grapefruit.

Determine to Issue Bonds for Airport

GLENDALE, Sept. 12.—Immediate action to carry out the plans to secure land for a municipal airport for Glendale will be taken and options on the ground considered adaptable to this purpose will be secured, it was determined last night at a meeting of the special airport committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Legal opinion secured through the City Attorney's office indicated that the city would be within its rights, as expressed in its charter provisions, in purchasing land for this purpose, as it may be regarded, City Attorney Ray L. Morrow asserted, as a municipal utility, in view of the need for landing fields in all modern municipalities.

Councilman W. F. Tower pointed out that all seaside cities are developing their harbor facilities, and he was of the opinion that an airport would be as necessary to a city's development as accommodations for ocean-borne freight. The committee will report to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, who will then present the matter to the City Council, with recommendations that a bond issue election be called to authorize the purchase of land for the proposed airport.

GIN EARLY COTTON

Kern County Sends 750 Bales to Market

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 12. (AP)—During the past week approximately 750 bales of cotton were ginned from early pickings of the 1926 crops in Kern county, according to estimates from gin managers. Eighteen gins in the county were tuned up by initial runs, and reports from the managers indicated that the harvest will not be under full headway before the 20th inst. The quality is improving as the latter tickings come into the gins, it was reported and most of the gin men expressed the opinion that the crop will be of better quality and larger output to the acre than last year.

During the latter part of the week prices ranged from 18 to 19 cents a pound, although much of the cotton that was moved out had been sold on contract, it was said.

Opening offers for cottonseed ranged from $33 to $36 a ton at various gin centers, according to H. E. Abraham, manager of the Kern County Gin at Magunden.

TO ARRAIGN EDITOR

San Diego Scribe to Appear in Federal Court

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 12.—A. E. Sauer, local newspaper editor, who was indicted Thursday by a Federal grand jury in Los Angeles on four charges that he published and sent through the mails an obscene article in his paper concerning Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, will be arraigned in Federal Court here at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, according to an announcement made last evening by Wayne Compton, who, with Curtis Hillyer, is attorney for Sauer.

Following the arraignment, Compton said, his firm will enter a demurrer to the indictment on the ground that it does not set forth an indictable offense under the Federal statutes.

TO BUILD DEPOT

CLAREMONT, Sept. 12.—Definite assurance has been given the Claremont City Council that a new $35,000 Santa Fe station will be erected at the south end of Harvard avenue in the near future, according to an announcement made following the weekly Council meeting. The Council also discussed the paving of Tenth street from Berkeley to Indian Hill Boulevard and improvement on Twelfth street from Indian Hill to College avenue.

RUTH ROLAND IN ROLE OF JOCKEY

Rides "Cedarbrook" Leading Entry at Ventura Horse Show

Ready for the Prize Ring

Roy Stewart sends famous thoroughbred to annual exhibition which opens Wednesday.

VENTURA, Sept. 12.—As three days only intervene before the gates are thrown open at the Ventura County Fair, the event of events on the county to the north, Seaside Park as the setting of the festivities to open Wednesday is assuming the importance of a metropolis in itself.

Preparations on such an elaborate scale have never before been made in the history of the annual celebration, initiated as a one-man affair sponsored by R. G. Surdam, Ventura pioneer, in 1877, and a record-breaking attendance is anticipated with thousands expected to motor from Los Angeles during the five days of festivities, which close Sunday night, the 19th inst.

The exhibits of live stock, agricultural products and craftsmanship are being carried out this year on a much larger and more diversified scale than ever before, with entries from all over the country to compete with the famed products of the county.

The program of entertainment provided visitors will be elaborate. A rodeo, with fifty outlaw mustangs collected from the vicinity of Winnemucca, Nev., specially assembled for the event, and thirty Nevada range steers for bulldogging, will be a daily feature under the supervision of Sheriff Bob Clark of Ventura county.

The National Whippet Association meet will be staged before the grand stand during the fair, with the fastest dogs of the United States in competition. Many motion-picture stars of Hollywood will have their racing canines on the track. The meet is being supervised by C. C. Perkins of Camarillo, assisted by Freeman Ford of Pasadena, president of the California Whippet Association.

Arrangements have been made for a premiere racing card, with trotting, harness and running events every day under the auspices of the Western Fair Association, with Thomas S. Clark of Ojai as chairman of the racing committee. Chariot races, with such well-known horsemen as Cuff Burrell and Jack Milrick handling the runaway steeds will conclude the racing program every day.

The Ventura County Kennel Club will hold its annual show inside the grounds, as the third annual event of the organization. John Bradshaw of Los Angeles is superintendent and Elish E. Converse of Ventura chairman of the bench show committee.

Under the supervision of W. H. Hoffman, Jr., chairman, the horse show will be a premiere display of one of the county's most famous products since early days, and will be a separate event from the judging of horses in this division of the live-stock department.

Demonstrations of fancy shooting by Capt. A. H. Hardy, pistol and rifle expert, a troupe of traveling circus clowns and other features will be staged before the grand stand every day.

An unusually elaborate and comprehensive display for the woman's pavilion has been prepared by the woman's division, under the supervision of Mrs. Joseph Powers of Oxnard. It will contain an old-fashioned colonial garden, with blooming floors transplanted full grown, as the entrance to a replica of Whittier's famous kitchen, equipped with priceless relics of earlier days.

Display will be made of every form of household art and in addition the women have prepared special entertainment of their own. Members of the D.A.R. and Colonial Dames of the county, assisted by members of the orders from Los Angeles, will appear in costume and Friday will be celebrated as children's day, with children from every community of the county presenting dances of all nations in costume.

The division of live stock, of which A. L. Hobson of Ventura is president, will feature animals from all parts of the country in the greatest exhibition ever held in Southern California. Shetland ponies from as far east as Joy, Ill., and Tamworth hogs from as far south as San Antonio, Tex., are already entered. Poultry and pet stock will be seen in quantities.

The latest models in gasoline motored equipment will be presented in the automobile and tractor show, under the supervision of John Opsal of Fillmore. A style show will be conducted under the direction of Millie Marlowe.

Every form of county fair amusement, from a merry-go-round, a ferris wheel and other giddy devices to the well-known games of skill will be provided on the midway. The fair association officials have taken special precautions to insure clean entertainment.

Inside the fair grounds seventeen acres of parking space have been provided for motorists this year, and everything is being done to facilitate handling the anticipated crowds with the least possible confusion.

BLOW AT CHAIN NEWSPAPER

Supreme Court Rules They Cannot Print Legal Advertising of Municipalities

MONROVIA, Sept. 12.—In a decision affecting scores of cities throughout the State, the California Supreme Court has held, in an unanimous opinion received here today, that no newspaper can be considered of general circulation or qualified to carry legal notices unless the entire operation of producing that newspaper is performed in the city where it is circulated.

In brief, the opinion points out that the law required a legal newspaper to be "printed and published" in the city where it circulates and the court construed these terms to mean not only the editorial work but the further operations of typesetting and presswork.

This opinion ruled on the status of the Monrovia Evening Post, a Kellogg paper, which maintains an editorial office in Monrovia but for which all mechanical work is done in the plant of the Pasadena Post. Having lost a bid on Monrovia city printing when its legality was questioned, The Post filed a petition in Superior Court to be declared a legal paper and it was granted by Judge F. C. Valentine. The petition was opposed by the Monrovia Daily News, which carried the case to the Superior Court. The reversal of the Superior Court decision resulted.

In a lenghty explanation of the decision, the court stated:

"It may have been a matter of excellent business economy to print and publish the 'Monrovia Evening Post' in conjunction with the 'Pasadena Evening Post' at its shops in Pasadena, but certainly according to the clear letter of the statute, it is neither printed nor published at Monrovia, and is, therefore, not a newspaper of general circulation within the city of Monrovia, nor qualified to print 'legal notices which are required to be published in a newspaper of general circulation within that particular city."

OTHER CITIES SHOW MUCH INTEREST

ARCADIA, Sept. 12.—Apprehensive interest has been created in official circles here by a Supreme Court decision that the Monrovia Evening Post is not a legal newspaper of general circulation because the work of printing and publishing it is actually done in the offices of the Pasadena Evening Post.

The ruling holds considerable interest here because city legal notices have been published in The Arcadia Journal, one of a chain of newspapers published by the Broxon Publishing Company of Monrovia, owners of newspapers in Monrovia, Arcadia and Azusa.

On January 6 last D. M. Rouch, editor of The Arcadia News, a locally owned and published newspaper, filed a protest as a taxpayer but the city trustees continued to use The Journal as the legal city paper.

The question now is whether or not the Supreme Court ruling will invalid any or all of the legal city notices that have been published in The Journal.

Ask Damages for Death by Electrocution

LINDSAY, Sept. 12.—Damages in the amount of $60,000 are asked from the Southern California Edison Company for the death of Edward Hagan, June 30, last, in a suit filed in the Tulare county Superior Court. Pauline Hagan, wife; Juanite Hagan, daughter, and F. I. and Sallie Hagan, parents of the deceased, have brought the suit. S. A. Brentlinger, father of Mrs. Pauline Hagan, has been apointed guardian ad litem for her small daughter. Avery J. Howe of Lindsay is attorney for the plaintiffs.

Edward Hagan was electrocuted while installing a pumping plant near Exeter, when a pipe he was lifting from the ground came in contact with a highly charged power wire. At the inquest it developed that the power company had failed to cut off the current as requested and a verdict charging the company and the deceased with negligence was returned. Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Hagan arrived here from the East recently, after the funeral of their son at his former home in Missouri.

Auto Collision Kills Child and Injures Mother

SANTA ANA, Sept. 12. (Exclusive) Robert Langor, 6 years of age, of Anaheim was killed and his mother seriously injured in a collision between an automobile driven by Mrs. Langor and a machine driven by Robert Harkcom, 1056 West Thirty-ninth street, Los Angeles, at Harding Crossing today, according to the Coroner's report.

Mrs. Langor was taken to the Anaheim Hospital. Harkcom was unhurt. An inquest into the child's death will be conducted at the Huddle Undertaking Company at Anaheim tomorrow.

Jones Confirms Estate Sale to Dick Talmadge

LONG BEACH, Sept. 12.—Dr. W. Harriman Jones, Long Beach surgeon and pioneer oil operator of Monterey county, today confirmed a report of the purchase from him by Richard Talmadge, film actor, of forty-three acres on Ventura Boulevard, just west of Universal City, for $275,000. The deal went into escrow last week at the Bank of Hollywood, he said.

The property, which is heavily wooded with oak and pecan trees, has been owned by Dr. Jones for three years. Dr. Jones said he understands Talmadge is acquiring thirty acres of adjoining property, and plans to build a palatial home on the forty-three-acre tract and to erect studio buildings on the thirty acres.

MEXICAN OFFICERS ARROGANT

Assess Heavy Fines and Confiscate Property of San Diego Fishermen

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 12 (AP)—Indignation over the action of the Mexican authorities at Ensenada in levying a fine of approximately $3000 against the captured San Diego fishing schooners Union No. 2 and North America, was expressed today by officials of the San Diego Fishermen's Association.

Fishermen were further incensed by the action of the Ensenada authorities in dumping overboard more than ten tons of fish after the crews of the Union No. 2 and North America had paid the duty on the seafood.

The two fishing boats were captured at Turtle Bay August 23 by the Mexican fisheries patrol steamer Tecate on the charge of fishing in Mexican territorial waters without a license. The Tecate towed the Union No. 2 and North America to Ensenada where charges were filed against the crews.

According to F. Buono, general manager of the San Diego Fishermen's Association, who went to Ensenada in an effort to adjust the case, the authorities at the Lower California port refused to take the matter up in the courts for more than a week after the capture. In the meantime the Mexican customs officials levied duty against the fish in the holds of the two schooners. After this money was paid the fish was condemned and ordered thrown overboard.

Before the Union No. 2 and North America finally were released the boats' owners were forced to pay heavy fines for fishing without a license, for alleged violations of customs and immigration laws, the fine aggregating about $3000 for the two vessels. In addition to the $3000 penalty the Mexicans, Buono said, confiscated the schooner's complete fishing equipment, including nets, fishing poles and lines. The nets cost $500 each.

YOUNG LIONS ROAR

DICKENS'S 'FROG TOWN' NOW BEAUTIFUL AREA

NOVELIST EVIDENTLY SAW MARION CITY JUST AFTER RIVER HAD FLOODED IT

"One of the most beautiful and productice regions in Northeast Missouri includes the locality Charles Dickens, the English author, so bitterly described as a 'hideous swamp, choked with slime and matted growths,' and which he ironically named 'Eden,' in his book 'Martin Chuzzlewitt,'" said Frank H. Sosey, president of the Northeast Missouri Press Association, and editor of the Palmyra Spectator.

"That hideous swamp, the 'American frog town,' by which Dickens meant Marion City, and the country around it are now a part of the Rinehart farm, which is the model agricultural estate of North Missouri," Mr. Sosey continued. "The Rinehart ranch is a 5000-acre tract on the Mississippi bottoms, and this year it is producing 1000 acres of wheat that will run thirty bushels to the acre, 1000 acres of corn and 250 acres of oats.

"Pity Dickens couldn't see his 'Eden' now!"

According to the way Marion county has figured it, Dickens, on a trip up the Mississippi River, caught a glimpse of William Muldrow's boom town of "Marion City" just after the flood, when things were looking pretty bad; half the town swept away, houses filled with mud, the stagnant water in the so-called streets, and the fever-stricken inhabitants standing around awaiting the undertaker.—[Kansas City Star.

A STORY ABOUT BEETHOVEN, GOETHE

Beethoven's friendship with Goethe was broken off one afternoon at the Bohemian watering place of Toplitz, when Beethoven was rude to the whole royal family of Austria, while Goethe was enacting the part of a humble courtier, it was told by A. G. Gulbransen, piano manufacturer, in an address here at a Beethoven celebration.

"Goethe and Beethoven were returning from a walk, arm in arm, when they saw the whole Imperial family approaching," said Mr. Gulbransen. "'Be a man. You are greater than any of these,' Beethoven urged Goethe. But Goethe could not be made to hear. He hastened to the side of the road and stood humbly hat in hand among the people.

"In disgust Beethoven crammed his hat over his massive head and forced himself through the crowd so that populace, princes and courtiers made way for him. The Empress bowed to Beethoven, Duke Rudolph raised his hat. Beethoven when he had walked on turned his head and smiled grimly to see Goethe doing reverence at the roadside.

"Later Beethoven rated Goethe severely. 'Kings and princes can bestow titles and decorations but they cannot make men like you and me,' said Beethoven. 'When two like us are together these fine gentlemen should be made to know the difference between ourselves and them.' Goethe told Beethoven he was uncouth and the two never met as friends again.

"Beethoven's rugged spirit is expressed in some of the greatest music ever written. Its power and thought are admirably rendered in the rolls made for the registering piano. Like other great works they do not yield all their meaning at first sight but are almost inexhaustible in their rewards for study."

associations.

The association's annual banquet will take place at the Maryland Thursday night, and the election of officers is scheduled for the following day. Dan W. Gray of San Jose is now president of the State organization.

Drag Lake to Find Bodies of Resorters

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 12. Dragging of Lake Arrowhead in an attempt to recover the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mangold, honeymoon couple of Los Angeles, who were drowned when a boat sprang a leak last Monday, continued today with R. I. Meyers, who saved himself and his wife in the accident, and L. A. Jones, a friend of Mangold, directing the work.

Meyers, who said he rowed a boat by himself two days in an effort to recover the bodies with grapple irons, dragged Mangold's body to within twenty feet of the surface Thursday and lost it again when the hooks tore Mangold's clothing, the body slipping back into the deep water.

Jones, who left Washinkton, Iowa, to aid in the attempt to recover the bodies, will also direct an investigation of the case.

Deputy Coroner Emmet Waters accompanied Jones and Meyers to the lake today.

Meyers said that the accident occurred when a boat in which he, his wife and the Mangolds were rowing, collapsed. He grabbed his wife and clung onto the overturned boat, but Mangold and his wife sank in the water. Sportsmen rescued Meyers and his wife.

Because of the low temperature of the water bodies in the lake do not come to the surface.

Shipments are expected to start within a week or ten days, standardization regulations as adopted last year will be followed mainly, but other tests will be made, concerning which recommendations will be sent to the State Department of Agriculture, these to be written into the law after the first of the year.

Among those signing were: Rosecrest Fruit Exchange, Terrabella Pomegranate Association, Strathmore Fresh Fruit Association, W. S. Merwin, Merryman Fruit, Land and Lumber Company, and the Lindsay Farm Bureau Pomegranate Association.

RECEIVE CHARTER FOR NEW NATIONAL BANK

HUNTINGTON PARK, Sept. 12.—Directors of the new City National Bank of Huntington Park announce that they have received their charter from the Comptroller of Currency at Washington, D. C., and that they have now made arrangements for temporary quarters, securing the building at the northeast corner of Pacific Boulevard and Clarendon street, the building being formerly occupied by the Bank of America branch. They announce that the new bank will have two opening days—October 8 and 9.

A lot has recently been purchased in the 200 block on South Pacific Boulevard, and the old building has been razed, preparatory to the erection of a new bank building which, it is expected, will be completed within the next six or eight months. When finished this building will be the permanent home of the new bank.

REDONDO BEACH, Sept. 12.—The Board of City Trustees has authorized the operation of slot machines in Redondo over the protests of the Parent-Teacher Association, and representatives of the different churches. The ordinance prohibiting the use of the machines was passed some twenty years ago and was not signed, so is not valid. The license was fixed at $50.

There was silence for a moment when one of his bright young companions spoke up.

MANY WATCHING DEEP TEST

Arroyo Grande Well Going to 4500-Foot Depth Setting New Record for Locality

ARROYO GRANDE, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—The test well for the Arroyo Grande Petroleum Company, Inc., at the northeast edge of town, is drilling at 3905 feet, after a good water shut-off. Formation of mixed black shale caves a little and some under-reaming has to be done, otherwise the work progresses satisfactorily. Blue shale has been encountered, with some black and mixed shales, also several strata of limestone, the most encouraging feature being the presence of normal brown shale in the last five feet.

With the exception of the Barneberg well at the head of Arroyo Grande Canyon, ten miles north of the town of Arroyo Grande and a test drilled some years ago, the Arroyo Grande Petroleum well is the deepest of any test ever drilled between the Santa Maria field and the north line of San Luis Obispo county, therefore has considerable interest for the oil trade.

The test will be carried down to 4500 feet if mechanical troubles do not prevent. Cable tools are used.

In August the California Corporation Commission appraised the 1400 acres of leases and equipment of the Arroyo Grande Petroleum Company, Inc., at $1,400,000.

The officers are M. Van Wormer, a well-known attorney of San Luis Obispo, president; D. Adams, secretary and manager; F. W. Leis, San Francisco, and E. B. De Golia, San Francisco, extensively interested in mines, lumber and hotels, and only recently identified with the oil corporation.

The Barneberg Oil Company's test drilling at the head of Arroyo Grande Canyon in the area generally known as Tar Springs, or Tar Canyon, because of many seepages, is now trying to sidetrack casing, cable tools having replaced the rotary. Depth is between 4400 and 4500 feet, no showings of commercial character having been reported. The Barnebergs and the Carpenters of San Luis Obispo are doing the work, which has been delayed by mechanical troubles and refractory formations.

Hovey Hills Oil Property Sale Stirs Interest

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 12.—With but three new oil wells spudded in within the boundaries of Kern county during the last week, interest in the petroleum industry here has centered in the announcement that Tom A. Blair and associates have sold to Bakersfield men the Hovey Hills property known as the Vivian B and the Northern Oil Company property on Maricopa Flats for $1,000,000. Interest is centered on who the Bakersfield men may be, but until the documents have been recorded, Mr. Blair prefers to keep the names a secret. The property produces about 800 barrels a day from nineteen wells and it is said that considerable new development work is being planned under the new regime.

The General Petroleum Corporation has begun to drill its No. 1 well on Sec. 14, 28-27, in the Kern River field. In the Temblor district, L. E. Westrich has spudded in his No. 3 on Sec. 19, 29-21, and the Standard Oil Company has begun to put down its No. 5 in the Midway on Sec. 3, 32-24.

On Sec. 20, 27-28, south of the Shell discovery well, in the Poso district the Barnsdall and Modoc Oil companies will begin a joint test of oil values on or before the 21st inst. The two concerns will drill their wells on the southwest quarter of the section. The Barnsdall also has a well on Sec. 28, 27-27, which is to be deepened immediately. Fair oil showings were encountered, but the real yield is expected deeper.

LORRAINE MINING ACTIVITY INCREASES

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Activity in the mines of the Lorraine district is increasing considerably, according to reports just received from miners of that territory. The Zenda Mining Company has been making extensive improvements on its property by overhauling the machinery and getting the mill in condition while awaiting transformers from Los Angeles which were sent there for complete overhaul. It is the intention of the company to begin work as soon as the equipment is properly placed and good prospects have been announced by the miners.

WELL AT PETALUMA GOOD FOR 20 BARRELS

PETALUMA, Sept. 12. (Exclusive) According to field reports, the Shell company, drilling at about 2500 feet northeast of Petaluma, found enough oil to make a fair pumper. Local people pumped twenty barrels of heavy oil a day for forty-five days from a 1000-foot well four miles from Petaluma, but mechanical troubles prevented steady operation, it is reported. Presumably the Shell company's showing came from the same shallow sand.

ELECTRIC POWER TO RUN MINE

Kennedy Company Last at Jackson to Discard Steam Plant

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Last of the great Mother Lode gold producers to discard steam for electric power, the Kennedy Mining Company has installed a 750-horsepower motor for operation of its powerful mine equipment at Jackson. Wood is becoming too scarce for profitable firing, and sufficient coal is not available. The management reports excellent ore continues to develop blow the 4500-foot vertical workings, with the outlook favorable for many years of profitable operations.

Vigorous development of the Old Eureka mine, at Sutter Creek, is being pressed by the Central Eureka Company with some good ore reported showing. The Central Eureka is the third deepest mine on the Mother Lode, and the Old Eureka ranks among the famous of the pioneer producers. It is believed to contain extensions of the Central Eureka vein-system.

Sinking of the deep shaft and winzes at the North Star mine, near Grass Valley, has made such rapid progress that the management expects to have the work finished and connections established with the old workings by November 1. Completion of the project will open the old producer to an approximate incline depth of 8000 feet from surface. The management states strong veins of profitable ore have been exposed in the winzes and shaft.

EIFFEL TOWER USED AS BILLBOARD

Reports from Paris are not entirely confined to the fall of governments and the hatred felt for visiting Americans. It is stated that the inhabitants of that city, as well as visitors from other parts of France, are growing more and more displeased because the famous Eiffel Tower has for some time been used not only as a great elevator to carry men and women to dizzy heights from which they may survey the city below, but as a great advertising board. It was said that when the maker of the famous small French automobile secured permission to string electric lights from top to bottom of the high structure he paid a price entirely in keeping with the startling publicity for his car which resulted. Every night the name of the automobile flashed with thousands of bulbs, but those who went up in the elevators to the top of the structure were even more amazed as to how the wires and the lights were strung in dizzy and frail altitudes.

Now, if the reports are correct, the people of Paris have wearied of the novelty of the flashing lights of the great advertisement on the tower and want them taken down and the high monument of steel left unblemished by such garishness. Also, it is said, there is no little opposition to the use of the tower as a great radio station.

Concerning the beauty of the Eiffel Tower, there may be a decided difference of opinion. But it is one of the best-known structures in the world. It is hardly correct to class the Washington Monument at our capital along with it, but it is hardly unreasonable to suggest the feeling that would arise and lack not of expression if some big automobile concern in this country secured the privilege of stringing its name in millions of electric lights down its sides.—[Hartford Courant.

No Wonder She Was Shocked

Two men were recently engaged in repairs to the wires on a telegraph pole just outside the house of a suburban clergyman. One day something went wrong, and the clergyman's wife was horrified to hear a torrent of abuse flowing outside of her window. She immediately sat down and wrote a letter to the authorities complaining of the dreadful language used by their workmen. The authorities asked the men for an explanation, and Harry, after deep reflection, enlightened them.

"Me and Bill," he wrote, "was on this job. The other day I happened to spill some hot lead on Bill, and it ran down his neck, and he looked up and said, 'Harry, I must reely ask you to be more careful.' "—[Exchange.

GOLD AREA RUSH UNABATED

Extension of Old-Time Bonanza Mine in Hawthorne Region of Nevada Sought by Many

RENO (Nev.) Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Prospectors and mining men are continuing to rush into the lofty elevations of Mt. Grant in the Hawthorne region southwest of Walker Lake, in hopes of locating extensions of the Sutch Creek mine.

This old-time bonanza, guarded over thirty years from the whites by the Shoshone Indians, was recently revealed to relatives by an aged squaw. Specimens of rich ore have been brought into Hawthorne and Yerington, and hundreds of claims have been located near the scene of the discovery.

The property is said to have been worked more than forty years ago by Mexicans, who were killed by the Indians. The property lies at an approximate elevation of 11,300 feet, and has been sought by many prospectors in the past thirty years. The vein is about two feet wide and shows considerable free gold.

Alto Divide Company reports shipments from its Cherry Star mine, at Cherry Creek, are averaging 100 tons monthly, with the product sampling around $80 a ton. The long lower tunnel is expected to cut the downward extension of the vein-system within thirty to sixty days. Stringers of free-gold ore continue to show in the holdings at South Gilbert, with the drift apparently close to an important vein. The management states work will start immediately on the claims recently acquired at Quartz Mountain.

Extensive mining of filter clays by the Associated, Standard and other large California oil companies is proceeding at Ash Meadows, near Death Valley Junction, with a large number of Indians employed. The redmen are receiving $5.50 daily, and neighboring ranches are complaining of a local shortage. The clays are shipped to Los Angeles.

Argentum Mining Company has enlarged its extensive holdings at Quartz Mountain by purchase of the Myrtle group of nine claims. The company is composed of Los Angeles, San Francisco and Nevada capitalists, and reports ore is showing in the vertical shaft at an approximate depth of eighty feet. On the Myrtle group a four-foot vein of good ore shows near surface.

NEW MEXICAN WILDCAT FLOWS

Report Skelly Test Doing 125 Barrels Daily

Best Well in Southeastern Section of State

Tulsa Producer Adds Sixth in Unproven Area

ARTESIA (N. M.) Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Flowing at the rate of 125 barrels daily, the Skelly Oil Company's No. 1 wildcat on the Buelah Lynch Permit, in Sec. 22, 17-31, appears to be the best producer yet completed in Southeastern New Mexico. The well is located five miles west of the Maljamar's producer.

After encountering several good showings of both oil and gas, the Skelly well drilled into a sandy lime and shale at 3470 feet. With the bit four feet into the pay, the hole filled immediately and in four hours' time started to flow by heads every thirty minutes. A control head has been installed and production turned into the tanks. No effort will be made to drill deeper, according to officials of the company, until pipe-line facilities have been assured.

SIXTH WILDCAT PRODUCES

The Skelly well is drilled on a government permit in a block consisting of Secs. 11, 14, 15, 21, 22, 23, 26, 27, 28, 33, 34 and 35, all in Twp. 17, Range 31-E. This is the sixth producer to be brought in during the past eight months by this company, on six wildcat blocks scattered throughout the country.

West of the Skelly producer, the No. 1 well of Wooley-Jones of Los Angeles, being drilled on the Beeson Permit in the southeast quarter of Sec. 33, 17-30, is attracting considerable attention. The well is now in a hard gray lime and additional production is looked for around 3150 feet.

One of the best sands yet found this area was picked up in the Wooley test at 2960 feet.

CLOSE PIPE-LINE DEAL

Another test drilling in the lime is the No. 1 of Bruce Sullivan, in the southeast quarter of Sec. 1, 18-31, who drilled out of the salt at 2040 feet. Another test will be drilled on the caprock, a location having been made in the northeast quarter of Sec. 25, 19-35, by the Exploration Company of San Angelo, Tex.

North of the Artesia pool, a small well has been made of the Decum Development Company's No. 1 on the Vandagriff Permit in Sec. 5, 17-28, which bridged following a shot in a sand at 2250 feet.

A pipe-line deal, according to Superintendent M. E. Balsh of the Maljamar Oil and Gas Corporation, has been consummated between that company and the Illinois Pipe Line Company, which is a subsidiary of the Ohio Oil Company. This line will run from the Artesia to the Maljamar pool, a 5-cent pipe-line charge to be made.

ESTIMATE FUND FOR WILDCATS

Texas Engineer Fixes Sum for Oil Search in 1926 at $200,000,000

AUSTIN (Tex.) Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—It is estimated that more than $200,000,000 will be spent in drilling wildcat oil wells in Texas this year. This exploration campaign is not confined to any particular part of Texas. Activities in drilling test wells are especially widespread in the northwestern counties, and extending south for 300 miles from the Texas-Oklahoma line. Burt C. Blanton of Dallas, consulting engineer, has just compiled figures showing various facts connected with the oil industry in Texas.

"There were 6430 wells drilled in Texas during the calendar year 1925, which number represented an aggregate cost of approximately $174,054,600," Mr. Blanton said. "And of this number about 33.7 per cent, or 2162, were dry holes, representing a total cost of approximately $56,079,500.

"This huge sum expended on dry holes during 1925 was not a dead loss, for, due to salvaging operations, a saving of approximately $7,216,885, or 12.8 per cent, was realized. However, the net loss due to dry holes during the year was $48,862,615, being equivalent to about $9.77 per capita."

Original Vein in Kay Copper Mine Improves

Continued improvement at the Kay copper mine, fifty miles north of Phoenix, Ariz., is indicated by the last weekly report of General Manager T. S. Davey, received at the local offices Saturday. On the 150-foot level, the west or original ore body has been proved over a total length of 200 feet, with last-average assays of 8.4 per cent copper, and $2.50 gold and silver a ton. A crosscut to the hanging wall of the shoot just back from the present face showed a width of sixteen feet, while for 105 feet the width has been established at fourteen feet, and average values at 7.3 per cent copper, with usual gold and silver values.

On the same level the east ore body has been proved over a distance of 135 feet, with a full face of ore persisting in the south drift, evidently of far greater width than the opening and carrying average values of 6.5 per cent copper and usual precious-metals values.

The main rise from the 1200-foot level is being continued upward from the 800-foot level to a connection with the 600-foot level of the old workings and levels No. 800 and 1000, off the rise, are being carried northerly to the orebody. It is expected that the 800-foot level will have to be pushed forward about 150 feet and the 1000-foot level possibly 300 feet.

NOTES OF THE OIL TRADE

GULF COAST AGENCY

In August Roy L. McCollum became manager of the Emsco branch at Houston, Tex. McCollum, a California University graduate, was reared at Coalinga, where he became manager for the Capt. John F. Lucey supply business sixteen years ago. He was sent to Rumania as European manager of the Lucey Manufacturing Corporation business, remaining until the Germans captured the oil fields. Until recently Mr. McCollum has been with the Union Tool Company and allied interests, at Chicago and New York, having during his business career visited every oil-producing area of the earth.

BUSINESS AND PLEASURE

W. R. (Dick) Guiberson, chief executive of the Guiberson Corporation, Los Angeles headquarters, is in the Rocky Mountain region for a month of combined business and recreation, having met General Manager Hazeltine of Dallas, Tex., at Casper, Wyo., in consultation. Both gentlemen will try their fishing luck in the northern trout streams before returning home.

GOLDEN TROUT AND STEEL

Asked about the state of trade, particularly tubular goods, Cliff Lord, sales manager for Buck & Stoddard, said he had just returned from a golden trout research in the High Sierras and had to check up before engaging in serious trade conversation. Buck & Stoddard headquarters are now at 3354 East Slauson, having recently been moved from the Petroleum Securities Building. The firm is distributor for Pittsburgh Steel Products Company and is emphasizing seamless pipe, having acquired a proprietary interest in an Eastern mill that turns out 10,000 tons monthly.

SEAMLESS TUBULAR GOODS

The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, Youngstown, O., with a Los Angles branch, is installing equipment for the rolling of seamless tubular goods and is about ready to begin distribution, it is reported in trade circles. The National Tube Company, Pittsburgh, following the trend toward seamless casing and tubing in the oil industry, has begun distributing its products. The Standard Pipe Company was one of the first concerns in the United States to manufacture seamless pipe, but with limited capacity.

PUSHING FALL BUSINESS

J. M. Regan, active head of the Regan Forge and Engineering Company, Los Angeles Harbor, is personally superintending manufacturing and distribution work. During the spring and early summer months Mr. Regan visited Midcontinent, Gulf Coast and Eastern oil field centers and established branch sales and distrubuting agencies, then, with his family, he spent same weeks in northern areas for recreation, returning to Los Angeles about September 1. Regan products are being more widely distributed than ever.

STURDY STEVE'S PLANS

The D. & B. Pump and Supply Company is assembling and shipping to Bakersfield an exhibit of company products for the inspection of San Joaquin Valley oil operators who will visit the Bakersfield fair, the 14th to 18th inst. H. E. Cassidy, advertising and "wrinkle" manager for the company, designed the display and will personally preside at Bakersfield, he being the managing editor of Sturdy Steve, who tickles the fancies of oil operators and their lease employees.

TWO QUIET VISITORS

Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard of New Jersey, and William S. Farrish, president of the American Petroleum Institute and of the Humble Oil and Refining Company, Houston, Tex., spent a week in Los Angeles and vicinity and scarcely anybody knew they were in California. Mr. Farrish visited an uncle, Col. Fowler, who spent many years in the Gulf Coast oil fields and now lives in Los Angeles.

BEACH DRILLERS FIND HARD LUCK

Geologists Opine Edge of Structure Encountered

Three wells drilled within the city limits of Manhattan Beach, and a fourth, drilled two miles directly east of the beach city, have picked up oil sand, but in every case water has prevented the wells being placed on production. The water condition in every one of the wells, the operators believe, is due to the fact that the wells are on the edge of the structure. This would make it appear that there is no justice in the world when four operators could pick out four widely separate locations and in each one get an edge well.

The Julian Petroleum Corporation's Hellman Trust No. 1, located south of Marine avenue and east of Camino Real, inside the city limits, is the last to be finished. This well, drilled to a depth of approximately 5700 feet, picked up oil sand and shale at 5303 feet and between that depth and the bottom of the hole picked up about 300 feet of oil formation, 20 per cent of which is said to have been oil sand, but mixed with it was a generous amount of water sand.

TOO MUCH WATER

A mile south of the Julian well, H. A. Bardeen is endeavoring to stop a flood of water to give the 100 feet of oil formation in the well between 3850 and 4000 feet a chance to produce. Up to date he has been unsuccessful. One thousand feet west of his well George W. Johnson drilled a well to the depth of 5315 feet, and reports that he had 1500 feet of oil sand and shale in the bottom of the hole, but also had too much water sand mixed with it. He has abandoned the well and dismantled the rig.

Two miles east of the Bardeen well the Winwell Oil Company drilled to nearly 5600 feet and after more than a year of experimenting has apparently abandoned its attempt to get production from ninety feet of oil sand said to be in the bottom of the hole. The several attempts to get the well to produce showed that there was oil in the hole, but at no time has it been possible to shut the water off entirely.

GEOLOGISTS' VIEWS

The geologists who have studied conditions in this territory advance the belief that the Julian well and the Winwell are on the same structure and that both are on the edge. The Julian geologists believe that by going south from their well in Manhattan Beach they can get production, and it is reported that the corporation will drill a second well in about sixty days. George W. Johnson believes that by going south from his well into the eastern section of Hermosa Beach that he can locate a structure. The top oil sand hit in the Johnson and Bardeen wells was not found in the Julian well. This fact is largely responsible for the belief that the wells are on separate and possibly parallel structures.

Smith brothers are drilling a mile north of the Winwell Oil Company's well and believe that their well will reach the structure which their geology shows runs in their direction, rather than toward the Julian well. The Smith well is north of Rosecrans avenue and a quarter of a mile east of the Inglewood-Redondo Boulevard. It is down 3800 feet.

Colusa County Shallow Well Fair as Pumper

WILLIAMS, Sept. 12. (Exclusive) Brown & Cockrill of Williams, Colusa county, who have completed a shallow well near here, report that the well pumps from five to fifteen barrels a day. The depth is 720 feet and the gravity of the crude is unusually high. Cretaceous formations prevail in the areas of Colusa and Humboldt counties, that series furnishing paraffin-base oil.

The Amalgamated Oil Company's well at Wilbur Springs is estimated to be good for fifteen to twenty-five barrels of high-gravity at a depth of 2840 feet. The Amalgamated company has been operating in that district six years, having abandoned one hole.

Wyoming and Colorado interests are drilling about fifteen miles from Williams, at Sites. The third hole is now about 3800 feet deep, having pipe trouble, but no showings of oil or gas have yet been found. Gas and oil seepages are common in Colusa and Humboldt counties, indicating shallow sands, and the paraffin-base oil is an incentive to drill.

EIGHT COMPLETIONS

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Completions for the week in Webb, Duval and Jim Hogg counties were three gassers, adding 110,000,000 cubic feet of gas and five oil wells with flush productions of 1150 barrels.

LEGAL DOUBT ON OIL LAND LEASE

Regent of Texas University Raises Question

Says Terms Are in Violation of Constitution

Action to Set Aside Grants and Recover Looms

AUSTIN (Tex.) Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—It is held by Judge S. C. Paddleford of Fort Worth, a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, that the lease or rental of land owned by that institution for oil-exploitation purposes is in violation of the Constitution. Upon representations the board has submitted the question to the Attorney-General's department for investigation with the possible view of having suit instituted against the Big Lake Oil Company and the Texon Oil and Land Company for an accounting and recovery of a big share of the money which they have obtained from the sale of oil produced from lands of the university in Reagan county.

The total value of the oil already produced by these two companies is approximately $35,000,000, of which the university has received in royalties one-eighth under the terms of the lease contracts.

Judge Paddleford points out that the provision of the Constitution setting aside 2,080,000 acres of land as an endowment of the university, says that this land "shall be sold under such regulations at such time and on such terms as may be provided by law." There is no provision made for the lease of the oil or other mineral rights, according to Judge Paddleford.

The fact that the land was leased at an annual rental of only 10 cents an acre and that only one-eighth of the oil produced comes to the university, is causing an agitation for the adoption of some legal means by which that institution shall receive a more equitable division of the great wealth that is coming from its lands.

If the existing lease contracts are found invalid, the university may go into the oil-producing business on its own account, it is stated.

FIELD EXTENDED

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—M. J. Bashara's No. 1 well, swabbing 500 barrels daily, has extended the Randado field in Jim Hogg county, fully a quarter a mile to the north, and is one of the best wells of the field.

OIL FIGHT STIRS INTEREST

Wife Seeks to Annul Assignment of Permit in Poso Creek Field as Signature Is Lacking

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 12.—Seeking annulment on an assignment of an oil permit on the grounds that the assignment did not bear the signature of the wife, a suit has been filed in the County Clerk's office by Harriet Dale, wife of R. J. Dale, against H. J. Leutholtz, Albert Hayes and the Barnsdall Oil Company for the purpose of securing an annulment of an assignment of an oil permit made by R. J. Dale to Leutholtz and Hayes.

The annulment of the assignment is sought on the ground that the assignment embraced community real property and was not executed by the wife. The law of California requires that all transfers of the community real property are void unless executed by the husband and wife jointly; and Mrs. Dale asserts that Leutholtz knew at all times that she was the wife of R. J. Dale, but neglected to obtain her signature to the assignment.

The records disclose that Leutholtz and Hayes subsequently made an assignment to the Barnsdall Oil Company and that the Barnsdall Oil Company has commenced drilling operations on the land. Paul F. Garber, counsel for plaintiff, stated that the plaintiff had no inclination to take any advantage of the oil company.

This action is attracting considerable interest because of its being one of the first cases in California involving the question of validity of the husband's conveyance of community real property and by reason of the fact that it will have direct bearing upon many assignments of oil permits made by various persons throughout the county.

The property involved is in the new Poso field.

SOUTHLAND'S OIL EQUIPMENT BEST

Midcontinent Field "Sold" on California Machinery

Pumps Cited as Example of Superior Products

Midcontinent oil fields are becoming almost as good a market for the products of Los Angeles oil-tool manufacturers as are the California fields, a survey of the oil-well supply business discloses. A. M. Strong, president of the Pacific Oil Tool Company of this city, who has just returned from a tour of the midcontinent fields, reports that the demand for oil-well equipment made in Los Angeles is increasing steadily. As one result of his trip, Mr. Strong's company is establishing a branch in Tulsa, Okla., a branch in Houston, Tex., having been established several weeks ago.

"The necessity which California operators have been under in pumping wells from extreme depths has led California pump manufacturers to excel in this feature of oil-well production equipment," says Mr. Strong. "As a matter of fact, pumping equipment developed to meet California needs will operate more effectually in midcontinent fields than in the fields for which it was designed.

"The fields of Tonkawa, Wawoka, Garber and Covington are examples of this condition. The formation from which wells in those fields get their oil is much harder than are the producing formations of most California fields. It is frequently necessary to shoot a well to make it flow, a procedure almost unheard of in California, where our oil zones are generally bodies of sand.

"The consequence of this condition is that we can pump a well in any of these fields to the limit, while in our own fields we have to be careful not to pump a well too hard, because of its liability to sand up. One result of this is a heavy demand for California pumps and this demand is just about taxing our capacity. For instance, a single operator in the Tonkawa and Wawoka fields is using sixteen of our hydraulic-pump units and dozens of others are using this pump in groups of two or three units or more."

During his trip Mr. Strong visited the fields of Wyoming, Colorado, Montana and those across the Canadian line near Calgary.

Oil Flotation Mill at Iron Dyke Treating 100 Tons of Ore Daily

The Iron Dyke oil flotation milling plant of the Idaho Copper Company, in Northern Idaho, is now in regular commission, treating 100 tons of ore daily, according to O. H. Griggs of Los Angeles, president, just returned from a visit of inspection to company domain. There is said to be an abundance of good quality of milling ore blocked out and available in the mine workings, and this is being added to by deepening the main working shaft 200 feet below its present depth of 742 feet.

Of great importance to the life of the mine, however, and its future productiveness, Mr. Griggs states, is the exploratory work being done from the bottom of the shaft by means of diamond drilling methods. The drills, sent out at angles ranging from 5 to 50 deg., have already proven up a new lense of ore said to be forty-two feet in width.

At the company's South Peacock mine, according to Mr. Griggs, a fine body of 20 per cent copper-bearing ore has been opened up through the avenue of a twenty-four-foot upraise. It will take some time, however, to prove up the tonnage and commercial value of this new discovery.

The new fifteen-mile truck road to the company's Red Ledge mine from Homestead, Or., should be completed by January 1, when work will begin in the driving of the 6000-foot tunnel in the development of this unit of company holdings. A power line is being arranged for, and a hydroelectric plant will be used in tunnel work, and in operation of the big milling plant to be constructed upon the completion of the hunnel.

BIG FISH FIGHT

John Gault of Kittanning, Pa., one of the old-timers who come every year to Rose Point Hotel, the fishermen's headquarters near Parry Sound, Ontario, had the experience of witnessing a battle which is probably unique in the annals of fishing, says the Toronto Globe in a recent issue.

While trolling for muskallonge in Five Mile Bay, near the hotel, his Indian guide, Adam King, noticed a great commotion on the surface, and on rowing to the spot saw a mammoth "muskie" and a lake trout in deadly combat. As the boat came alongside an attempt was made to gaff the lunge, but he quickly retired, leaving the trout almost helpless and literally cut to pieces.

The trout, a nine-pounder, was lifted into the boat and brought to the hotel, where it was the center of interest. Gault says the lunge was the largest he had ever seen and estimated its weight at fifty pounds.

COPPAGE TALKS OF ORIENT

California Petroleum Sales Director and Wife Back from Journey Covering 40,000 Miles

Travel through certain districts of China, which are thickly infested with marauding bands of Chinese soldier-bandits, is not particularly pleasant or enticing, according to C. L. Coppage, vice-president and director of sales of the California Petroleum Corporation, who, accompanied by Mrs. Coppage, returned yesterday from a four months' cruise to the Far East.

Mr. Coppage narrowly missed being held up and robbed by a pilfering band of ex-soldiers who had deserted their revolutionary leader in order to make a living by robbing passengers on trains around Peking.

Leaving Los Angeles early in May, the Coppages covered 40,000 miles, visiting New Zealand, Australia, Java, Sumatra, the Malay States, Manila, China and Japan. Mr. Coppage made the trip to look after the interests of the "Calpet" corporation, which is a large exporter of petroleum products. He was particularly impressed with the rapid growth of New Zealand and Australia, which, he says, are exceptionally fine markets for Pacific Coast exporters. He was surprised to find a subway being built at Sidney and to note the rapid development of the fruit-growing industry in the Antipodes.

As an oil man, he was greatly interested also to find the American-type of "drive-in" gasoline service station flourishing in the larger cities of New Zealand and Australia and in Manila. Additional gasoline service stations are being constructed rapidly, as the number of automobiles increase. In Manila especially, he found that complete service-station units, as pretentious and attractive as their American prototypes, are being erected on corners where traffic is heaviest. These stations are the best evidence of the rapidity with which the "flivver" is conquering the Far East.

Larger Mill of Four Aces Mine to Operate Soon

The new three and a half mile truck road and highway for the past two months under construction between Forest Hill and the Four Aces mine in Placer county, was practically completed the first of the month, and the company is now engaged in hauling in its new machinery equipment, increasing the capacity of its present milling plant, and the modernized reduction works should be in regular commission within the next few weeks, treating the considerable tonnage of high-grade mill ore blocked out and available in the main workings of the mine.

Included in other improvements made in order to facilitate economic mine and mill operation, the company has added electric power to its equipment, and an air line has been run from the main workings of the mine to cross-cut tunnel No. 2, where new development work is in progress, using compressed air in the operation of the drills.

No. 2 cross-cut tunnel, it is stated, was driven a distance of seventy-five feet through the slate hanging wall of the vein, exposing six feet of quartz carrying galena ore in which native gold was visible. Following this quartz-galena ore a distance of gave way to regular gold-bearing fifteen feet, the galena, it is reported, quartz.

PERMITS GIVEN 2218 TO BUY MEXICAN LAND

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—During the twelve months ending with July of this year, the Department of Foreign Relations issued to foreigners 2218 permits to acquire real property or property rights within the national territory under the provisions of Article XXVII of the Federal Constitution. The largest number of permits granted to the nationals of any one country, were given to Spanish subjects who wished to acquire rural or urban properties. Citizens of the United States predominated in the acquisition of mining properties and were second only to the Spanish in the acquisition of concessions in general covered by the law. Practically all countries were included in the list of permits.

MINING MILLIONAIRE SUCCUMBS IN MEXICO

EL PASO (Tex.) Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—John Joseph Watterson, English mining man who made more than $1,000,000 from his mining ventures in the State of Chihuahua, died recently in Chihuahua City, friends here were notified. Watterson was 87 years old at the time of his death and had been operating in Mexico for more than fifty years. He was a refugee in El Paso from 1911 to 1915 during the revolutions. He bought and sold a number of silver and lead mines and acquired a fortune. He made $500,000 on the sale of one of his mining properties prior to the revolutions.

"Well," said the secretary, "I would suggest that you join another club where the card room is on the ground floor."—[Exchange.

La Trinidad Progressing on Work of Opening Up Idaho Diggings

La Trinidad Mining Company, owning a large tract of rich gold placer ground in Elmore county, Idaho, will construct a quarter-mile extension to its mile of flume and sluice boxes on Black Warrior Creek. The management has cleared away the surface of the gravel banks at point of initial operation, and has removed standing timber, in order to insure successful results when the hydraulic giants are turned loose in gold recovery operations; and, with no unforseen delays to interfere, it is expected regular sluicing operations should begin at an early date.

It is reported that the new county truck road and highway from Atlanta to the company's gold diggings is practically completed for a distance of four and a half miles, and with the completion of a few culverts and bridges will be ready for heavy traffic. La Trinidad is now using the road as far as practically completed, and has established a depot at its terminal nearest to the mine. The county will let another contract for the further extension of the road, in the construction of which La Trinidad company will join, having already built four miles of road on its own extensive domain.

R. T. Leonards of Los Angeles, a heavy stockholder in La Trinidad, returning from a prolonged stay at the diggings, reports conditions favorable for an early beginning of regular gold recovery upon a large scale. He also states that the building of the county road from Atlanta to Black Warrior Creek will have a stimulating effect upon the mining industry of that section, and that when completed quartz mining operators will use it extensively in taking in heavy machinery to be used in mining operations.

ENGLISH WRITER PITIES NEW YORK GIRLS

ALL MANHATTAN YOUNG WOMEN ARE CALLED "GOLD DIGGERS"

You may see them any day on Broadway with the briefest of skirts and as gay a disregard for the responsibilities of life as if their high heels were winged.

Their job may be anything—mannequin, chorus girl or even stenographer—but primarily they are light-hearted "gold diggers," writes Barbara Morley Harder in the New Statesman, London.

Like their famous sister in the much discussed book "Gentlemen Prefer Blonds," the writer says, their ambitions might be interpreted by the romantic definition: "Kissing your hand may make you feel very, very good, but a diamond and sapphire bracelet lasts forever."

They might be called the "movie girls," these modern products of American materialism, brought up from an early age in the racket of Broadway and the false sensationalism of the movie and dance club. Consciously or unconsciously, they are imitating their favorite film stars. The glamour of the film is the biggest element in their lives.

Broadway has produced in them one of the worst results of modern American progress, these precociously painted little girls, who sacrifice their youth and loveliness on such an unworthy altar.

But they need no pity. The hardening process began years ago, for they demand independence at an early age; and in their short, sophisticated lives they are as happy as it is possible to be, with dancing feet, a jazz band and a bevy of "boy friends" to do their slightest bidding.

Life must be just one long jazz band to these little adventuresses: they must get "a kick out of it" and, like their prototype in the book, romance is only measured in frocks and diamonds.

You may see the Broadway girl at any cheap soda fountain—her silk-clad serpentine legs twisted about the high stool, her fuzz of wavy hair under a scarlet hat with a glittering ornament—she is probably dressed in the shortest of chiffons and there is a vivid patch of rouge on her cheeks.

Her lips leave a crimson stain as she removes the straws from her mouth to smile at the soda man. Her hands are not too clean but exaggeratedly manicured and she lears her arms confidingly on the marble counter. "Say, boy," she drawls, "quit kiddin'; don' you put that over on me—mean to say you've not seen that new film? Gloria Swanson sure does get away with the vamp stuff—she'd make Cleopatra look like little Eva tellin' bedtime stories."

These girls have no youth—at 15 or 16 they have all the tricks of make-up and sophisticated ways of 25. In a recent sensational case in New York where the State tried to prevent an elderly wealthy man from marrying a girl of 15, she seemed to be the more self-possessed and practical of the two.

So the Broadway girl dances through life, sometimes in the chorus, or one of the cheap little dress shops, and, in or out of a job, lucky or unlucky, she turns a smiling face to days that are not always gilt and ice cream. All is grist that comes to her mill, and there is no vice in her entire make-up, only faults of the terrible atmosphere of sensation in which she has been brought up and a too-eager hand reaching out for the good things of life.

Time is short for those little moths round the glitter of Broadway, slaves to the hectic excitement of the moment. You see the older women, too, trying to imitate the younger, with nothing left but the exploitation of their youth till the last vestige has gone.

Every city has evolved this type of girl, but it is in New York you see her by the thousand, because it is here that sensation and excitement have reached their furthest limit—here the pendulum of change has swung forward with startling speed, and there is a profound contempt for everything that quelled our fathers and mothers into frightened obedience.

So they jazz past the old conventions and barriers, for life is a la carte on Broadway. — [Kansas City Star.

HAPPY HUSBANDS IN GREAT BRITAIN

It would seem that the surest way to married happiness is to enter Parliament and become Prime Minister! There must be something in politics that binds the hearts of statesmen and their wives closely together.

Disraeli said of his wife: "I owe to that lady all, I think, that I ever accomplished; she has supported me by her counsel and consoled me by the sweetness of her disposition." And she always referred to Disraeli as the "king of men."

The intense devotion of Mr. Gladstone to his wife is well known. Lord Salisbury was another Prime Minister who was super-happily married. He wrote: "I count it the greatest blessing of a fortunate life that I have had my wife to share, to gladden and to glorify it."

Lord Palmerston was another Prime Minister passionately devoted to his wife. A contemporary friend records that "he praised her daily, without stint."

The devotion of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd George is known to all, and the same can be said of the present Prime Minister and his wife. It is the rarest occurrence for a British M.P. to figure in the divorce court. —[Vancouver Province.

MISS EDITH COONS, Secretary-Treasurer, one of the original organizers of California-Rand Silver, Inc.

W. H. COONS, Vice President, mining and banking.

M. M. HOLMAN, Director, attorney for corporation.

Foreword

Seven years ago, in 1919, Mr. John W. Kelly and associates began the development of that famous dividend-payer, the California-Rand Silver Mine. Admittedly this company is today the outstanding silver mining accomplishment in the Southwest. It has produced nearly $17,000,000 gross and to date has paid 77 dividends to stockholders.

Early in 1925, Mr. Kelly and associates began developing the Ophir Lead-Silver Mine. Its record to date justifies our belief that in the Ophir lies another opportunity for discriminating investors to join in a real mining enterprise.

Location

The Ophir Mine lies in the State Range Mining District of Inyo County, California, and the property consists of 14 contiguous lode mining claims and a mill site of approximately 300 acres.

Development

The necessary provision for mine development has been made and capital stock is being sold for the purpose of increasing the production and for the erection of the necessary concentrating plant to handle 100 tons of milling ore daily.

Production

Under the present management more than $200,000 worth of ore has been shipped to the American Smelting & Refining Company during the past year and half.

Management

It is well known that mines are never greater than their managements. Quoting from a letter of Mr. J. H. Mara, Assistant Secretary of the Engineers Exploration Corporation:

"We feel that in our development of the Ophir Mine we have been fortunate in having Mr. John M. Fox, General Manager, in charge of all our engineering and development work since we acquired the property.

"We consider Mr. Fox's ability as a mining engineer, and especially as a practical mine operator, of the highest order, and his splendid results at the Ophir stand out as a real achievement in mining."

Investment

We believe that shares of the Engineers' Exploration Company, owners and operators of the Ophir Mine, hold every promise of ranking in production and dividends with the predecessor success of Mr. Kelly and associates—the California-Rand Silver, Inc., and has possibilities of developing into one of the great lead-silver mines in the West.

We offer the unsold portion of 200,000 shares of the capital stock of this corporation at par, $1 per share. We base the worth of our offer jointly on the tangible records of the Ophir as a proved producing and shipping lead-silver mine and on the sterling reputation and success of the company's management and officers.

The Ophir Mine

The following letter from President Kelly speaks for itself. Read it carefully—make up your mind how many shares you want and get your order to our office forthwith.

September 3rd, 1926.

R. H. Durst & Company,
Financial Center Building,
Los Angeles, California.

Gentlemen:

At the time the strike was made on the California-Rand Silver Mine, I and four associates who controlled the property, between us advanced the sum of $2,000.00 with which to begin development work. This was in 1919. We then formed a syndicate and divided the same into 64 interests. Under this plan we began development work and at no subsequent time was it necessary for us to advance additional money, as the property paid its own way from the very start.

We subsequently formed the California-Rand Silver, Inc., and issued 20,000 shares of stock, par $1.00 per share, for each 1-64th interest in the syndicate, or a total of 1,280,000 shares. During the seven years that have elapsed approximately $60,000.00 has been paid in cash dividends on each 1-64th interest. I personally owned 16-64th interest and while I did not hold the same intact, had I done so I would have received in cash dividends to date the sum of approximately $960,000.00. Miss Edith Coons, who originally owned 8-64's, on the same basis would have received $480,000 in cash dividends, and, of course, we both received a stock interest in the company worth a very large fortune. My proportion of the original $2,000.00 was $500.00, and Miss Coons' investment was $250.00. Therefore you can readily see that the investment of a few hundred dollars in the California-Rand Silver Mine at its inception grew into a large fortune from the dividends received and the stock interests in the corporation.

Mr. J. M. Fox, who has had charge of all our operations at the Ophir Mine for the past 18 months, was Superintendent in charge of operations at the California-Rand for about two years, and it was during this time that the best development work was accomplished and the biggest returns were made to stockholders. We shipped one car of ore to the smelter for which we received more than $90,000.00 in net proceeds.

The Ophir has been developed to a point where I believe it will prove to be another great mine, with the possibility of ranking with the Kelly-Rand as a producer and dividend-payer. I base this opinion upon the results we have already accomplished, the present showings of ore bodies in the lower workings, and a reserve of milling ore valued at approximately $1,000,000.00, as well as the favorable opinion that has been expressed by mining engineers of repute, who have inspected the property.

Until very recently, we had no intention or desire to make a public offering of stock, but inasmuch as the original group who began development work on the property with me were not all financially able to advance their proportion of the money needed for immediate development for quantity production, we decided, as you know, that the fair way to treat everyone interested would be to offer for public subscription stock that would give us sufficient money to carry out our plans.

You have Mr. Fox's estimate of net earnings once we have our mill in operation so that we can treat our milling ore as well as continuing the shipment of highgrade to the smelter, and this estimate shows a minimum return of 60% per annum on the entire capital of the company, from milling returns alone.

I have been interested in mining as a prospector, mine operator and executive manager of various mining corporations during the past 35 years, and I do not hesitate to state that in all of my experience in the mining business, I have never had more confidence in any mining property, including the California-Rand Silver, than I have today in the future of the Ophir mine. I shall be glad to welcome and encourage my friends and acquaintances to become stockholders in the Engineers' Exploration Corporation, as I believe that such an investment will earn for them very handsome profits.

Yours very truly
J W Kelly

Rarely indeed is such a splendid opportunity offered and we earnestly urge immediate action, for, in our opinion, the limited amount of stock will be quickly oversubscribed. Immediately thereafter application will be made for listing on the Los Angeles Exchange, and we have no hesitancy in predicting substantially higher prices—and quickly.

Call or write—but in any event act promptly

THEY'RE OFF

In our one-column appeal a week ago, we pointed to the sensational run in Western Apex Mining Company Stock from 25c to over $1.00 as merely the forerunner of a general mining stock advance.

We told our readers that every indication pointed to numerous other stocks repeating in a measure the recent market history of Western Apex.

As this is written with only three days of market records before us, here's what has happened:

Booth Mines has advanced from 51c, the price current about a week ago, to 72c. San Rafael has gone from 50c to 60c. Argentum, from 18c to 24c. Mexican, from 48c to 62c. Simon Silver, from 16c to 28c. Apex, from 7c to 15c. Sierra Nevada, from 50c to $1.00.

Numerous other mining stocks on the Los Angeles and San Francisco Stock Exchanges have likewise registered advances on market turnovers amounting to hundreds of thousands of shares.

Many years have elapsed since such genuine interest has been manifested in mining stocks and now that we are apparently at the very beginning of a great upward swing in mining share prices, it seems only good business judgment for those who can afford the speculation to buy moderately of the better class of such stocks.

Some of the shares already mentioned are probably destined for considerably higher quotations. Advances of one hundred, two hundred, and even five hundred per cent over present prices are easily possible in an active market like this one.

We shall be glad to give our advice to those who are interested. Our offices are closely connected by almost instantaneous wires with the San Francisco and Los Angeles Stock Exchanges, and we solicit a share of your business in the belief that you will have no cause to regret any purchases made in the mining stock market during the next few weeks.

There are two or three stocks which we believe are likely to make market history almost at once.

Shall we send you particulars?

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analyses will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of an ounce or so in weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

Kentucky Ochre

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Question: This ore found in Carter county, Kentucky, fourteen miles southeast of Vanceburg, Ky. T.

Answer: The samples are botryoidal and stalactitic limonite (hydrous yellow iron peroxide;) in part pseudomorphous calcite and pyrite. Mineral represented by the samples should make good grades of pigment known as yellow ochre, and brown iron ore.

Free Gold Trace

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—Q.: Samples found in San Gabriel Canyon. Please analyze them for gold, silver, copper and lead. Z.

A.: The seven thumb specimens run high in lime carbonate and are stained with limonite. They react for blue and green copper carbonates (azurite, and malachite, respectively,) in very low percentage. Lead traces. No native silver, and for other gold and silver values please consult assayers.

Zinc Traces

VICTORVILLE, Aug. 22.—Q.: This brown and greenish rock, when panned, yields a greenish concentrate. I would like to know very much what it is, and if of any value. It comes from the Cajon Pass. J.

A.: The specimen carries yellow and greenish epidote with massive garnet, iron-magnesium silicate, iron oxides, zinc, and calcite traces.

Flour Gold Traces

PEANUT, Aug. 22.—Q.: I am inclosing five samples of ore and shall be pleased for you to test them for contents. S.

A.: The United States Postal Guide gives your town as located in Trinity county, California. Sample No. 1 carries quartz and limonite with microscopic traces of flour gold. No. 2 is base-metal ore reacting for some cobalt (erythrite) and other arsenical-iron matter; flour gold traces. No. 3 is on the order of No. 2; it carries no gold; slight zinc reaction; arsenic, and copperas (ferrous sulphate) present. No. 4 is practically like No. 3. No. 5 is a very much altered quartzitic rock; limonite (hydrous iron peroxide) found with a little jarosite (potash copperas,) but the jarosite is not the valuable lead variety carrying platinum as found near Goodsprings, Nev. Manganese found in low percentage.

Kramer Hills Ore

ADELANTO, Aug. 23.—Q.: This ore is from Kramer Hills, Silver Glance mining district, and I request a qualitative analysis of the same. L.

A.: The samples are of conglomerate and brecciated matter. Quartz, aluminum silicate, empty vuggs pseudomorphous after pyrite, arsenopyrite, traces of zinc-lead, limonite, hematite, and iron silicate (rosin rock of the mining boys in the hills,) all more or less found. No mineralogical silver in any sample, and for other gold-silver values please consult assayers.

Gypsum and Gypsite

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 23.—Q.: Samples herewith come from pockets of about half a bushel. An analysis will be appreciated. This is from a depth of about forty feet down a shaft located twenty-two miles from Adelanto, San Bernardino county. S.

A.: The samples are impure sulphate of lime and a mixture of crystallized gypsum of microscopic size, with clay and gypsum known as gypsite. The specimens represent mineral of probable commercial value as a fertilizer or dressing for lands, grasses, etc.

Sand

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24.—Q.: Please analyze the black sand for mineral contents. Mrs. A. M. H.

A.: The sand carried 72 per cent magnetite (magnetic iron,) with quartz, garnet traces, ilmenite (titaniferous iron,) and mica. Native gold and flake platinum both absent. Calcite traces.

Free Gold Absent

CLAREMONT, Aug. 25.—Q.: Please tell me what kind of minerals are represented by the samples numbered 1, 2 and 3. G. W. S.

A.: The seven whitish samples are mixtures of dolomite (magnesia carbonate) and calcite (lime carbonate.) The twelve grayish specimens carry hornblende schist with some pyroxene, and the two remaining samples are altered serpentine. With the samples is a tin box containing sand and rock fragments representing no commercial value.

Base Metal Ores

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Q.: Please analyze the inclosed samples from a locality seven miles from Bear Lake, Holcomb Valley, California. B.

A.: The specimens are chiefly sulphide ores carrying a low percentage of galenite (lead sulphide,) blende, (zinc sulphide,) pyrite, (iron disulphide) and arsenopyrite, (mispickel, known also as arsenide with bisulphide of iron.)

The samples (excepting one) carry magnesium silicates of such varieties that it would make concentration, by ordinary Wilfley tables, rather difficult; oil flotation would give better results.

The one remaining sample also carries traces of sulphides and whitish labradorite (Labrador feldspar) of no value as gemstone.

Dolomite

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 27.—Q.: Samples from Coast Range, Trinity county, California. Analyze the dark mineral contents. The formation is granite overlying limestone. A.

A.: The dark mineral is present in bare traces only, and not sufficient quantity for satisfactory analysis. It seems to be a mixture containing no tellurium, with iron, graphite and manganese reactions. Native gold and flake platinum absent.

Four Samples

LANCASTER, Aug. 28.—Q.: Will you please make tests of these rocks and tell us if they are ore-bearing and what they contain of value. Is No. 4 schist? All samples from a mine west of Kramer. Thank you. D.

A.: Sample No. 1—coated with lime carbonate—reacts for hematite, silica and pyroxene. No. 2 is on the order of No. 3. No. 3 is ferruginous quartz mixed with iron silicate (rosin-rock, as known to the mining boys in the hills.) Pyrite traces, and free gold, a trace. No. 4 appears to be a mixture; opaline silica and silicon dioxide (quartz) present with more or less rosin rock.

Amorphous Graphite

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 23.—Q.: Under separate cover I am sending you a sample of ore which some people call graphite; others say it is molybdenum. Please classify it. It comes from a small ledge in Riverside county, California. B. F. H.

A.: The sample is low grade graphite carrying iron of the variety known as micaceous (hematite.) We could get no reaction for molybdenum, and the sample probably represents graphite of doubtful commercial value.

EARTH OPEN AT POLES, WAS THEORY OF SYMMES

He Guaranteed in 1829 to Find "Rich, Warm Land" Within the Globe

Recent polar expeditions have stirred recollections of a strange theory advanced seriously by John Clives Symmes of Ohio and New Jersey, a century ago, that the earth was hollow and habitable within and that the northland was really a gaping aperture into a wonderland.

Records of his efforts to lead an expedition into the Arctic area to prove his theory are in the Congressional archives, and Congress all but appropriated a sum of money to discover the "North Hole." Symmes, in a circular addressed to "all the world," said:

"I declare the earth is hollow and habitable within, containing a number of concentric spheres, one within the other, and that it is open at the poles. I pledge my life in support of this truth, and am ready to explore the hollow if the world will support and aid me in the undertaking.

"I ask 100 brave companions, well equipped, to start from Siberia in the fall season with reindeer and sleighs on the frozen sea. I engage we find a warm, rich land, stocked with thrifty vegetables and animals, if not men."

Symmes was a man of standing, a retired officer of the Revolutionary War. His theory found many adherents and he had collected almost enough money for his expedition when he died in May, 1829. His grave at Hamilton, O., is marked by a hollow sphere, to commemorate the theory he held.—[Cleveland Plain Dealer.

VALUABLE ANIMALS AT DONKEY SHOW

When all the Jennys, geldings, Jacks and ponies lined up for the parade at the costermongers' and street traders' donkey show in Kensington Palace field, London W., there were many animals precious beyond price to their owners.

In the entry list owners were asked to state the value of their donkeys. Some animals were available at sums ranging from $25 to $225, in other cases the "value" column of the entry form was filled in with the words, "Not for sale." There were competitors, however, who were emphatic.

The value of Kitty, a 12-year-old donkey owned by C. Hatchard, is "untold gold," while Louie is "priceless" to her owner, C. Lambert. Although Tinker is only 3 years old, his owner, J. Shepherd, set down that he is "Too highly honored to part with." C. Bullen, the owner of 18-year-old Tiddler, announced: "No money can buy her."

Mary, a 25-year-old Jenny owned by Mrs. Shepherd of Bolton Road, Bayswater, W., had a bath before being brought to the show. Her value is "All the love I can give it."

Mrs. Shepherd said to a reporter that she had had several good offers for the animal, but no amount of money would tempt her to sell Mary. She added:

"Mary is like a child to me. I clean her harness, paint the car, and do everything myself. Once a week I bathe her, putting her front and back legs in a bath and scrubbing her with a brush. Of course, she likes it. She has won more than fifty prizes, and I would not sell her, not for £10,000. No one can do anything with her except me. We go on the round all day."

The Queen Alexandria challenge cup for the best Jenny, gelding or Jack was won by A. Matthews with his Jenny, Rose, engaged on a greengrocer's round.—[Vancouver Province.

CATALONIA HAS ITS OWN LANGUAGE

Newspapers Printed in Catalan, Which Other Spaniards Do Not Understand

Castilian Spanish is official Spanish, standard, like Parisian French, but once away from Madrid one hears all sorts of variations of Castilian and, in Catalonia, hears another language entirely.

The Catalans have spent much time and effort conserving their own language. Newspapers are printed in Catalan, and while it is a Romance language, the tourist equipped with both French and Spanish might as well stop up his ears when he crosses the border for he will be deaf to Catalan.

Catalonia, the province of which Barcelona is the head city, is the workshop of Spain. It claims to pay nearly 80 per cent of the nation's tax bill. The annual income produced by this single province is reported to be two-thirds that of the entire nation and although it covers only one-sixteenth of the area of Spain, it holds one-tenth of the population.—[National Geographic Society Bulletin.

The Freezing Point

"Perhaps it is best after all," remarked the rejected suitor as he lingered in the hall. "A man of 25 would soon tire of a wife who hovered around the 32 mark."

"Why, Mr. Ardent," said the woman in the case, "how very ungallant of you to insinuate that I am 32."

"Well, perhaps you are not," he replied, "but it certainly struck me that you were somewhat near the freezing point."—[Weekly Scotsman.

CROMER'S JOB A DELICATE ONE

LORD CHAMBERLAIN IS THE CENSOR OF THE BRITISH COURT

By far the most tactful man in London is the Lord Chamberlain. His numerous duties require the utmost patience and discretion, and one of his most difficult tasks is the selection of guests to be invited to the court ball. As the ballroom at Buckingham Palace only holds 2000, and all the women who have been presented at court for the last twenty years expect to be invited, not to mention the many thousand army and navy officers who attend the levees yearly, most of whom feel bitterly disappointed if not asked, the matter is no simple one.

When Lord Cromer has made his selection he places the list before His Majesty for final supervision.

The next day the exalted get a large imposing card on which is printed: "The Lord Chamberlain has received His Majesty's commands to invite Lady Alexandria Park to a court ball." No divorced person can enter the palace, and as there are many divorced a year, up-to-date information has to be supplied to Lord Cromer by his many clerks.

Another onerous task is entertaining foreign potentates and their suites. This is rendered extremely difficult by the fact that sometimes they can not speak anything but their own language, which may be Persian or Hindustani.

But his most criticised and discussed duty is the censoring of plays. His decisions always arouse disputes, either by modern-minded managers, who think him unnecessarily severe, or by old-fashioned ladies, who write irate letters to the newspapers declaring how improper they consider such and such a play, and how much better they could do the censoring themselves.

It was the Lord Chamberlain who, in the '80's, had the delicate task of deciding the length of the ballet skirt. This roused a storm of censure and approval. Lord Cromer must be thankful he has not to regulate the women's skirts outside the theater, or he would be unable to appear in public without a strong force to guard him from enraged young women in skirts far too modest to their liking, and vituperative grandmothers loudly expostulating at having to expose the ankles in such an indelicate fashion.

Lord Cromer takes complete charge of the proceedings at Buckingham Palace during a court. He wears the usual court dress of knee breeches and tall coat with gold buttons, but he has one interesting addition unique to his office; on the back of his coat he wears a gold key, which is symbolically supposed to be the only key to the palace. He also carries a tall, slender wand.

When the court is about to begin he goes to their majesties' apartments, where all the suite are assembled. They then form up into a procession, and the Lord Chamberlain and the Lord Steward have to walk backward from the apartments to the state rooms, in order not to turn their backs on the King and Queen. Lord Cromer excels at this agile accomplishment, and steps out boldly, though there are several corners to navigate. Some Lord Chamberlains nearly caused a commotion by a false step, and can anything more ignominious be imagined than to land heavily on the floor in the midst of a solemn royal function?

When their majesties have taken their seats in the throne room, the court begins. The diplomatic corps are the first to pass. They do not give Lord Cromer much difficulty, since he knows most of them by sight if not personally. But when the rest of the women come by he has to be more circumspect. Each woman carries a card bearing her name, which has to be given up on entering the throne room. This card is then passed by hand down a line till it reaches Lord Cromer, who reads it out in a loud clear voice.

If the cards get muddled on the way confusion immediately occurs, for no woman will come forward till she hears her own name read out. Lord Cromer has also to be careful not to read out the names too quickly, or Lady Augustus Smallchange precipitates herself formard in collision with Mrs. Derby De Doncaster's train, which puts the latter lady completely out of her stride, and she has to remain there until Lady Augustus has finished her first curtsey.—[Vancouver Province.

HONEYDEW VERSUS THE CANTALOUPE

We agree with Mr. Frank Sullivan that the cantaloupe, under ideal conditions, is a much better melon than the honeydew—so much better, in fact, that comparison is almost a desecration. But in New York we do not have ideal conditions. No melon reaches the local diner without having spent a large part of its life in railroad car, market stall and ice-box; and as a result of this circumstance the naturally superior cantaloupe must always yield first place here to the naturally inferior honeydew.

For the cantaloupe cannot stand rough treatment. Ship it five miles and most of its exquisite taste and delicate perfume have vanished; ship it 500 miles and it is but a caricature of its former self. The honeydew, on the other hand, thrives on the roughest treatment you can give it. It boots little whether it is picked green or three days overripe, whether it is trundled to the railroad in a wheelbarrow or rolled along like an Easter egg, whether it is cut longwise like a watermelon or crosswise like a sausage: nothing can hurt it. It is therefore the great melon of commerce and probably the nearest thing to a real melon that New York ever tastes.

What would happen to the populace if a real cantaloupe were to be cut some fine morning is a speculation that had best be left to the poets. One can picture whole companies of people dropping dead from heart failure. And one can picture whole companies of people making bitter complaint that the thing didn't taste right.—[N. Y. World.

Free State of Prussia

6½% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

External Loan of 1926

Due September 15, 1951

Price 95 and Interest, Yielding Over 6.90 Per Cent

Principal and Interest Payable in United States Gold Coin.

An Annual Sinking Fund beginning September 15, 1932, is Provided to Retire 50% of This Issue by Maturity.

The following information is taken from official sources:

Prussia includes more than 60 per cent of the total area and population of Germany. Its population (1925 census) is over 38,000,000. Berlin, the capital of Prussia, is also the capital of Germany and has a population of more than 4,000,000. Germany's entire coast areas, except for a few miles, are included in the State of Prussia.

Besides the income from its taxing power, the State receives income from revenue producing enterprises, of which the most important are the forests estimated to be worth over one billion dollars. Prussia owns real estate valued at about $400,000,000. The proceeds of these bonds will be used for revenue producing purposes. About 70 per cent will be used in the development of electric enterprises and the balance for the enlargement and improvement of harbors.

The present loan is the first one to be issued abroad for over a century. Before 1914 obligations of Prussia were placed at coupon rates from 3% to 4%. The budget for the fiscal year 1926 is balanced at about $853,365,000.

These bonds will be the direct and unconditional obligations of Prussia. No part of the State's revenues or property has been pledged by it as security for any loan and the State will covenant that if, while any of the bonds are outstanding, it should specifically pledge or charge any part of its property or revenues to secure any funded debt the bonds of the loan shall be secured by such pledge equally and ratably with the other indebtedness thereby to be secured. Article 248 of the Versailles Treaty reads in part "—a first charge upon all the assets and revenues of the German Empire and its constituent states shall be the cost of reparation—." The Dawes plan provides that payments shall be made by Germany to the Reichsbank for account of the Agent General for Reparation Payments and to secure the payments specific revenues are especially pledged.

We recommend these bonds for investment and shall be pleased to send circular describing the issue in detail.

PASSING OF THE WOODEN INDIAN

Those whose years are many enough to permit their memory to go back past the automobile and movie era will have no difficulty in recalling the cigar-store Indian. Few, if any, cigar stores attempted to do business without him, and he was as thoroughly identified with the business as the red-and-white pole is with the barber shop. Sometimes he was cast in metal, but for the most part he was wooden in structure—and often in attitude and expression. Sometimes he was almost undraped, and sometimes he wore the buckskins of the frontier, but always he made an attempt to be the noble red man, with a good many feathers, some heavy jewelry in the form of bracelets or bear-claw necklace, and perhaps a bow and arrow or even a rifle.

It has been a good while since one of these has publicly called attention to the cigar-store business in Indianapolis, but there are said to be one or two still on the job in New York, which will be recalled as the last town to hang on to the horse-car form of transportation after all cities had moved up to electric lines; and there are said to be museums and collectors who have gathered in cigar-store Indians since they have become so scarce; and rising from a humble utilitarian, though none the less creditable, place, these effigies have acquired the distinction of becoming museum pieces, than which, of course, no honor can be greater.

Tradition has it that the first cigar-store Indian was introduced to his job and to the public about 1850. The figures were mostly made of pine, which was easy to carve and was durable, by the same wood carving artists that made the figureheads of ships, which have also risen to museum dignity in many instances.

Why the cigar store abandoned this distinctive evidence of their existence is not clear. It may have been because the pedestals on which they stood encroached on the sidewalk right of way in a manner that was against the law, or it may be that the improvement of artistic taste ruled them out, but withal it may be said that many old-timers still regard them quite as artistic as some of the present-day evidences of commercial activity.—[Indianapolis News.

In order that immigrants to Canada may be able to adapt themselves to the agricultural life of the Prairie Provinces those who show a real desire to make themselves useful in the new land are given at least five months' training in farm work before leaving Great Britain.

TRUTH IN ABYSSINIA

Women There Above All Else Must Be Veracious

The whole fabric of Abyssinian custom rests on the truth of its wives and mothers. A woman may steal and, if successful, be regarded with approval for her thrift. She may murder and get away with it, for her relations are responsible for payment of the blood debt. She may have a dozen husbands, a score of lovers, and retain not only her respectability but also her unassailable virtue. But she must not lie.

In all marriages the bridegroom has to appoint two guarantors, who are responsible, financially and morally, for his good behavior. The law of Abyssinia allows a man to beat his wife, but, should the woman complain, the guarantors are forced to pay her 75 cents every other day.

A dramatic story was told to me in Lasta, a northern and almost unexplored province of Abssinia. There was a girl, young, slender and proud featured, as are many descendants of the 3000-year-old Jewish race which lingers among the mountains, legacy of the days when the son of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba ruled in Abyssinia. Her parents married her as a child to their friend and contemporary. Later, a youth of her own age loved her and, having won her ear, he shot her husband in the ensuing quarrel. Since he had no blood relations, it became the girl's duty to avenge her dead lord. A gun was forced into her hands. The first shot misfired. Her brothers dragged the man down and held him. "Make no further mistake," they said. The girl fired into the grass. "Are you satisfied that the blood debt has been paid?" demanded the policeman, expecting a negative and the reloading of the ancient rifle.

"Yes," lied the girl magnificently. "By the death of Menelik, I am." There was a pause of sheer amazement, for, with his oath—the most solemn in the Abyssinian language—the avenger acknowledges quittance of all obligation. The lad went free, and the girl was dragged to the shearer.—[Collier's Weekly.

CHICAGO HEALTHY

According to statistics recently released by Chicago's Commissioner of Health, Dr. Herman Bundesen, that city leads the world in health. The statistics show a death rate of 11.5 per thousand for Chicago in 1925, while the nearest competitors are Berlin, Germany, with a rate of 11.7 and New York with a rate of 12.2 per thousand. Philadelphia, Buenos Aires, Paris, Bombay and Calcutta are said to follow inorder, with Calcutta having more than thirty-two deaths per thousand.—[Pathfinder.

CREDITS GUIDE BOND ACTIVITY

Rediscount Rate Rise Fear Restricts Trading

Fall Treasury Certificates Oversubscribed

Two $20,000,000 German Loans Overhang Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. (AP)—Credit conditions governed activities in the bond market last week, accounting for a curtailed volume of dealings and at the same time for the underlying firmness of prices. Trading was restricted by ungrounded fears that the 4 per cent Federal reserve rediscount rates would be raised in certain cities but the failure of any of these banks to make changes later strengthened the confidence.

The week after Labor Day saw money rates established at slightly higher levels, but until the call quotation rises above 5 per cent bankers do not look for a general upward revision of discounting charges.

The United States Treasury's fall financing was successfully accomplished by the sale of $350,000,000 nine-months 3½ per cent certificates, which were promptly oversubscribed. The offering was in line with the expectations of the financial community and had little effect upon the prices of outstanding government obligations. The large oversubscription—almost twice the amount of the issue—indicated that a great volume of funds was awaiting investment.

AUTUMN FINANCING

With the possible exception of large stabilization loans for France and Belgium investment houses have been unable to foresee much important financing for the autumn months, despite the favorable conditions prevailing for the flotation of new issues. Two German loans of about $20,000,000 each are overhanging the market, one for the State of Prussia and another for the Siemens & Halske electrical concern. Many small corporate issues, both foreign and domestic are in prospect. Last week's bond offerings aggregated about $53,000,000, compared with nearly $70,000,000 in the preceding week.

Under new ministries, both France and Belgium have made considerable progress in preparing their financial affairs for the eventual test of exchange stabilization and these measures may be attempted before the end of the year with the aid of international loans. Reports that Germany would borrow externally through the issuance of mark bonds, however, have been discredited in banking circles. The next outside financing for the German government is expected to be in the form of railway bonds now in the control of the reparations agent.

FRENCH OUTLOOK

The strongest buying operations in the bond market last week centered in the foreign group. The more promising outlook in France carried a dozen French issues to the highest levels of the year, while Italian 7s rebounded to the best price since the dissolution of the loan syndicate several months ago. German and Austrian Municipals were strong. Japanese government bonds also reached the highest price in their history.

Domestic railroad liens marked time, fresh buying of a few semi-speculative issues being counteracted by the extension of profit-taking activities following the recent strong market for all railroad securities. Andes Copper 7s led a rise in the copper bonds.

The formation of committees to protect Warner Sugar bondholders in view of the company's financial troubles and recurrent reports of its difficulty in meeting interest payments accounted for another sharp slump in the bonds of the corporation and its subsidiary.

Barber Robbed and Stranded After Gay Fling

PARIS, Sept. 12.—James Hildreth, Chicago barber, has been saving his money all his life for one grand fling in Europe. He left Chicago June 20, last, on the Century in a drawing-room and crossed the Atlantic in a de luxe suite of the liner Paris, since when he has been seeing the continent from the windows of the costliest touring trains and the grandest hotels.

But this sort of thing couldn't go on forever, so Mr. Hildreth finally returned to Paris with his last $500, ready to buy a ticket for home, so he could settle down to his job in the basement of one of Chicago's Lake Front hotels. While he was leaning on the counter in the steamship office dickering for a $400 ticket, a smart young man next to him picked his pocket and walked out. Since then Mr. Hildreth and the Paris police have seen nothing of the smart young man.

Mr. Hildreth is not kicking about the accommodations in the Salvation Army home in Paris, but is wondering how soon the American Aid Society will get around to him.

JAPANESE SHIP ON MAIDEN TRIP

Two-Day Pause at Local Port Inspires Reception

Distinguished Persons on Passenger List

Vessel Among Most Modern Under Nippon Flag

On her maiden voyage around the world the Japanese motorship La Plata Maru, one of the most modern passenger and freight carriers under the flag of Nippon, arrived from the south and east yesterday for two days in port.

She will be the scene of a special luncheon and reception to the local shipping fraternity today, as guests of Williams, Dimond & Co., local agents.

The liner has aboard 150 passengers picked up during her globe-belting trip, and will take on a like number of Japanese here before she sails for the Orient at 3 p.m. tomorrow. Fifteen hundred tons of local cotton, potash, paper and general merchandise also are being stowed in her holds for the Far East.

Among her distinguished passengers embarking here will be S. Tatsuke, Japanese Ambassador to Brazil, bound home on vacation. Mr. Tatsuke left the ship at New Orleans for a trip through Mexico, arriving here by train last night. He was met by C. Ohashi, Japanese Consul to Los Angeles and escorted to the Biltmore, whence he will be the motif of several informal receptions and sight-seeing trips by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and by the local Japanese colony.

The newly appointed Peruvian Consul-General to San Francisco, Santiago Elosa de Arguelles, and family disembarked here and took passage on the Harvard to the Bay City yesterday. Senor Arguelles is not unfamiliar with his new post, having served Peru as Consul at San Francisco from 1919 to 1921, during which time he was graduated from the law school of the University of California. More recently he has been Consul-General to Argentina.

Peru, he said, still is hopeful of a settlement of the Tacna-Arica dispute and stands ready to accept any proposal which the United States advances. America's disinterested endeavors for an amicable solution has gained unqualified admiration from his countrymen and friendship between the two powers has been greatly enhanced by the incident, he declared.

The Knights of Columbus frolic at Avalon yesterday swelled the day's passenger lists to one of the largest of the season, approximately 7000 persons going to Catalina and almost a like number returning. Of these more than 5000 were Knights. Liners were departing from the mainland all morning, the Catalina making two voyages, the Avalon and the Cabrillo one each, all repeating to bring the crowd homeward last night.

The steamer President Arthur, purchased by the Los Angeles Steamship Company to augment its service between Los Angeles and Hawaii, sailed the 1st inst. from New York; has passed through the Panama Canal and is due here the 18th inst. On arrival here the vessel will undergo alterations and improvements expected to cost upward of $1,600,000. She will go on the run to the islands in February, augmenting the service now maintained by the City of Los Angeles and Calawaii. She is expected to be renamed with some cognomen indicative of the service and in keeping with the two already on the run.

The Moana, built for Leon Coleman, writer, for long cruises, was launched from the yards of the Harbor Boat-Building Works at Fish Harbor yesterday noon, before fifty relatives and friends of the owner. Barney Leon Coleman, nephew of the owner, sponsored the craft. She is a thirty-seven-foot ketch, equipped with Diesel power and designed for any distant cruise which the scribe's whims demand, in search for fiction material. Coleman plans a cruise down the Mexican coast shortly, to be followed by a leisurely trip to the South Seas.

Local agency for the Latin-America Line has been transferred to J. Martin Sivertsen, which will handle the line's next vessel, the Childar, southbound on the 14th inst., according to P. Floyd Soto, manager of Sivertsen's local office. She will take on 10,000 cases of gasoline and other cargo for Central and South America. Other vessels in this service include the Romolus, Regulus and Remus. Sivertsen also represents the Norway-Pacific Line, operating between the Pacific Coast and Northern Europe.

Importations of European pipe and tubes, which last fiscal year amounted to 30,000 tons, valued at about $1,500,000, are continuing in volume to Los Angeles Harbor. The British steamer Canadian Ranger, arrived yesterday from Antwerp with 2600 tons for local discharge, consisting chiefly of iron pipe and structural steel. The vessel also is dropping 400 tons of china clay, fifty tons of marble and wire netting, plate glass and rags.

Oil exports and lumber receipts dropped off slightly during the week just passed, according to a seven-day summary by the Marine Exchange. Oil shipments comprised 1,539,977 barrels and inbound lumber totaled 25,456,648 board feet. One hundred and twenty-seven vessels arrived, including forty-eight combination passenger and freight carriers. American flags flew from 103, British ten, Japanese three, Norwegian two, Mexican two, French two and Dutch, Danzig and Swedish one each.

Admiral Charles F. Hughes, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet since a week ago, is scheduled to sail from here on his flagship, the U.S.S. Seattle, today for the Atlantic Coast. The cruiser, here since the 1st inst., will put into San Diego for twelve days en route. On the east coast Admiral Hughes will make his first inspection of the scouting fleet, and will witness the joint maneuvers of the scouting and battle fleets in Atlantic waters next spring.

Bus Lines Help Railroads

At first regarding the operation of busses as a possible competitor, the railroad companies are now generally making use of busses as feeders for their lines. For instance an organization which is a subsidiary of New Haven, is now operating 153 busses on 1042 miles of route, and contemplates in the near future bringing these figures up to 166 busses on 1112 miles. Of the various lines operating, 31 are run by the company itself and eight more are in contemplation. In addition, five lines are operated in conjunction with other carriers.

RECOGNITION OF SOVIETS ADVOCATED

Unofficial Commission of Americans Reports Russia Worthy of Fellowship

NEW YORK, Sept. 12. (AP)—After a month's study of conditions in soviet Russia, members of the Sherwood-Eddy Commission returned to the United States today, expressing the conviction that this country should recognize the Russian government. The commission, an unofficial delegation made the recommendation without passing in any way on the merits of the soviet system, from a political viewpoint.

The delegation was the first group of Americans to enter Russia to study political, economic, social and religious conditions, in order to determine the advisability of recognizing the Russian government.

Members of the delegation said the Russian authorities gave them a free hand and placed at their disposal government documents, as well as allowing them unhampered access to all government institutions and industrial plants. The Americans interviewed prominent soviet leaders.

Admitting there were phases of the soviet system which seemed objectionable to outsiders, the commission members declared the soviet government had greatly benefited the masses of the people, and was one of the most stable governments in Europe.

Mr. Eddy, secretary for Asia of the National Council of the Young Men's Christian Association, headed the delegation. Other members were Dr. Charles C. Morrison, editor of the Christian Century; Dr. William G. Bromley Oxnam of Los Angeles, Kirby Page, writer; Dr. William H. NUNS DENY KNOWING OF HIDDEN LACE

Articles Found to be Part of Shipment Brought From Belgium

ST. ALBANS (Vt.) Sept. 12. (AP)—A rich haul of Breton lace found hidden in the clothing of four nuns who were taken off a train at Richford yesterday has been traced to a shipment landed at Quebec August 15, last, customs officials here stated tonight. The nuns, members of three Massachusetts communities, are detained under guard at a hotel for hearing tomorrow afternoon.

Collector Whitehill of the Vermont customs district communicated with Montreal and Quebec authorities and later said he believed the lace seized here was all or part of a shipment brought to Quebec on the steamship Empress of Scotland by two Belgians. It was valued at 350,000 francs.

The nuns, who gave their names as Sisters Isarr and Perfectu Locoro of St. Anthony's Convent, Fall River; Sister Sagrado, mother superior of the Convent of Our Lady of Glory, New Bedford, and Sister Des Oliviers of the Convent of Our Lady of Good Help, East Boston, were allowed to attend mass today under guard. Sister Des Oliviers, speaking for the entire party expressed surprise that no word had been received from their three convents. A Burlington lawyer was retained last night for their defense.

Appraisal of the lace, which was found sewed in the clothing of the women, was in progress tonight. The contraband weighed thirty-five pounds. Some patent medicines of French manufacture also were seized.

The four nuns tonight held to their declaration of yesterday that they had obtained the petticoats into which the lace was sewed at a Montreal convent and were unaware of the presence of the contraband. The nuns are members of the order of Franciscan Sisters.

ALASKA RECALL ASKED

New York Association's Message Calls Conditions 'Intolerable'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (AP)—A telegram urging President Coolidge promptly to replace Federal Judge Reed and Dist.-Atty. Shoup of the First Division of Alaska, and Federal Judge Ritchie of the Third Division, was made public today by Basil M. Manley, director of the New York People's Legislative Service.

He stated the telegram was sent at the request of reputable citizens of Alaska, who complained of "intolerable conditions" existing there due to failure to replace the officials.

Their nominations were sent to the Senate last session, but withdrawn after an investigation by the Senate Judiciary Committee. The President was advised by the Chairman, Senator Cummins of Iowa, that the nominations could not be confirmed in the light of evidence produced.

CAPTAIN SCRAGGS

OR THE GREEN PEA PIRATES

by Peter B. Kyne

OUR STORY:

Three Musketeers of the Sea there are; each as strange a character as the other; each subject to the same impulses and emotions; each as stubborn, cranky, impulsive, tricky and loyal as the others—meet them:

CAPT. PHINEAS P. SCRAGGS, rat-faced, snaggle-toothed and furtive; whose chief delight is to put over a trick on the other two which will result in financial advantage to himself.

ADELBERT P. GIBNEY, a large, imposing, capable but socially indifferent person of a somewhat adventurous experience and who is cursed with too much brains, imagination and thirst. He holds a license as chief mate of steam, any ocean or tonnage.

BARTHOLOMEW McGUFFEY is a good engineer gone wrong. His thirst equals that of Gibney; his mentality is on a par with the other two.

Gibney, McGuffey and Scraggs are marooned on a desert island when their mate sails away with their ship, the Maggie II. Neils Halvorsen was once a member of their crew.

He finds the Maggie II in Honolulu Harbor, boards her to see his old friends, is accosted by the mate who has assumed Scraggs's name and title.

Halvorsen thereupon knocks down, gags and binds the mate and forces a confession from him and sets sail for the island to rescue the trio.

Meanwhile the Musketeers are undergoing the tortures of the damned.

They are found in the nick of time by Halvorsen, regain their ship and set sail for Honolulu.

They dispose of their cargo of pearls and trade-stuff in Honolulu and, with Halvorsen, set sail in a steamer for San Francisco, giving their schooner to the mate.

"You bet!" McGuffey's response was very fervid.

"Them was the happy days," supplemented the commodore. He was as joyous as a schoolboy. Four long years had he been roving and now, with his pockets lined with greenbacks, he was homeward bound to his dear old San Francisco—back to steam beer, to all of his old cronies of the Embarcadero, to moving-picture shows—to Life! And he was glad to get back with a whole skin.

Seven days after leaving Honolulu, the Hilonian steamed into San Francisco Bay. The syndicate could not wait until she had tied up at her dock, and the minute the steamer had passed quarantine Mr. Gibney hailed a passing launch. Bag and baggage the happy quartette descended to the launch and landed at Meiggs wharf. Mr. Gibney stepped into the wharfinger's office and requested permission to use the telephone.

"What's up, Gib?" demanded Captain Scraggs.

"I want to 'phone for a automobile to come down an' snake us up town in style. This syndicate ain't a-going' to come rampin' home to Gawd's country looking' like a lot o' Eyetalian peddlers. We're goin' to the best hotel an' we're goin' in style."

McGuffey nudged Captain Scraggs, and Neils Halvorsen nudged Mr. McGuffey.

"Hay bane a sport, hay bane," rumbled the honest Neils.

"You bet he bane," McGuffey retorted. "Ain't he the old kiddo, Scraggsy? Ain't he? This feller Adelbert P. Gibney's a farmer, I guess."

With the assistance of the wharfinger an automobile was summoned, and in due course the members of the syndicate found themselves ensconced in a fashionable suite in San Francisco's most fashionable hotel.

Mr. Gibney stored the syndicate's pearls in the hotel sofe, deposited an emergency roll with the hotel clerk, and banked the balance of the company funds in the names of all four; after which the syndicate gave itself up to a period of joy unconfined.

At the end of a week of riot and revelry Mr. Gibney revived sufficiently to muster all hands and lead them to a Turkish bath. Two days in the bath restored them wonderfully, and when the worthy commodore eventually got them back to the hotel he announced that henceforth the lid was on—and on tight.

Captain Scraggs, who was hard to manage in his cups and the most prodigal of prodigals with steam up to a certain pressure, demurred at this.

"No more sky-larkin', Scraggsy, you old cut-up," Mr. Gibney ordered. "We had our good time comin' after all that we've been through but it's time to get down to business agin. Riches has wings, Scraggsy, old salamander, an' even if we are ashore, I'm still the commodore. Now, set around an' we'll hold a meetin'."

He banged the chiffonier with his great fist. "Meetin,' o' the Maggie Syndicate," he announced. "Meetin'll come to order. The first business before the meetin' is a call for volunteers to furnish a money-makin' idee for the syndicate".

Neils Halvorsen shook his sorrel head. He had no ideas. B. McGuffey, Esquire, shook his head also. Captain Scraggs wanted to sing.

"I see it's up to me to suggest somethin'." Mr. Gibney smiled benignly, as if a money-making idea was the easiest thing on earth to produce. "The last thing I remember before we went to that Turkish bath was us four visitin' a fortune teller an' havin' our fortunes told, past, present, an' future, for a dollar a throw. Anybody here remember what his fortune was?"

It appeared that no one remembered, not even Mr. Gibney. He therefore continued:

"The chair will app'int Mr. McGuffey an' himself a committee o' two to wait on one o' these here clairvoyants and have their fortunes told again."

McGuffey, who was as supestitious as a negro, seconded the motion heartily and the committee forthwith sallied forth to consult the clairvoyant. Within the hour they returned.

"Members o' the syndicate," the commodore announced, "we got an idea. Not a heluva good one, but fair to middlin'. Me an' Mac calls on this Madame de What-you-may-call-her an' the minute she gets a lamp at my mit (it is worthy of remark here that Mr. Gibney had a starfish tatooed on the back of his left hand, a full-rigged ship across his breast, and a gorgeous picture of a lady climbing a ladder adorned the inner side of his brawny right forearm. The feet of the lady in question hung down below the fringe of Mr. Gibney's shirt sleeve) she up an' says: 'My friend, you're makin' a grave mistake remaining ashore. Your fortune lies at sea.' Then she threw a fit an' mumbled something about a light-haired man that was goin' to cross my path. I guess she must have meant Scraggsy or Neils, both bein' blondes—an' she come out of her trance shiverin' and shakin'.

Your fortune lies at sea, my friend,' she kept on sayin.' 'Go forth and seek it'.

"'Gimme the longitude an' latitude, ma'am,' I says, 'an' I'll light out.'

"'Look in the shippin' news in the papers to-morrower,' she pipes up. 'Five dollars, please.'

"You didn't give her five dollars, did you?" gasped Captain Scraggs. "Why, Gib my dear boy, I thought you was sober."

"So I was."

"Then, Gib, all I got to say is that you're a sucker. You want to consult the rest of us before you go throwin' away the funds o' the syndicate on such tom-fool idees as—"

McGuffey saw a storm gathering on Mr. Gibney's brows and hastened to intervene.

"Meetin's adjourned," he announced, "pendin' the issue o' the papers to-morrow mornin'. Scraggsy, you oughter j'ine the Band o' Hope. You're ugly when you got a drink in you."

Neils Halvorsen interfered to beg a cigar of Mr. Gibney and the affair passed over.

At six o'clock the following morning the members of the syndicate were awakened by a prodigious pounding at their respective doors. Answering the summons, they found Mr. Gibney in undress uniform and the morning paper clutched in his hand.

"Meetin' o' the Maggie Syndicate in my room," he bawled. "I've found our fortune."

The meeting came to order without the formality of dressing, and the commodore, spreading the paper on his knee, read aloud:

FOR SALE CHEAP

The stern-wheel steamer Victor, well found, staunch and newly painted. Boilers and engines in excellent shape. Vessel must be sold to close out an estate. Address John Coakley, Jackson Street Wharf.

"How d'ye know she's a fortune, Gib?" McGuffey demanded. "Lemme look at her engines before you get excited."

"I ain't saying' she is," Mr. Gibney retorted testily. "Lemme finish readin!" He continued:

REPORTS PASSING DERELICT

The steam schooner Arethusa, Grays Harbour to Oakland Long Wharf, reports passing a derelict schooner twenty miles off Point Reyes at six o'clock last night. The derelict was down by the head, and her rail just showed above the water. It was impossible to learn her identity.

The presence of this derelict in the steamer lanes to North Pacific ports is a distinct menace to navigation, and it is probable that a revenue cutter will be dispatched today to search for the derelict and either tow her into port or destroy her.

"Gentlemen o' the syndicate, them's the only two items in the shippin' page that looks likely. The question is, in which lies our fortune?"

Neils Halvorsen spoke up, giving it as his opinion that the fortune-telling lady probably knew her business and that their fortune really lay at sea. The derlict was at sea. How else, then, could the prophecy be interpreted?

"Well, this steamer Victor ain't exactly traveling overland," McGuffey suggested. He had a secret hankering to mess around some real engines again, and gave it as his opinion that fortune was more likely to lurk in a solid stern-wheel steamer with good engines and boilers than in a battered hulk at sea. Captain Scraggs agreed with him most heartily and a tie vote resulted, Mr. Gibney inclining toward the derelict.

"What're we goin' to do about it, Gib?" Captain Scraggs demanded.

"When in doubt, Scraggsy, old tarpot, always play trumps. In order to make no mistake, right after breakfast, you an' McGuffey go down to Jackson Street wharf an' interview this man Coakley about his steamer Victor."

"You been goin' to sea long enough to know a good hull when you see it, an' if we can't trust Mac to know a good set of inner works we'd better dissolve the syndicate. If you two think she's a bargain, buy her in for the syndicate. As for me an' Neils, we'll go down to the Front an' charter a tug an' chase out after that there derelict before the revenue cutter gets her an' blows her out o' the path o' commerce with a stick o' dynamite.

Forthwith Mr. Gibney and Neils, after snatching a hasty breakfast, departed for the waterfront, where they chartered a tug for three days and put to sea. At about ten o'clock Captain Scraggs and McGuffey strolled leisurely down to Jackson Street wharf to inspect the Victor. By noon they had completed a most satisfactory inspection of the steamer's hull and boilers, and bought her in for seven thousand dollars.

Captain Scraggs was delighted. He said she was worth ten thousand. Already he had decided that heavy and profitable freights awaited the syndicate along the Sacramento River, where the farmers and orchardists had been for years the victims of a monopoly and a gentlemen's agreement between the two steamboat, lines that plied between Sacramento, Stockton, and San Francisco.

On the afternoon of the third day Mr. Gibney and Neils Halvorsen returned from sea. They were unutterably weary and hollow-eyed for lack of sleep.

"Well, I suppose you two suckers found that derelict," challenged McGuffey.

"Yep. Found her an' got a line aboard an' towed her in, an' it was a tough job. She's layin' over on the Berkeley tide flats, an' at low-tide tomorrow we'll go over an' find out what we've got. Don't even know her name yet. She's practically submerged."

"I think you was awful foolish, Gib, buyin' a pig in a poke that way. I don't believe in goin' it blind. Me an' Mac's bought a real ship. We own the Victor."

"I'm dead on my feet," growled the commodore and jumping into bed he refused to discuss the matter further and was sound asleep in a jiffy.

Mr. Gibney was up bright and early and aroused the syndicate to action. The tide would be at its lowest ebb at 9:31 and the commodore figured that his fortune would be lying well exposed on the Berkeley tide flats. He engaged a diver and a small gasoline launch, and after an early breakfast in a chophouse on the Embarcadero they started for the wreck.

They were within half a mile of it, heading right into the eye of the wind, when Captain Scraggs and McGuffey stood erect in the launch simultaneously and sniffed like a pair of—well, sea dogs.

"Dead whale," suggested McGuffey.

"I hope it ain't Gib's fortune," replied Scraggs drily.

"Shut up," bellowed Mr. Gibney. He was sniffing himself by this time, for as the launch swiftly approached the derelict the unpleasant odor became more pronounced.

"Betcher that schooner was in collision with a steamer," Captain Scraggs announced. "She was cut down right through the fo'castle with the watch below sound asleep, an' this here fragrance appeals to me as a sure sign of a job for the Coroner."

The commodore shuddered. He was filled with vague misgivings, but Neils Halvorsen grinned cheerfully. McGuffey got out a cologne-scented handkerchief and clamped it across his nose.

"Well, if that's Gib's fortune, it must be filthy lucre," he mumbled through the handkerchief. "Gib, what have you hooked on to? A public dump?"

Mr. Gibney's eyes flashed, but he made no reply. They had rounded the schooner's stern now, and her name was visible.

"Schooner Kadiak, Seattle," read Scraggs. "Little old three sticker, 1000 years old and' cut clear through just abaft the foremast. McGuffey, you don't s'pose this here's a pirate craft an' just bulgin' with gold."

"Sure," retorted the engineer with a slow wink, "tainted wealth."

Mr. Gibney could stand their heckling no longer. "Looka here, you two," he bawled angrily. "I got a hunch I picked up a lemon, but I'm a-willin' to tackle the deal with Neils if you two think I don't do right by the syndicate a-runnin' up a bill of expense towing this craft into port. I ain't goin' to stand for no kiddin', even if we are in a five-hundred-dollar towage bill. Man is human an' bound to make mistakes."

"Don't kid the commodore, Scraggsy. This aromer o' roses is more'n a strong man can stand, so cut out the josh."

"All right, Mac, I guess the commodore's foot slipped this time, but I ain't squawkin' yet.'

"No. Not yet," cried Mr. Gibney bitterly, "but soon."

"I ain't, nuther," Captain Scraggs assumed an air of injured virtue. "I'm a-willin' to go through with you, Gib, at a loss, for nothin' else except to convince you o' the folly o' makin' this a one-man syndicate. I ain't a-kickin', but I'm free to confess that I'd like to be consulted oncet in a while."

"That's logic," rumbled the single-minded McGuffey.

"You dirty welchers" roared the commodore. 'I ain't askin you two to take chances with me. Me an' Neils'll take this deal over independent o' the syndicate."

"Well, let's dress this here diver," retorted the cautious Scraggs, "an' send him into the hold for a look around before we make up our minds." Captain Scraggs was not a man to take chances.

They moored the launch to the wreck and commenced operations. Mr. Gibney worked the air pump while the diver, ax in hand, dropped into the murky depths of the flooded hold. He was down half an hour before he signaled to be pulled up. All hands sprang to the line to haul him back to daylight, and the instant he popped clear of the water Mr. Gibney unburdened himself of an agonized curse.

In his hands the diver held a large decayed codfish!

Captain Ccraggs turned a sneering glance upon the unhappy commodore while McGuffey sat down on the damp rail of the derelict and laughed until the tears coursed down his honest face.

"A dirty little codfishin' schooner," raved Captain Scraggs, "an' you a-sinkin' the time an' money o' the syndicate in rotten codfish on the say-so of a clairvoyant you ain't even been interduced to. Gib, if that's business, all I got to say is: Excuse me.'"

Mr. Gibney seized the defunct fish from the diver's hand, tore it in half, slapped Captain Scraggs with one awful fragment and hurled the other at McGuffey.

"I'm outer the syndicate," he raved, beside himself with anger. "Here I go to work an' make a fortune for a pair of short sports an' pikers an' you get to squealin' at the first five-hundred-dollar loss. I know you of old, Phineas Scraggs, an' the leopard can't change his spots." He raised his right hand to heaven. "I'm through for keeps. We'll sell the pearls today, divvy up, an' dissolve. I'm through."

"Glad of it," growled McGuffey. "I don't want no more o' that codfish, an' as soon as we git fightin' room I'll prove to you that no near-sailor can insult me an' git away with it. Me an' Scraggsy's got some rights. You can walk on Scraggsy, Gib, but it takes a man to walk on the McGuffey family."

KISSING COSTS JAPAN $125,000

Expense Incurred in Cutting Love Scenes From Films

TOKIO, Sept. 12. (AP)—Although kissing is barred in Japan as immoral and unsanitary, estimates place its cost to the Japanese government at about $125,000 during the past year. The expense was incurred by censors who cut long and ardent kissing scenes from the thousands of moving pictures displayed daily in the empire.

Revolutionists Lose Heavily in Nicaragua Siege

MANAGUA (Nicaragua) Sept. 12. (AP)—Serious fighting took place yesterday between revolutionary forces and the government. William J. Champton, the American collector of customs at that place, telegraphs that the revolutionists succeeded in capturing part of El Bluff and the island between that town and Bluefields.

The garrisons at El Bluff were bombarded heavily Saturday with shrapnel shells. The government artillery destroyed one machine gun nest, demolishing the gun and killing seventeen of the enemy.

Revolutionary machine guns on the beach concentrated a heavy fire on the wharf where government troops were stationed, and the customhouse was riddled with bullets. Two vessels were engaged in the bombardment and three others were standing by.

It is declared that American mahogany and fruit companies are suffering heavy losses on the East coast of Nicaragua, the revolution causing a cessation of boat services.

PORTERVILLE LEGION EXTENDS GUEST RULE

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 12. (AP)—Porterville Post of the American Legion, rated as the third most active in the State, has voted to extend to fathers and fathers-in-law of all veterans the privilege of honorary visitors at all meetings of the organization.

HOTELS FIND CHARLESTON DANGEROUS

French Hostelries Aver Guests' Practicing Plays Havoc With Plastering

ST. JEAN DE LUZ (France) Sept. 12. (AP)—The Basque coast resorts are Charleston-mad. From Biarritz to San Sebastian every second dance in the casinos is a Charleston. It has displaced the tango, even with the Spanish and French pleasure seekers, who do the Charleston with wild abandon.

Most of the orchestras have American musicians, who sing the English words of popular Charleston tunes and the guests of various nationalities soon learn the words and join in the choruses. Many hotels have posted notices asking visitors not to practice the Charleston in their rooms because of the havoc it plays with lighting fixtures and plaster.

Mexico to Have Coastal Patrol of Hydroplanes

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 12 (Exclusive) Several hydroplanes are to be purchased in the United States by the Mexican government to be used in patroling the coasts in order to prevent smuggling. The planes will be manned by members of the army air force and will be directly under the orders of the War Department. However, they will co-operate fully with all authorities charged with the vigilance of the coast. Considerable difficulty has been encountered in patroling the coast because of the insufficient number of revenue cutters at the disposal of the authorities. In many instances, where vessels suspected of carrying contraband have been sighted, it has been possible for them to escape because of superior speed. This will not be possible with the hydroplanes, which will carry bombs and machine guns.

DOG KILLERS HUNTED

Bay State Man Will Mortgage His Home to Avenge Deaths

SAUGUS (Mass.) Sept. 18. (Exclusive)—So enraged is he over the poisoning of six of his pet dogs, Ernest Booth of East Saugus, has posted notices on his property stating that he will mortgage his home to raise money for a reward to the person or persons giving him information leading to the arrest of the guilty parties.

Mr. Booth, who has been a resident here for thirty years and has a large kennel, states he is unable to afford a reward, but is willing to pledge his property to bring the poisoners to justice.

Twin Sisters Face Each Other Over "Miss X" Fraud

Mrs. Villa May McDonald and Her Relatives

Mrs. Virla Kimball of Oakland on the left in the top row, is the twin sister of Mrs. Villa May McDonald Wiseman Sielaff at the right, who charged at the time of her arrest that the Oakland sister, and not she, passed the checks for which she was arrested. She said she would explain everything when her twin sister is produced. Last night they were brought face to face in Los Angeles. Below, at the left is Mrs. Clara McDonald, mother of the two women, and at the right is "Mrs. Wiseman's" young daughter. Mrs. Wiseman, in an attempt to hide her identity when accused by The Times of being a fraud, denied these photographs were those of her relatives when they were shown to her by the officers.

BRUSH FIRE IN TOPANGA CONQUERED

Canyon Blaze Kept From Reaching Store District by Favorable Wind

Fire, which broke out early yesterday afternoon in Topanga Canyon along the old canyon road to Calabasas, was reported under control after a fight of nearly two hours. A small area of brush land, containing no timber or structures of consequence, was burned over, District Fire Warden Weinert reported at the Topanga store.

About fifty men, members of the county fire department and men recruited in the district, fought the flames. The blaze is believed to have started from a fire left by a party of picnickers.

A light southerly wind was reported blowing, tending to keep the flames from the vicinity of the Topanga store.

"The presence of the ore was revealed finally by means of this instrument, which carries an electrical device affected by nearness to large bodies of metal."

Sweden has been one of the world's copper-producing countries for centuries, Palen said. "Our oldest copper mine at Falun, has been in continuous operation since the twelfth century," he observed. "The production from the new field will all be utilized at home, mainly in the electrical industry."

IMPOSTOR'S PATH FOUND ONCE MORE

Hasty Departure, Unpaid Bill Reported by Owner of Apartment-House

Another unannounced departure and another unpaid bill characterized the stay of Mrs. Villa May McDonald in the Rosalia May Apartments, 249 North Juanita street, in the fall of 1925, it was learned by Times investigators yesterday from Mrs. Lucille McFaul, manager, and Walter E. Lord, owner of the apartment building.

Records of the apartment-house showed Mrs. McDonald, one of the two impostors in the McPherson case, and her son rented an apartment

Salinas Justice Breaks Reserve and Describes Incident of Affidavit Making

Russell Scott, Salinas justice of the peace, before whom, last August 15, Miss Villa May McDonald Wiseman Sielaff and a woman known as "Miss X" made affidavits in connection with the McPherson case, yesterday broke the reserve he has maintained for nearly a month and discussed circumstances attending the signing of the papers. Publication of the affidavits centered public attention on an asserted love nest at Carmel-by-the-Sea which was said to have been occupied by Kenneth G. Ormiston, former Angelus Temple radio operator, and a mysterious woman following the disappearance of Mrs. McPherson from Ocean Park.

The women swore to affidavits that they were companions of Ormiston at the Carmel cottage. They disappeared from sight following their visit to Scott's office, and efforts to obtain descriptions of them from the attorneys failed.

Judge Scott, who is a member of the law firm of Scott & Bardin, described over the long-distance telephone yesterday the circumstances surrounding the making of the affidavits. He was called into the office of his partner, Judge Bardin, he said, where he found Bardin, Roland Rich Wolley—Mrs. McPherson's attorney—and two women.

One of the women was introduced as Mrs. Wiseman, Scott said, and Bardin explained that neither she

Perjury Conspiracy Investigation to be Started; Twin Sister Confronts Mrs. Wiseman, Refuting Story

A second impostor yesterday entered the McPherson case when investigators and officials began a search for the woman who posed as the mysterious "Miss X" and signed a sworn affidavit in what the authoritis now believe was a brazen and well-financed conspiracy of perjury and deception.

With Mrs. Villa May McDonald Wiseman Sielaff, the first one to be exposed by The Times in the "Carmel vindication" hoax, awaiting arraignment here on bad-check charges this morning, Monterey county officials prepared to take action in connection with the affidavits produced here when Mrs. Sielaff, as "Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman," first made public her story that she and "Miss X," and not Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, were the cottage companions of Kenneth G. Ormiston at Carmel-by-the-Sea.

The Monterey county grand jury may be summoned, dispatches from the north announced, to investigate persons and motives involved in the two affidavits signed in Monterey county and brought to Los Angeles by the $18-a-week seamstress.

The dramatic highlight of the day came when Mrs. Sielaff, the woman who spent more than $2000 to "explain" the Carmel situation in the McPherson case and landed in jail on check charges was brought face to face with her twin sister, Mrs. Virla Kimball, of Oakland, who verified the exposure by The Times of the hoax. Mrs. Kimball came to Los Angeles to see her sister and to confront her after the latter stated on the night of her arrest that the Oakland sister, and not she was Villa May McDonald and guilty of the check activities.

This morning, while Mrs. Sielaff is taken to court here for arraignment on the bad-check charges, Dist.-Atty. Albert Warth and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Argyl Campbell of Monterey county will hold a conference to determine the next steps in their investigation.

Northern dispatches announcing this conference came to Los Angeles after a series of developments here indicated that the mysterious McPherson case, with its many amazing ramifications, may be reopened at once.

FALSITY ESTABLISHED

The stamp of falsity was placed upon the Monterey county affidavits by the evidence produced by The Times showing that "Mrs. Wiseman" was manipulating a sewing machine in Los Angeles at the time she said she was in Carmel, and by the subsequent discovery of Mrs. Virla Kimball, 4814 Lawton avenue, Oakland, her sister. Mrs. Wiseman, in her stories, said "Miss X" was her sister. At the time of her arrest Mrs. Wiseman blamed her twin sister for all her troubles.

Discovery of Mrs. Kimball revealed that Mrs. Sielaff had only one sister, Mrs. Kimball, and that Mrs. Kimball never was in Carmel.

INSANITY MOVE MADE

The other developments of the day were:

An application for an insanity complaint against Mrs. Sielaff was made to Sherman Smith, secretary to the Lunacy Commission, through Dr. William Dodge, a member of the commission. The doctor said he was approached on the matter by a man who said he was C. M. Redfern, a friend of Gustav J. Sielaff, the woman's former husband. After a telephone conference with Chief Trial Deputy District-Attorney Fricke, Mr. Smith declined to issue the complaint, stating the District Attorney's office preferred to have Mrs. Sielaff arraigned in court on charges already pending against her.

Mrs. Kimball, the accused woman's twin sister, arrived in Los Angeles to help straighten out the tangle caused by her sister's insistence that Villa May McDonald was the other woman and to assist in disproving the claim that she was with Mrs. Wiseman in Carmel. Mrs. Kimball and her relatives declared emphatically that Mrs. Kimball never was in Carmel and that there was no other sister in the McDonald family. Mrs. Kimball reiterated her previous statements that Mrs. Sielaff "must have been paid" for making such affidavits and denied that she knew anything about them.

NEW CHECK CHARGE

Justice of the Peace Russell Scott of Salinas made public for the first time the complete details surrounding the signing of the questioned affidavits and gave the description of the woman who posed as "Miss X." This description indicated that the bogus "Miss X" was probably the woman with Mrs. Sielaff when she, under the name of Villa May McDonald, issued an asserted bad check in San Jose the latter part of last July. A complaint on this charge was asked of the District Attorney's office there and an investigation is now in progress.

Additional statements obtained by The Times reporters in Oakland and San Francisco yesterday further established the absurdity of the story with which Mrs. Sielaff first came forward as the sister of the mythical Miss X in the McPherson case and with which she attempted to talk her way out of jail on the bad-check charges.

Discussing the new development in the case, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Campbell of Monterey county said last night:

"We know that Mrs. Wiseman appeared before Russell Scott, Monterey notary public, and made affidavit that she and her sister occupied the Carmel cottage and that a woman, posing as a sister, signed herself as Miss X. With the discovery of Mrs. Wiseman's sister and her proof of the falsity of the affidavit, it appears that a serious offense was committed in this county. Tomorrow will decide whether we shall proceed criminally against Mrs. Wiseman.

"We will launch an investigation now to determine the real identity of the woman who masquarades as Mrs. Wiseman's sister and, if possible, prosecute her for perjury also."

REMAINS IN JAIL

In the meantime, Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff remained in the County Jail awaiting her appearance at 10 o'clock this morning in the Superior Court on the hearing on a writ of habeas corpus, obtained by her attorney, S. S. Hahn, in an effort to procure an immediate arraignment and release on bail of the woman on the check charges.

Apparently undisturbed by the revelation that her last "ace in the hole," the twin sister on whom she relied for vindication of the check charges, had repudiated her and can not be of any assistance, Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff was spending her time looking forward to the arrival of Mrs. Kimball from the north, yesterday.

Mrs. Kimball, it was revealed by her daughter, is the twin sister of Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff, but she most assuredly was not at Carmel with her or Ormiston, or any else, being busily engaged in taking care of her large family in Oakland.

Inasmuch as Mrs. Kimball, whose maiden name was Virla McDonald, was the only sister Mrs. Villa May McDonald Wiseman-Sielaff ever possessed, the "Miss X," if any such person ever existed, would have had to be Mrs. Kimball according to "Mrs. Wiseman's" story. Thus the entire Carmel structure, reared on the discredited statements of "Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman," crumbled and left the Carmel incident exactly where it was before she entered the case.

MRS. KIMBALL TALKS

Mrs. Kimball said that her father was Frank Owen McDonald, of Des Moines, Iowa. She declared that she and Villa (Mrs. Wiseman,) were twins, born January 15, 1890, and that she, Virla, "is the older by five minutes."

Their father died five months after their birth, she said. He had lived in pretty good circumstances."

She characterized her sister as a "bad lot" as a child. When Villa was 17 years of age, Mrs. Kimball asserted, she ran away and married a man by the name of Wiseman, and a son named Frank was born of that union. They were divorced in Nevada three years later, Mrs. Kimball said.

MRS. WISEMAN'S ATTORNEY WARNS 'MRS. M'PHERSON CAMP' AGAINST THROWING OF STONES

Following is a statement issued yesterday by S. S. Hahn, attorney for the "sister of Miss X:"

Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman is accused of the crime of issuing checks without sufficient funds. I have been retained by her to defend her on this charge. She is presumed to be innocent until proven guilty beyond all reasonable doubt. To that end I am employing all efforts within the law to obtain justice for her. I am concerned in her defense on the crime charge and nothing else.

The Aimee McPherson scandal is a matter in which I am not concerned at all. But I am constrained to say that the attacks made upon my client from Mrs. McPherson's camp to make it appear that Mrs. Wiseman thrust herself on them without encouragement from them are very cowardly to say the least. Mrs. Wiseman is a defenseless woman who has sacrificed her sister's honor and her own dignity in defense of Mrs. McPherson's reputation. The Temple crowd better not throw stones at this lady or Mrs. Wiseman is liable to shock the foundations of the Temple by throwing rocks at Mrs. McPherson.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THE lonesomest man on earth is a guest in Los Angeles.

He is Adams Martin Wyant, a Congressman from Pennsylvania, who is on a tour of the West, investigating waterways and agricultural conditions.

The senses reel and consciousness falters when it is learned that Mr. Wyant—not believing in Congressional junkets—is making the trip at his own expense.

The usual Congressional party returns to Washington with indigestion and complete data on the regions where the best cigars are given away at public banquets.

Mr. Wyant, investigating on his own hook, will return to stagger the nation's capital with some real information. But he will not add much to his popularity among the free-trip boys.

THE PRINCE OF WALES

This boy friend of ours—His Highness, the Prince of Wales—grows in interest with every cable dispatch.

During the past week, we have been thrilled twice: once to hear he was a guest at a frisky movie party at which Constance Talmadge was hostess; the other that he was speaker of a somewhat remarkable address at a convention of scientists.

On both counts, the English are growing petulant with him. He performs his official routine duties better than any other English prince within the memory of man; and he also fox trots. But, to the dismay and disgust of the British, he refuses to go to the Derby, which, he says, is a waste of time; he does not shoot, which he says is a bore; he ducks the opera; and he balks at bridge.

In fact, although he is a tip-top public official, he declines absolutely to be an English gentleman.

THE FISHING MANIA

Nobody seems to know whether President Coolidge has started something—or whether he is just following the parade.

Anyhow, the gentle art of hooking the fish has become a madness in America. It is estimated that 10,000,000 men and women in the United States are amateur fishermen.

As with most things in America, the sport has a practical commercial side. A few years ago, the best of the fine tackle came from Europe. Not only is more than 90 per cent of the tackle now home grown, but the United States has become a heavy exporter of fish paraphernalia. Our sporting goods houses are driving the foreign manufacturers to the wall.

Also, the fishing fad has resulted in a hot drive against factories which pollute the creeks and streams by using them for sewers.

HANG IT ON CHANDELIER

Incidentally, some of his admirers have made President Coolidge a grand present. It is a stuffed fish—mounted on a board.

I can imagine the glow of pride with which one receives such a tribute of art; but just what does one do with a stuffed dead fish when he gets home?

Twin Sister Faces Mrs. Wiseman Refuting "Miss X" Carmel Story

IMPOSTOR IN DRAMATIC REUNION HERE WITH KIN

Tie of Blood and Flesh Binds Sisters as Love Nears Breaking Point After Carmel Hoax

The love of one sister for another was torn almost to the breaking point last night when Mrs. Virla Kimball, twin sister of Mrs. Villa May McDonald Wiseman Sielaff, confronted the latter in Los Angeles and refuted the Wiseman woman's charges that she, Mrs. Kimball, was the mysterious Miss X who shared a cottage in Carmel-by-the-Sea with Kenneth G. Ormiston, former Angelus Temple radio operator, shortly after the disappearance of Aimee Semple McPherson from Ocean Park.

But the ties of flesh and blood proved too strong, and though Mrs. Kimball branded her sister's charges as the hallucinations of a mind made sick through injuries suffered in a railroad accident, she signified her intention of standing by her in her latest trouble, as she has so often in the past.

Mrs. Kimball flew to her sister's side after she was apprised of the arrest of Mrs. Wiseman on bad-check charges. The meeting of the sisters was dramatic. Mrs. Wiseman, whom The Times exposed Saturday as the perpetrator of the "Carmel vindication" hoax, brought from the County Jail to confront her sister, presented a cold, taciturn figure, whom, attendants remarked, "seemed more intent on brazening it out" than in seeking the protecting arms of her kin. In sharp contrast to her stoic-like appearance, the sister, who declares she always "footed the bills of Villa's follies," awaited her—a wan little figure.

SISTER'S REPUTATION GOOD

Mrs. Kimball, whose reputation for veracity and conduct is vouched for by many Oakland neighbors, denied that she was ever in the Carmel love nest with Ormiston, or had ever met the man. "Villa is a victim of 'money-madness,'" she said in a choking voice.

"I can't imagine how she can make such statements about me," she said—"about me, her only sister. She was paid for it—she must have been paid to do it. Somebody paid."

The two sisters are related to a prominent family whose members have held high official positions in Idaho and in Iowa. Villa, now known as Mrs. Sielaff, is separated from her husband, Gustav J. Sielaff. Mrs. Kimball recently filed suit for divorce.

"I am so sorry for Villa," Mrs. Kimball said discussing the sister whose troubles brought her here from Oakland. "She was injured in a train accident many years ago. The injuries were fearful. She was ill for a long, long time. She suffered the loss of a thumb and was in a hospital with a nervous breakdown for months.

"Just last April she told me that her son, Frank had died in New York. She wanted money to attend his funeral. Friends told us they saw Frank in the Y.M.C.A. Building, in San Francisco, in May."

Then Mrs. Kimball related how impossible it would have been for her to be present at Carmel at the time Ormiston was there.

"Court records in Alameda county can show that story was impossible," she said. "I was in court in Oakland May 28 and testified. My mother, Mrs. Clara McDonald, was there with me, as my witness. The divorce was granted early in June," she said.

SPENDS QUIET DAY

Anxiously awaiting the arrival of her sister, Mrs. Wiseman spent a quiet and uncommunicative Sunday in the County Jail, where she is being held on bad-check charges.

With the exception of Mrs. J. K. Fronk, wife of the financial manipulator who is now in San Quentin, Mrs. Wiseman had no visitors. Mrs. Fronk's call was professional. She is now employed by a bail bond company.

Mrs. Wiseman arose early and spent most of her day in her cell. She did not attend church services in the afternoon. After eating dinner in her cell, she attended a hymn service and native talent performance of women prisoners on the thirteenth floor in the chapel. Mrs. Wiseman, matrons said, at first did not want to go, saying she would rather be alone.

The matrons persuaded her to attend the entertainment, however, and afterward she said she was very glad she had gone, that she had had a very good time.

Women prisoners sharing Mrs. Wiseman's quarters said that she was very quiet in her cell, having extremely little to say. Beyond telling some of her companions about expecting her sister, and expressed the hope she will soon get out on bail, she did not discuss her case.

GADD HEARING SET

Judge Shaw Will Listen to Writ Application Next Week

The application of Peter R. Gadd, Inc., for a writ of prohibition to restrain the City Council from further discussion of the West Adams storm-drain contract, will be heard the 23rd inst. by Judge Shaw. The matter was on the calendar for hearing last week, but was continued by agreement.

The Gadd company, which constructed the West Adams storm drain, in its application for the writ, set forth that all of the things that the Council can do in the situation with any legal effect have been done, and that further discussion of their account in Council simply delays procedure to collect payment. This, it is represented, creates doubt in the minds of persons and firms who bid for public contracts, and will result in higher costs on future city work.

LUNACY HEARING ATTEMPT FAILS

Stranger Seeks Insane Ward for "Miss X's Sister"

Commission Member Tells of Being Approached

Applicant Declares He is Representing Husband

An attempt to have the impenetrable doors of the psychopathic ward of the County Hospital suddenly swallow up Mrs. Villa May McDonald Wiseman Sielaff, who has been exposed by The Times as a fraud in the McPherson case, was undertaken here yesterday by a stranger to authorities. The move was blocked by the authorities and the woman is still in the County Jail and will be brought before the court for arraignment this morning on bad-check charges.

Application for removal of the woman to the insane ward was made by a man who said he is C. M. Redfern of San Francisco and that he is acting for Gustav Sielaff, geologist for the Southern Pacific Railroad, who married the woman some years ago and now wishes her placed in an insane asylum. Redfern applied to Dr. William Dodge, a member of the Lunacy Commission, who said that because the woman is being held on a felony charge she could not immediately be placed in the psycopathic ward and that the District Attorney would have to be consulted.

Dr. Dodge said that C. M. Redfern came to him at his home in the Hotel Trinity yesterday with a note of introduction to him from his son, John Dodge of San Francisco.

"It seems as though my son knows Mr. Redfern," Dr. Dodge said, "and that the two work together some for the Pacific Oil Company. Mr. Sielaff is also a Southern Pacific man—the oil company is really an organization of the Southern Pacific—and that's the way they came to know each other.

"Redfern came to me and wanted to know how to get this woman in the psychopathic ward. He said this woman has been making trouble for her family for some time and her husband wanted to have her placed in an insane asylum, but her mother always objected. Her husband was called east somewhere to bury some relative, I think, in Boise, and had to leave, so he asked Redfern to come here and look after her.

GIVES ADVICE

"I told Redfern that if she were not in jail we could have her put in the psychophatic ward right away, but being in jail we couldn't do that. I told him how to go about it. I told him to get an order from the District Attorney's office first. I sent him to see Fricke of the District Attorney's office and arrange it so that her hearing would come up at 10 o'clock in the morning.

"That's all I know about it. I don't know where Redfern went when he left me. I'm a member of the Lunacy Commission and I suppose that's why my son sent him to me and it was because her husband is with the Southern Pacific and they all know each other, I suppose, that John (Dodge's son) sent them to me."

ON HEELS OF EXPOSURE

Dist.-Atty. Fricke informed Secretary Smith of the Lunacy Commission that the woman could not thus be taken at once out of the hands of the prosecutor's office, which is conducting an investigation of the woman's operations exposed by The Times. The move to have the woman placed in the insanity ward came after twenty-four hours of developments started by The Times' expose, which effectively eliminated the so-called "Miss X" from the McPherson case and disclosed conclusively that neither Mrs. Sielaff nor her twin-sister were Kenneth G. Ormiston's companions in the Carmel-by-the-Sea adventure.

INTERVIEWED AT HOME

BOISE (Idaho) Sept. 12.—Gustav Sielaff and Mrs. Clara McDonald, mother of Mrs. Villa May McDonald Sielaff, the McPherson case sensation in Los Angeles, are here from San Francisco attending the funeral of Idaho Supreme Court Justice Lee. Lee is a brother of Mrs. McDonald, and an uncle of Mrs. Sielaff. Sielaff declined to discuss Mrs. Sielaff's predicament in Los Angeles and declined to permit Mrs. McDonald to be interviewed on the subject.

Advertised Son's Demise

The top photograph shows the receipt Mrs. McDonald Wiseman Sielaff received for the classified advertisement of the "death" of her son Frank, who has been with his mother during the time she posed as "Miss X's" sister. Below are reproduced the two official announc ements which the mysterious young woman used to hoax her own family.

KILLS SON IN DEATH NOTICE

Mrs. Wiseman Shown to Have Falsely Advertised Demise of Her Offspring

Further ramifications of Mrs. Lorraine Villa May McDonald Wiseman Sielaff's efforts to deceive the public and her family were disclosed last night when newspaper clippings and a classified advertising receipt revealed that the mysterious young woman spent $1.75 to "kill" her son by way of the classified advertising route.

Frank McDonald, the youth who was known to other rooms at Mrs. McDonald's last Los Angeles home on South Alvarado street, as Bob, "died" on April 9, by way of a San Francisco paper. The official announcement followed the verbal one made by Mrs. McDonald to her twin-sister, Mrs. Virla Kimball, and was declared by the mother to have occurred in New York.

The San Francisco announcement read:

McDonald—In New York, April—, Frank McDonald, beloved son of Mrs. Villa Sielaff, brother of Alwine Sielaff, grandson of Mrs. C. McDonald.

On the date of the son's supposed death his mother called on her sister and announced her bereavement, at the same time asking for a loan to pay her expenses East, according to Mrs. Kimball's statement. Mrs. McDonald disappeared and had not been seen until exposed by The Times, her sister said.

According to the tragic story unfolded to the sister by Mrs. McDonald, the youth had gone to New York seeking fame on the silver screen. A letter, purporting to have been written to his sister by Frank from New York, was found in Mrs. McDonald's effects at the time of her arrest.

"We never did believe he was dead," was the terse statement of Mrs. Kimball's 16-year-old daughter in Oakland yesterday when speaking of the acts of her aunt.

The receipt for the advertisement indicates it was telephoned to the newspaper from Oakland and was ordered for one issue. It was ordered under the name of Mrs. V. M. Sielaff and gave the hoax perpetrator's mother's home as the return address.

WISEMAN CASE SKEINS TANGLE

Mrs. Kimball asserts that her sister's "bad check career" and "money-madness" grew out of an accident near Salt Lake City shortly after her divorce when the engine of a train on which she was riding was wrecked, the cars crumpled together, and her sister received serious head injuries.

EFFECT OF INJURY

Mrs. Kimball said: "It was that injury which I believe gave her 'money madness.' She was placed in a Salt Lake institution for a year, and it was thought she was cured, but we were mistaken in this, as Villa's whole life shows."

Eleven years ago, Mrs. Kimball stated, Villa married G. J. Sielaff at Salt Lake and later they came to California. Sielaff made a "wonderful husband," according to Mrs. Kimball, and they were very happy for a time and Mrs. Sielaff seemed to love her children; she had another child—a daughter born of this union.

"Then she went back to her queer tricks," continued Mrs. Kimball. "She would borrow money from mother and me and would disappear for months at a time and we wouldn't hear from her.

"Two and a half years ago she cashed a number of bad checks in San Francisco. She also signed a note for $125 which she couldn't meet, and she separated from her husband. At that time the Burns people were after her, and the family made up what she owed. Besides the checks, she left several unpaid hotel bills.

DROPS FROM SIGHT

"Later she dropped from sight mysteriously."

Mrs. Kimball asserted that she and Villa were the only children in the family. There was no other sister to be the mysterious Miss X about whom Mrs. Wiseman talked so much.

"Villa phoned me from San Francisco on April 7, last," she continued, "saying she was on her way east to arrange for the funeral of her son, Frank Wiseman, who had died in New York. I met her at the Oakland Mole and talked with her for awhile. She went east and I've never seen her since. I don't believe Frank is dead."

Russell Scott, justice of the peace, of Salinas, before whom August 15, last, Mrs. Wiseman and the mysterious "Miss X" appeared voluntarily and made two affidavits which centered public interest in the asserted love nest at Carmel, yesterday was showin a photograph of Mrs. Kimball, asserted to have been the Miss X of the cottage, and declared he did not recognize her as the woman who made one of the affidavits.

He described "Miss X" as having dark brown bobbed hair, about 30 years of age, thin-faced and of slender build. She was about five feet four inches in height, he said, weighed about 125 pounds, and wore a dark gray coat, tan shoes and green hat.

Scott said he noticed that she was wearing a ring with a large black setting on one of her fingers, and that Mrs. Wiseman wore a monogram ring on her wedding-ring finger.

The Soviet republic plans to install telephone systems in nearly 2000 county seats by the close of 1928.

TEMPLE PASTOR SILENT ON HOAX

Mrs. McPherson Does Not Mention Case in Three Sunday Sermons

Mrs. McPherson conducted three services at Angelus Temple yesterday, the record attendance of approximately 5500 persons greeting her at the evening service when she spoke on the subject, "Millions of Diamonds." Her subject at the morning service was "Handling the Sword," and was received by nearly a maximum gathering. A large audience attended the afternoon service, the feature of which was a debate on "The Old-Time Religion vs. the Modern Religion."

At none of the three services did Mrs. McPherson make any statement touching on the sensational turn taken by the "Miss X" hoax. The evangelist's mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, did not occupy a place on the rostrum with her daughter, as was her custom for a while, but sat near the eastern exit on the second balcony.

Young Doctor Jailed on Dope Law Charges

Dr. Allen I. Mann, 29 years of age, a physician living at 2803 Halldale street, was arrested yesterday on a charge of violating the State Poison Act and will be arraigned in Municipal Court this morning.

At the time of his arrest, twenty-five cubes of morphine and a hypodermic needle were found upon his person, according to J. M. Ferguson of the pharmacy board, who made the arrest.

Mann is being held in the County Jail.

HER INTELLIGENCE UNEQUALED RECORD

Elizabeth Benson

Former Los Angeles girl whose intelligence quotient, 214 per cent, has never been equalled.

HOME DUTY AND CAREER MASTERED

Mother Becomes Success as Writer, Yet Brings Up Remarkable Daughter

Combining a career with motherhood and perfecting the combination to such an extent that the career resulted in recognized success in the literary field, while the motherhood brought forth a daughter who at the age of 12 is regarded by educational authorities as a prodigy with the mental ability of a girl of 19.

That is a story of universal appeal and it is one that every workaday mother will read with interest, for it is a story that combines two problems that are faced by many mothers of today. For those who have but the problem of motherhood to contend with, it is also of interest for the early day training and teaching of the daughter are bound to interest mothers who are facing the task of molding the characters of their daughters and preparing them for the stern fight to come with the world.

Elizabeth Benson, 12 years of age, a former student in the Sentous Junior High School here and now residing in New York, has prepared for entrance into Barnard College this fall at an age three years below that of the youngest student previously admitted to that institution. She was rated under a severe series of tests of having the mental quotient of 214 per cent; a mark that has never been surpassed.

The girl was reared from earliest infancy by a mother who besides the care of her babe, had the problems of existence to solve and who had to carve for herself a name in her chosen profession, literature. As Anne Austin, the mother was successful in both fields of endeavor.

The story of Elizabeth and her author-editor mother, dealing with the girl's entire life and development, will be published exclusively in Los Angeles by The Times. The story will begin in Thursday's issue.

SIXTY CAUGHT BY RAIDERS

Santa Monica Resorts Yield Liquor, Automobiles and Asserted Bootleggers

Bathing beach bootleggers to the number of more than a score fell into the clutches of a raiding party of county officers led by Chief Enforcement Officer Contreras, according to the latter's reports of week-end raids that resulted in sixty arrests for asserted liquor-law violations.

The sands of Santa Monica and adjacent spots were combed for dampness other than that provided by sea water and unexpected results were accomplished, Contreras said, including the apprehension of an automobile electrically equipped to fool searching prohibition officers.

Fred H. Teetle, asserted operator of the automobile, was arrested, and seventeen cases of liquor confiscated. The officers asserted that Teetle, by pushing a cleverly concealed set of electric switches, could cause mysterious doors to open in what ordinarily seemed the solid sides and back of the expensive roadster.

DRUGGIST ARRESTED

George H. Whitehouse, asserted proprietor of a drug store at Montana avenue and Lincoln Boulevard, Santa Monica, was also arrested, and charged with selling synthetic gin from his place of business. An attempt to apprehend a suspected bootlegger in a moving automobile resulted in the suspect leaping from his car, Contreras said, and escaping, although he left a trail of blood as the result of a fall on the pavement when he jumped from his car.

Eight automobiles were also confiscated in the Santa Monica raids. Those arrested are scheduled to appear before Judge Garrett in Santa Monica early this week.

Swooping down on a Mexican colony near Lamanda Park, the county enforcement officers declared that they found bootlegging operations in full swing, with barrels of mash. Seventeen Mexicans were arrested. They also will appear before Judge Garrett.

WINE CONFISCATED

At Montrose, Pearl Palmer was arrested for the alleged sale of a quantity of liquor. Contreras said that the woman's husband was apprehended on a similar charge last week and is now at liberty on bail.

After purchasing five gallons of wine from Natale Achille, grape grower at Montrose, the officers declare they were forced to overpower the man and take from his possession an 1873-model Springfield army rifle, which he grabbed in an apparent attempt to resist arrest. The gun was found loaded, it was declared.

Living costs in Italy are rising with some foodstuffs the highest on record.

BEAUTY WILL FIGHT SUIT

Corliss Palmer Files Answer to Mrs. Brewster's Move to Collect $200,385 Judgment

Corliss Palmer, motion-picture beauty-contest winner and screen actress, will fight the suit brought against her in the local Superior Court by Mrs. Eleanor V. Brewster, wife of Eugene V. Brewster, millionaire publisher.

This was indicated when Miss Palmer filed an answer to Mrs. Brewster's suit, which asks the recovery of $200,385 Mrs. Brewster asserted she obtained in the New York courts against Miss Palmer for the asserted alienation of the affections of Brewster.

In her local suit, Mrs. Brewster set forth a copy of her New York complaint, in which she charged Miss Palmer lured Brewster away from his wife and child and induced the publisher to establish her in Morristown, N. J.

Mrs. Brewster stated she obtained the New York judgment against Miss Palmer March 22, last, but that Miss Palmer had failed to pay any part of it. It was stated Miss Palmer had filed an answer to the New York action, but, according to reports from the East, she did not appear in court at the time the case was tried.

In her answer to the local suit, the screen beauty denied categorically the charges made by Mrs. Brewster. With the filing of the answer the case is now in a position to be set for trial.

It was recently announced that Brewster would seek a divorce in Mexico. This announcement brought word from Mrs. Brewster that she would fight any such move.

Accused Bandit in Auto Hold-ups Asks Probation

Accused of being one of a gang said to have terrorized residents in the southwest section of the city for several months, Sam Abernathy, convicted of robbery, is scheduled to appear today before Judge Burnell for hearing on an application for probation. If probation is denied, Abernathy will probably be sentenced. He faces a possible sentence of from five years to life.

Two other members of the gang have already been sentenced to San Quentin, but Abernathy was permitted to file an application for probation.

It was charged the three held up various automobile drivers, holding one for some time and finally taking his car.

AN OPTIMISTIC NOTE

"Sentiment," says Irving Berlin, popular song-writer and heiress-marryer, "is downing jazz." This is probably a better way of securing relief than brick-throwing, but it's a whole lot slower.

MAY SUCCEED COOLIDGE

Talk about the pride of youth! About the proudest boy in the country is the lad who guided President Coolidge to the place where he could catch trout. Probably he is already grooming himself for the Presidency.

POOR BABE!

An eastern philanthropist says that "a child born of a woman who has been to college should be placed in some institution where it would be properly cared for." These wise cracks at college people are getting worse and worse.

SAUERKRAUT

Bernard Gottlieb of the University of Vienna says the diet that builds up other parts of the body may fail to function for the teeth. He recommends cabbage and spinach. We begin to see why the German military regime had so many teeth in it.

TALK TRAFFIC

A new cable has been laid from England to America that will accommodate 2500 letters a minute, or eight times faster than any other line across the sea. It seems we have considerable to say to England. Sixty years ago a cablegram of twenty words cost $100. Today a week-end message may be sent for $1.

FIVE-FOOT SHELF

Few people realize the enormous influence that Dr. Eliot's "five-foot shelf" of books has had upon the world. He chose the volumes and Robert Collier published them. More than 14,000,000 copies have been sold at a valuation of $20,827,188. Eliot recommended the five-foot shelf as the fundamentals of a liberal education.

ET TU, BRUTE?

"Censorship," stoutly asserts Judge Ben Lindsay, "makes for a flabby, sinful, spineless, hopeless youth." This is the worst swat the censors have yet received—and from one of the least-suspected sources. Perhaps Nicholas Murray Butler will come out in favor of gun-toting, or Bill Hart in favor of full dress, which, by the way, Sean O'Casey says is suitable only to wear in a coffin.

A GOOD CIRCULATION

The total volume of money in circulation on August 1 was $4,858,473,503, an increase of $128,950,992 over August 1, 1925, says the Washington Post. The per capita wealth on the same date this year was $42.01 as compared with $41.31 a year ago. For twenty years before the war the average wealth was $33. As long as the circulation of the United States is in this condition, there is little to fear.

LONGEVITY

"Everlasting physical life," a learned doctor told the annual convention of the American Academy of Physio-Therapy, "will be but a step, as soon as scientists can discover the secret of combating poisons thrown off internally by body cells." Who knows but what those long-lived patriarchs of Bible times knew that secret? It behooves the scoffers to stop scoffing and join the search to regain it.

YORKSHIRE EXCITED

A dispatch from London says that a strange astronomical phenomenon observed in the sky the other night above the city of Hull is puzzling scientists. "It resembled an explosion," reads the report, "accompanied by vivid illuminations, making the Yorkshire natives think the end of the world was approaching." Nothing to worry about. It was only a defeated California anti-World Court leader making a quick getaway.

WET PROPAGANDA

What kind of talk is this? Chemists have discovered, or pretended to discover, that bread—just common bread—the kind that mother never makes any more—has more alcoholic content than beverages permitted under the prohibition law. They don't tell how much alcohol there is in cake, but we may have to take to eating it as a substitute if we are to keep perfectly sober. One comfort to the consistent dry—he can lay his bread away until it becomes stale, for stale bread is said to contain no alcohol.

A COMEBACK

Germany is rapidly regaining her former place in the commercial world. She has surpassed France and is next to the United States in foreign trade. Great Britain is in front. Germany's foreign trade increased 35.5 per cent from 1924 to 1925. France's trade increased but 1.4 per cent in the same period. The United States enlarged her commerce abroad 11.4 per cent and England 10.9 per cent the same year. Germany did a foreign business of $4,970,000,000 in 1913; in 1925 its volume was $5,052,000,000.

FIGHTING ORGANIZED CRIME

Reform of criminal procedure in California and elsewhere is an absolute essential for the protection of organized society against organized crime. Nineteenth-century procedure is not adequate for twentieth-century conditions. In a great number of present-day cases the accused is a member of a criminal syndicate and is backed by powerful criminal and political influences.

These cases assume the appearance of a prize fight in which the prosecution fights under Queensberry rules and the defense fights with bare knuckles and uses its feet. The prosecution is disqualified for fouling, but not the defense. Such contests are unequal. The criminal element is aware of this and takes full advantage of its opportunity and privileges.

Maj. Tuller, chairman of the Commission on Reform of Criminal Procedure, stated the problem concisely when he said in his address before the California Bar Association:

> The time has come when it is indispensably necessary to have a new conception of the purpose and objective to be accomplished by the criminal law, and that purpose must be to give the law-abiding citizen the fullest degree of protection and safety.

The fullest degree of protection for the law-abiding citizen is the first duty of all government. To permit the protection of the rights of the accused to take precedence over the protection of the rights of organized society is to make the part greater than the whole.

In the criminal statutes of California the greatest care has been taken to protect the rights of the accused, and this is just and proper. But some of the safeguards are so worded that unscrupulous attorneys have been able to take advantage of them and thus defeat the ends of justice, which are to protect the innocent and to punish the guilty. But the protection of the innocent extends further than the consideration of the individual case before the court; the protection of the innocent includes the whole mass of law-abiding citizens—organized society—but inadequately protected at the present time against organized crime.

Too many permit maudlin sentiment to blind them to the truth of the old maxim: "Who releases the wolf from the trap becomes responsible for the lambs it slays afterward."

For the protection of society without prejudicing the case of the accused there should be a swift, certain, ascertainment of the facts; and this is not possible under the present laws, by reason of technicalities which permit the defense to win almost endless delays. To be effective justice must be swift as well as certain. It is the delays of the law that awaken in potential criminals the idea that they can rob and slay with impunity.

In the country at large at the present time there is not one conviction for every ten murders, hardly one conviction for fifty robberies and lesser deeds of violence. And when convictions are secured powerful and often secret influences are set to work to secure the commutation of the sentence or release on probation. For a prisoner receiving a ten or twenty-year sentence to serve that time is almost unprecedented.

Meanwhile, the number of crimes of violence steadily mounts higher. In certain circles violation of the law is viewed with admiration, and the unpunished criminal becomes a kind of hero. With this example before it the steps of wayward youth naturally turn to the paths of crime. There are flowers for the criminal, but not for the victims. More tears are shed for the murderer than for his innocent prey.

These conditions can be remedied; and they must be remedied if organized crime is to be combated successfully. Maj. Tuller and his associates of the State Commission on the Reform of Criminal Procedure are on the right track. They deserve the fullest support of the people of California in their effort to secure the enactment of the reforms they advocate into State statutes and, where necessary, into constitutional provisions.

THE MEN BEHIND THE SCREEN

The dignity of independent labor is receiving a new exemplification in the mechanical departments of the motion-picture industry of Los Angeles. Through the press and the silver screen the world sees a great deal of those who work under the spotlight—the descendants of the school of Anthony Comstock say we see a great deal too much—but there is an army of 10,000 working in the studios and on location to make these productions possible, the men behind the guns, that we never see and of whom little is heard.

Great is the motion-picture industry, one of the most important, most productive of a nation noted for its great industries; and not the least element of its greatness is the employment it affords for thousands of workmen in more than 100 mechanical crafts. No other industry is so universal. From the gold beater to the trench digger the gamut of industry is run. Enough carpenters are employed constructing those sets to build in a few years a modern city; more electricians than are employed by the average electric company; enough wielders of the brush to paint a whole town red. They contribute alike to the prosperity of the industry and to the community in which they are located.

And the Motion Picture Producers' Association is not unmindful of the essential part these actors behind the scenes play. The organization is setting an example in giving to the employees exceptional working conditions that other industries could follow to their profit. They recognize that a contented and happy workman is the best investment. Uniform minimum wage scales have been adopted that are in every instance equal to those of the labor unions, and this minimum applies only to those beginning their employment in the studios. There is wage advancement for all who show themselves capable of exceptional service. There are schools on the lots where the extras can receive free instruction while awaiting their turns. Group insurance associations are organized; and a movement is now on foot to furnish to the employees in the mechanical departments free legal and medical advice.

Of course, this system is mortally offensive to the walking delegates of the labor unions. They have striven in vain to "organize" the industry along closed-shop lines. They forbid craftsmen holding union cards to accept employment in a studio where independent workmen are employed. They strive to stir up discontent, but their attempts are as futile as trying to sweep back the tides with a broom.

No holder of a labor-union card is barred by the association from employment in the studios. They are operated strictly on the American open-shop plan; but the exceptional working conditions which they provide—gymnasiums for the employees and entertainments in which the stars take part—these conditions have caused many members of the unions to tear up their cards and join the ranks of the independent workers. The dues they once paid to the unions now go for payments on their cars.

Los Angeles is exceptionally favored in that it is the center of such an industry, that the 10,000 employed in the mechanical department all reside here. It affords a striking example of what independent labor under favorable conditions can accomplish.

TALKLESS GOLF

Fifteen women played it on the links at Hastings, Neb., just to show their husbands it could be done. They decided in advance to limit their discourse to the fairways and penalize anyone speaking on the tees and greens. They played nine holes without saying a word.

Why they did not play out the eighteen holes like clams is not stated. Possibly it was too much of a strain on their loquaciousness.

How they could play even nine holes without saying some words is a mystery. No man has ever been able to do it. There are words that have to be said at certain stages of the game, regardless of all precedents.

And there are certain words that are legitimate to say with enthusiasm in situations that could be mentioned—words that would be utterly inexcusable under any other circumstances.

That these women succeeded places them in the same illustrious class with Gertrude Ederle. It was a remarkable performance from every viewpoint.

But talkless golf lacks much that is picturesque. Great problems have been threshed out on the links and important questions settled. It is a good place to go for perspective.

Presidents have been elected and directors selected while digging up the turf. One of the chief charms of the game is the intercourse of congenial foursomes.

More than one man has holed-in in some business affair as he made a good putt on the green. Wits often return sharpened against wits.

If all golf were talkless golf, when would underlings receive instruction? If the man who makes it in par could not unload large quantities of superior wisdom upon his less fortunate companions, how could he enjoy the game?

Who would show the dub where to grip his club? He would get his feet all tangled up with the Bobby Jones stance. Indeed, he would not know that Bobby had a stance.

The women should let the game alone as they found it. Clams may make good chowder, but their playfulness would not be golf.

SYNTHETIC SLEEP

We have synthetic milk, synthetic meat, synthetic lard, synthetic butter, synthetic wool, synthetic leather, synthetic music; and now we are to be treated to synthetic sleep.

The chemist has come to feel that he is almighty as a creator. He even at times dismisses Deity from the universe. Now he dreams of giving a pill and having character precipitated in his reactions.

Du Pont appears to have retired from the powder business and is actively devoting himself to blowing up that old and, as he thinks, utterly unnecessary institution called sleep.

"Visualizing fresh triumphs in chemistry, Du Pont pictured the possibility of cutting down the amount of sleep required and even eliminating sleep entirely," says a dispatch coming out of Philadelphia.

Instead of retiring at night we shall just swallow a few drops of synthetic sleep and presto; we shall rub our eyes and it will be morning again. The medicine chest will secure the same results as the mattress.

Without warming up to the new idea too suddenly, however, there are lumpy beds that would make even synthetic sleep seem a boon.

After all, sleep is said to be a sort of disease. The body is filled with poison and sleep is the eradicator. But it seems unnecessary to take a whole night to it. A phial of liquid sleep will suffice.

Mothers will no longer croon lullabies to their babies; they will give them a dose. Snoring will become a lost art and sleeping cars that have long been a delusion and snare will slip into innocuous desuetude. Sleeping at the switch will pass like landmarks of other days.

Doctors will administer "nature's sweet restorer," and mothers can play bridge through the night. Dreams will no longer trouble and nightmares will cease.

It may seem pertinent for Philadelphia to take something to get rid of sleep. Whether it will appeal to the world in general is debatable. Philadelphia does not even wake up in the morning.

SPIRITUAL UNITY

Citing the united churches of Canada and similar organizations and movements throughout the world as examples of the possibility of the fulfillment of his dream, a minister of Los Angeles has expressed the hope that this city may sponsor an international religious conference for the purpose of establishing a Universal Church.

The minister's idea is to call to the conference official and unofficial representatives of every creed and sect of every great religion and to have the delegates organize a church which would embody the fundamental doctrines of all religions and which might, therefore, be approved by adherents of all faiths.

Whether or not such a church is especially desirable or possible might be debated. Unless diplomatically conducted, and in that spirit of charity which even churchly people do not always manifest, interdenominational conferences frequently fail of achieving the ends which inspire them.

With the best of believers of all religions somewhat divided in opinion as to what constitutes "the fundamentals," it is perhaps doubtful if the time is yet ripe for such a gathering as has been suggested. It is also questionable whether or not organic unity of religions and creeds will ever be a desideratum. Diversity makes life interesting in the religious world, as in other fields of human thought and activity. Toleration, kindliness and spiritual unity are always to be desired, however, and it is good to know that these virtues are gradually being developed throughout the world, and especially in America, among adherents of all religions.

CHILD WIDOWS

There are 49,000 married girls in Bombay under 5 years of age, according to the census of 1921. Of these more than 2000 are widows. There are 261,000 married girls between the ages of 5 and 10, of whom 13,000 are widows. And 643,000 girls are married between the ages of 10 and 15. Of these 34,000 are widowed. So says an English writer. However, our own Peggy Joyce is said to have been a widow five times and she is not yet 30.

WALK THE COWS

Government experts have found out that it enriches the milk to walk the cows. A cow that is walked three miles a day appreciably increases the butter fat in her milk. Radios might be installed in barns for the daily dozen. Soon they will be kissing the cows good night to enlarge the product.

CALIFORNIA IN SEPTEMBER

BY BAILEY MILLARD

During the whole term of my exile from California—eleven years in all—while I trod the sidewalks of stupid old Manhattan, that Babel of self-assured greatness, and gazed down the dull brick and concrete perspectives, there was no month of any year when I felt the heimweh quite so much as in September. The fruit stands, acres of them, flaming with red Tokays and golden pears from the good old State and the billboards advertising tours to the Coast were reminders that filled me full of a wistful yearning to be over the hills and far away to the land where I belonged. It was enough to dim one's eyes with foolish moisture to hear some sweet voice singing over the footlights,

"Oh, don't you remember
California in September,
As we stood in the wood
'Neath the beautiful sky."

Just a simple ballad, but how it tugged at the heart!

I think most old Californians existing in New York—and there are hundreds of them—must feel the same way when September comes 'round. They remember the smoky haze of the mountains, the gray sycamores dropping their yellow leaves, the poison oak turning crimson in the sun, the wild oats waving on the breezy uplands, the dooryards bright with pink oleanders, the black-eyed Susans winking saucily from the roadside, the great vineyards with their purpling grapes, the orchards heavy with the red and gold fall fruition, and they want to go home.

Browning, in his Italian villa, sighed from the poetic heart of him,

"Oh, to be in England, now that April's there!"

But somehow by the Atlantic shore my heart turned to California more longingly and lovingly in the early autumn than in any other season.

I remember standing in a New Jersey orchard one sunny fall day with Edwin Markham, the bard who has made the Golden State known to so many eastern readers by his book, "California, the Wonderful," and Hudson Maxim, the inventor. The orchard was part of the Maxim estate, and the owner was inordinately fond of it.

"You'll have to admit, Markham," said the proud landlord, "that Jersey raises some pretty fine fruit."

"Oh, yes," replied the poet, "but you'd better praise its orchard products to Jerseyites, not to Californians. For fruit-growing or anything else California is the only State that lives up to the brag."

Maxim winked at me. "You Californians all talk like that," he said with a broad smile.

And why shouldn't we talk like that? Last September there were rolling out of this State toward the East in a single week more carloads of grapes, plums and other fruit than New Jersey produced during the whole season—such fruit as never was seen in a New Jersey orchard or vineyard. The value of Los Angeles county agricultural crops alone in any recent year has about equaled that of all New Jersey. And to me one golden September in California is worth forty Septembers in New Jersey or any other State on the frost-bitten side of the Sierras.

Some people never know when they have enough; others never have an opportunity of knowing.

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

Notable Service

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 11.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have waited a full week after the primary election to permit the smoke and the dust to clear up so that my perspective might in no way be distorted. I had nothing at stake in the election except that which every resident of California had, my concern for the welfare of the State and the triumph of sincerity. As a comparative newcomer, indeed, I was in a large measure detached from the prejudices and interests that sway the voter in a hotly contested campaign.

The election has now passed into history, and following the habit of good Americans the Republicans of this State accept the judgment of the tribunal to which they had submitted their cause. Unfortunately, it is the experience of California that not every Republican who so submits his cause is a good Republican; and we have had too frequently and too flagrantly of late the spectacle of a self-appointed dictator repudiating the deliberate judgment of his party as expressed in its choice of national policy and leadership. However, the California voters by their overwhelming nomination of Senator Shortridge rendered their verdict on that sort of tactics. That, too, has passed into history.

After years of observation of political contests I can say without reservation that I have never seen an election in which the returns so clearly indicated a vote of confidence in a newspaper as that of Tuesday last in Southern California.

Gov. Richardson, conscientious, efficient public servant as he is, totally lacks imagination. This left him hopelessly without the appeal of personal magnetism and what is more important in an election, without any machinery for marshalling the voters. He had against him a political machine of tremendous power, disciplined to military rigor. He had against him the most unscrupulous and most sinister newspaper organization in the United States. He had, besides, against him his own reluctance to throw himself into the campaign and lead the battle of good government in the field.

It is no disparagement of his other friends and supporters to say that everybody knows, that the burden of waging the campaign for Gov. Richardson—and for Senator Shortridge, too—fell in Southern California on the Los Angeles Times.

How well The Times did the job is shown in the election totals. Throughout the Southland, everywhere within the active circulation radius of The Times, the people voted overwhelmingly for Senator Shortridge despite the natural appeal to local pride in his opponent, and these same voters gave Gov. Richardson a substantial plurality. The figures show that he had a lead of 19,000 votes in the southern counties, despite the 52,000 for Goodcell, himself a Southern Californian. This result is a tremendous vote of confidence in The Times, a fact which can be correctly appreciated only when one considers the far-reaching power of the opposition, the sardonic and skillful mendacity of its newspaper organs and the fact that the champions of gang government themselves made The Times an issue.

On the other hand, The Times waged a clean battle, presenting the issues openly, clearly and forcibly. It was an inspiration to see such a sincere and effective presentation of a political situation. The result is encouraging to those of us who have been fearful that the historic leadership of newspapers in public affairs was in danger. We have seen more than once Tammany elect a ticket with every great New York daily arrayed against it. We have seen the Philadelphia prototype of the Los Angeles city machine frequently defy and defeat the entire newspaper field in Pennsylvania's metropolis. Chicago's sordid forces have elected mayors with all the daily newspapers lined up for the opposition. The situation has been alarming to thoughtful Americans and disastrous to the fame of popular government.

But the achievement of the Los Angeles Times is an answer to our fears. It shows that sincere and intelligent newspaper leadership is trusted by sincere and thoughtful people. Last week's primary in the Southland proved it as it was proved in the city at the special election in the spring when The Times, single handed and against tremendous odds, carried the day in the union station referendum.

These are facts encouraging to conscientious newspaper workers and reassuring to the public. But the public is too apt to accept them as a matter of course, and they are too much a part of the day's work for The Times to be keenly aware of them. Therefore I have written this, and I ask The Times to print it that it may go into the record.

FREDERICK F. FORBES.

Workmen May Think So

Despite all the jokes that have been printed on this subject, the Observer has come across another one of those advertisements placing the name of the color of the article for sale before the type of person it was intended for, resulting in a humorous ambiguity.

This particular example, which was printed in a local newspaper, read: "Special sale on blue workmen's shirts."—[Columbus Dispatch.

LES ROSCOE, RAGMAN OF KHJ

CHARLES LESLIE HILL, HONEY BOY

gram of last evening, is a rare delight. We were privileged to present these artists, who are in the cast of "Julius Caesar," in the balcony scene from "Romeo and Juliet," and in the "murder scene" from "Othello."

The experience of Margaret Bourne as a reader of Shakespeare has been a broad one, as she has been associated with such Shakespearean actors as Frederick Warde and R. D. McLean. She is cast for Calpurnia in the production of Julius Caesar which is soon to be given, and there is no one who could portray this difficult part more beautifully than Miss Bourne.

PLAYS IN "GREEN HAT"

Gareth Hughes at present is playing the part of "Gerald March" in "The Green Hat." If you saw him in New York in "The Dunce Boy," you will never forget him.

The two scenes given last night were so exquisitely done—beautiful diction, beautiful phrasing, beautiful speaking voices.

The music for this portion of the program was furnished by Miss Edna Hewitt whose soprano voice was heard in several unusual numbers. One that has not been sung in this studio before, we believe, was Hahn's "The Green Cathedral"—a lovely thing. Another was "Invocation to Life," by Charles Gilbert Stross. She was ably assisted at the piano by Warner Van Valkenburg, pianist and composer of Hollywood. Mr. Van Valkenburg also gave as a solo one of his compositions, "Cossacks," a stirring Russian tone poem.

Preceding the broadcast of the artists of the Julius Caesar" production, a recital was given by Frederick MacMurray, viola, Alta Arnold, soprano, Frederick Galloway, tenor, and the Orpheus Four.

SOPRANO NEW GUEST

The beautiful tones of Frederick MacMurray's viola went out over the air in several numbers from his instrument unaccompanied. All arrangements were his own. Impromptu No. 6 for viola is his own composition, and is a classic. He gave several request numbers, among them being the "Barcarolle" from the "Tales of Hoffman," and "Yearning."

Alta Arnold, soprano, is a new guest at KHJ, and won the approval of her audience in such songs as "Calm as the Night," by Bohm, and "One Fleeting Hour."

It was a pleasure to hear the lovely tenor voice of Fred Galloway again. His selections were chosen to please the varied tastes of his listeners, and were sung in a creditable manner.

There is no more popular group of singers than the Orpheus Four, and they lived up to their reputation last evening in singing things that every one likes to hear.

Today the studio presents but one program—the one at the noon hour when you will hear the Piggly Wiggly Girls, and Isofarad Pat Lee.

LeRoy Parry and his orchestra are home from their trip to the bay district. They had a wonderful time and are going to play for us Wednesday when they will tell you all about it.

FOSTER TELLS CARD HISTORY

Expert Who Will Write for "Times" Recalls Past

Auction Bridge Started as Game for Three

Isolated Hill Station in India Lacked Player

Robert Frederick Foster, the famous card wizard, who is to conduct a column of questions and answers on bridge in the columns of The Times this week during an engagement at Bullock's, where he begins today a series of daily bridge conferences, has often been called the "Father of Auction Bridge." The reason for the sobriquet brings out a most interesting side light upon the origin of the game in this country and offers conclusive proof that the eminent authority now visiting Los Angeles is senior dean of all present-day bridge exponents. Regarding the early history of auction bridge, Mr. Foster makes the following statement:

"It was not until at least two years after Henry Barbey introduced the game of bridge to the players at the New York Whist Club before that game entirely superseded duplicate whist in America, and it took nearly as long for auction to supplant bridge.

FEW REALIZE IMPORTANCE

"Few persons realize that auction bridge was for several years a game for three players only, and was never intended to be played by four persons, because, when four were available they could play bridge. It so happened that in 1902 three members of the British Civil Service were stationed at a lonely hill station in India. They were extremely fond of bridge, but found it impossible to get a fourth, and were driven to trying all the then known variations, misery bridge, Chinese bridge, and draw bridge."

"This getting tiresome, one of the trio, John Roe, who afterward published a pamphlet on the game under the name of John Doe, suggested bidding for the privilege of playing the dummy hand, and they liked the game so well that they christened it auction bridge.

"A letter to the Daily Mail in London shortly afterward described the game, but no notice was taken of it until some members of the Bath Club tried it and it at once occurred to them that it should be a good game for four players. Mr. Foster was in London at the time, and in 1905 when he was card editor of the New York Sun, he wrote several short articles describing and recommending the game, but bridge was good enough for Americans at that time.

LECTURES ON GAME

"In 1906 he added a description of auction to his book, 'Foster's Complete Bridge,' and this led to his being asked to give talks about it at various clubs, among them the Whist Club of New York, of which he was a member. About fifty players assembled to hear him, but the card committee of the club voted against the game as 'placing one too much at the mercy of the partner.' In spite of this, Mr. Foster kept at it in the Sun articles, and within two years the Whist Club had to formulate a set of laws for auction, after which it soon spread all over the United States."

It is announced that reservation for the original one week's engagement, scheduled for Mr. Foster at Bullock's has been sold out, and that for the benefit of those who have been disappointed in securing reservations an additional series of three days has been arranged for the 20th, 21st and 22nd inst., in the afternoons in Bullock's tea room.

QUESTIONS ASKED

During the week questions concerning any phase of auction bridge will be answered through the columns of The Times. The first of these follow:

C. A S. submits: My partner bids no-trump, which goes around to the fourth hand, who bids two, hearts. This my partner doubles. Should I have left the double in, holding four hearts to the king and jack, five clubs to the ace, and two small of each of the other suits?

Answer: The usually accepted meaning of a double in such situations is that, although your partner has a no-trumper, it is not very likely to go game, although it may make the contract, if the opening lead is the suit bid by the fourth hand. Such bids are made for the purpose of asking a lead that will probably save game, if the no-trumper is persisted in. Therefore, the object of the double is to get you to bid your best suit, in this case, clubs.

P. B. G. says: Having been told never to bid on suits that are simply long without any winning cards in them, I passed as dealer with these cards and was criticised for it: In spades, six to the queen; the ace, queen of hearts; ace, king of clubs, and ace to three diamonds. I was so short in two suits that I did not like to bid no-trump.

A.: There are no rules without exceptions in regard to strength in suit bids. While it is true that a spade bid on six to the queen should be held back for the second round, one must consider the prospect of there being such a chance. In this case the cards in other suits are so strong that it is improbable that any other player at the table will have enough to make a bid. Such being the case that if you do not bid now the hand may be thrown up. The strength in the side suits fully justifies bidding one spade at once.

M. L. E., asks: In what way do laws differ from the English and to what extent should our play be altered in order to make up a rubber with three playing those laws.

A.: Apart from the matter of penalties, the greatest difference is in the rank of the bids. In this country a bid of one more trick outranks the previous bid, no matter what its denomination is, so that four clubs will outbid three no-trumps. Under the English laws the bid must have a greater scoring value, so that three no-trumps being worth thirty, and four clubs only twenty-four, a player would be obliged to bid five clubs, to over-call the four no-trumps. In this country three spades, worth twenty-seven, would be outbid by four clubs, whereas in England it would not. This leads to a great deal of confusion if one is not thoroughly accustomed to it.

'MISS X' WEPT AS SHE TOOK OATH

nor Woolley knew the name of the other and that she was known only to them as "Miss X." The affidavits had been prepared, Scott said, before he entered the room. "Miss X" had apparently been weeping, he asserted and during the time she affixed her signature to the paper she brushed tears from her eyes. Mrs. Wiseman signed first, he recalled, and then "Miss X" signed, and immediately left the building. There had been some talk of the color of her hair, he declared, and his remembrance was that one of the women explained that "Miss X" had recently had her hair bobbed and that she had volunteered to go to a hotel and obtain her shorn tresses.

Judge Scott stated he wasn't sure whether she returned or not, as he left the office after acknowledging the signatures and making notes of the women's appearance.

The makers of the affidavits resembled each other, Scott recalled, "except that Mrs. Wiseman was a blonde, and 'Miss X' a pronounced brunet." He described them as follows:

"Miss X" had dark-brown bobbed hair, was about 30 or 31 years of age, thin-faced and of slender build. She was about 5 feet 4 inches in height, weighed about 125 pounds and wore a dark-gray coat, tan shoes and a greenish colored hat. Scott said he noticed she was wearing a ring with a large, square, black set.

Mrs. Wiseman's hair was also bobbed. She appeared to be about the same age as "Miss X," about 5 feet 5 inches tall, was also slender and thin-faced and weighed about 128 pounds. She was garbed in a gray coat with a blue lapel, a dark-blue dress and wore black pumps. Her hat appeared reddish, or lavender-colored, with a pink and white band around it. She wore a monogramed ring on the third finger of her left hand.

there on August 17, 1925, and stayed for one month.

"At the end of the month Mrs. McDonald said that she was going to take her son to San Francisco, as he could not arrange his college course satisfactorily here, but that she would return and continue to occupy her apartment," said Mrs. McFaul yesterday.

"At the time she left she owed several days, rent and the usual checking out charge if she intended to vacate. When several days passed and we heard nothing from her I entered her apartment and found that she had taken all of her belongings. We have never heard from her since. Some time after she disappeared a woman who explained that Mrs. McDonald had been working as dressmaker for her called up and inquired for her, saying that she had departed from her employment in much the same manner that she had left her apartment."

Mrs. McFaul and Lord declared that they would take steps immediately to collect the account due them from Mrs. McDonald, now that she had been located.

AUDIT REQUESTED FOR WATER ASSOCIATION

PHOENIX, Sept. 12. (Exclusive)—Something of insurrection is known within the Salt River Valley Water Users' Association, 126 of the 5800 shareholders having petitioned the Interior Department for an audit of the association's affairs. Allegations are made that irregularities have been found approximating $1,000,000, though no peculation appears to be charged. It is asserted that too much power has been given in financial affairs to the president and secretary. The association lately has been making large expenditures in connection with the Horse Mesa Dam and its power installation, which will cost nearly $5,000,000.

Wife Says Film Actress's Mother Stole Affections of Husband

Conception Alfonso Ramos, whose affections Mrs. Edythe Starke, said to be the mother of Pauline Starke, motion-picture actress, is charged with stealing, is scheduled to appear before Judge Shaw Thursday to answer questions he declined to answer when attorneys took his deposition in connection with the $50,000 heartbalm suit brought by Mrs. Adela Ramos against Mrs. Starke.

Mrs. Ramos charged Mrs. Starke with enticing away her husband, asserting that Mrs. Starke induced Ramos to accompany her on a trip through the Southwest and Mexico in an automobile.

When Ramos appears before Judge Shaw next Thursday he will be interrogated about entries in a diary he is said to have kept during the asserted trip through Mexico.

Ramos is said to have admitted he became acquainted with Mrs. Starke while employed in the restaurant of a downtown department store. Later, he said, he worked at her home in Hollywood as a chauffeur and odd-job man.

He said it was arranged that he accompany Mrs. Starke on the automobile tour a an interpreter and helper, but he declined to answer most questions about details of the trip.

"She's turrible, mon, simply turrible, and we've got to move about the house without making a sound, so as not to disturb her," said Sandy, looking desperate.

"What noise most disturbs her?" asked the sympathetic friend.

"Any noise at all, mon," replied the other. "Why, things hae got so bad the noo that last night when I was marching up and down the room playing the bagpipes

THERE'S SOMETHING "DIRTY" GOING ON

Johnny Burke Exposes Late War Unpleasantness in Act at Hillstreet

There's "Dirty Work" going on at the Hillstreet this week.

And the slouching, querulous, inexpressibly funny Johnny Burke, in ill-fitting uniform and battered helmet, is responsible—entirely.

Mr. Burke is easily the outstanding personality on the current bill, though he is given some pretty keen competition for first honors by such capable troupers as the "pessimistic" Harry Holmes and the pictorial Lucille Ballantine.

It seems that Johnny got his gun and went to war—much against his own inclinations.

Now he is back again to explain all the "dirty work" that went on in the army. The outrage, for example, of sending him to France when he got married just to evade the draft.

Coldly calculating that it was better to be married than shot!

Burke has a distinctive stage personality and he sends his hearers into gales of laughter with apparently no effort at all. A clever entertainer.

Lucille Ballantine, assisted by her four dapper "boy friends," dancers of no mean ability themselves, offers an effectively staged and costumed number, with Charleston ensemble that is jazz at its height. Miss Ballantine is a graceful dancer and wears some striking costumes.

On the other hand, Harry Holmes makes no pretense of being a beauty or of aspiring to sartorial splendor. But he contrives an act that is "different." With everything from a talented white chicken to a cavoting skeleton and a Charleston dancer a la Zulu to enliven the affair.

Opening the bill, the Angel Brothers provide some authentic thrills with their balancing feats, high up in the air; while the Richard Vintour Revue numbers some clever dancers.

The Diehl Sisters offer comedy dance numbers, their burlesque on the ever-popular Egyptian motif providing the best. The Diehls are assisted by Bob MacDonald, who obligingly "fills in time" with patter and acrobatic dancing while the girls are changing their costumes.

"Watch Your Wife," with Virginia Valli and Pat O'Malley, is the screen feature.

Old Bromides Didn't Work in This Instance

Here is an actress who actually admits that success comes easy.

The secret of success is hard work Beauty alone is worthless. One must have patience, perseverance and determination, and above all else one's career must be placed above everything—friends, comfort and even home. These are the usual bromides on the subject.

But—even at the risk of discouraging picture novices, who pine to go out and suffer, truth compels the statement that it is not always that way.

There is one actress who admits that she did not have to work very hard.

The one who so ruthlessly upsets all the time-honored dope of the "long uphill climb" is Charlotte Stevens, who plays the part of the stenographer in Louis O. Maclon's funny stage comedy, "The Butter and Egg Man," starring Johnny Arthur at the Mason Theater.

OLD SOUTH COMBED FOR "TOM" LOCATIONS

COTTON FIELDS AND LEVEES OF DIXIELAND WILL BE PHOTOGRAPHED

Jack Lawton, location manager, and Frank Messenger, assistant director on Universal's superspectacle, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," left Universal City yesterday on a scouting trip through the South.

While Director Harry Pollard is filming scenes in the Shelby home on the lot, preparations are being made for an extended location trip to the South.

Lawton and Messenger left on the Santa Fe for St. Louis and Cairo, where the survivors of the old river side-wheelers are running.

They will select locations for levees and cotton fields at Vicksburg, Baton Rouge and Natchez.

River scenes will be taken on the Red River and New Orleans will be visited for data on costuming and other details.

The favorable attitude of the South toward the Harriet Beecher Stowe novel is indicated by the widespread co-operation which is being given the Universal officials by Southern chambers of commerce.

These municipal organizations have furnished valuable information on locations and many old southern families have offered their colonial mansions and plantations for the filming of the St. Clair home sequence.

Tom Mix Steps from Screen to Make Stage Bow

Instead of the announced Monday night personal appearance of Tom Mix and Tony the "Wonder Horse" it will be held on Tuesday night.

This announcement comes through Carl J. Walker manager of Pantages Theater and the personal appearance has been arranged for in connection with the Fox production. "No Man's Gold," in which Mix stars.

This week is also set aside as Fox Anniversary Week.

Other members of the cast include Eva Novak, Frank Campeau, Micky Moore and Malcolm Waite.

"MADAME X" CLOSING SOON AT PLAYHOUSE

Pauline Frederick in "Madame X" will conclude her engagement at the Playhouse Theater the 25th inst. The star will then go on tour across the States in this same play. At the end of her road tour she will sail for London, where she will be starred in this production.

From here Miss Frederick in "Madame X" will go to San Diego, playing the Sprekels Theater. She will also play Bakersfield, Fresno, San Jose, Oakland and then tour the Northern Coast route.

STARS AS THEY ARE NOT

BY MARQUIS BUSBY

Those bright stars who have attained lofty eminence on the stage and whose lives would seem to be one sweet song, are all unhappy. They cherish longings to vary the monotony of existence. The tragedian wants to drive a taxicab, or the comedian yearns to do Hamlet.

That is what Elsie Janis at the Orpheum this week, would have us believe.

So, accordingly, Elsie interprets these stars in a new environment. Ethel Barrymore sings, "Mamma Goes Where Papa Goes;" while Brother John warbles dramatically, "Yes, We Have No Bananas" (a song I had thought was extinct;) Beatrice Lillie obliges with "The Curse of An Aching Heart;" Harry Lauder transfers his Scotch burrs to "Valencia," and Fannie Brice plays "Peter Pan."

Elsie Janis has been characterizing Lauder and Fannie Brice for a good many years, and as always these two characterizations are uncannily true.

If it isn't too heretic a statement Elsie as Fannie Brice is just as funny as Fannie herself.

A toss of the hair, a glance from the eyes, a posture, and Miss Janis accomplishes an almost eerie likeness of those she characterizes.

Her apparent physical likenesses to John Barrymore, Sarah Bernhardt and Raquel Meller in "La Violeterra" are particularly startling.

And yesterday afternoon's audience wouldn't let her go until she made a neat little speech about being "overawed by the gorgeousness of the new Orpheum."

By the way, there was an epidemic of curtain speeches yesterday, no less than four acts being obliged to answer applause by ad lib forensics.

Elsa Ersi, late of Hungary, is a new foreign menace in vaudeville. There is now a "Hungarian Rhapsody," other than that played by symphonies, and Miss Ersi fully deserves that appellation, under which she is billed.

"A Hungarian Rhapsody" has caught that delightful lilt, the joie de vivre, of continental life.

Miss Ersi displays a piquant charm in all of her numbers. With her blond loveliness she should travel far in America, on stage or screen, whichever course she elects.

Doris Canfield of the team of Allen and Canfield, is that very rare thing, a natural comedienne. Perhaps what is still more unusual the two get over some genuinely new jokes. They patter a bit, sing a bit, and clown a lot.

"I haven't a very good voice," said Miss Canfield, "but I sing loud."

Helene Coyne and Henri French have a well-staged dance act in "Music of Motion," with the girl scoring especially in her toe-dance numbers.

Bert Hanlon is a rapid-fire comedian in "The Gattling Gun;" George Dormonde and Partner have found a new twist to the tried-and-true bicycle act, and Anderson and Yvel succeed in "Trying to Please" on the closing spot.

STARS OF PICTURE APPEAR AT LOEW'S

Lew Cody

The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studio begins the celebration of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer week at Loew's State tonight with a gala performance of "The Gay Deceiver." Lew Cody will be master of ceremonies, and Carmel Myers, will be the principal feminine guest of honor and the entire cast of "The Gay Deceiver" will be present in person.

Among the featured players who will be presented by Lew Cody are Roy D'Arcy, Marceline Day, Dorothy Phillips and Malcolm McGregor.

John M. Stahl, the director of the photoplay of which Lew Cody is the star, also will be present.

Fanchon and Marco have a surprise program for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer night. with Rube Wolf and his gloom-chasing orchestra, as well as Gattison Jones, Elsie Elliott and others. Others who will take part in the Fanchon and Marco program are Al Abbott, Helene Grant, Oscar Taylor, the Sunkist Beauties and other talented artists.

Lew Cody will be introduced by Homer B. Wright, managing director of Loew's State.

Other Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer players and studio officials will be on hand.

George O'Brien, who is appearing as the Prince in "Gaby," Harry Carr's original screen story for Fox Films, under the direction of Howard Hawks, is said to be giving the best performance of his career. Virginia Valli is the girl and William Powell the "menace."

PRESENTS LEGEND OF OLD ORIENT

"Pieces of China" Seen for First Time Tonight at Philharmonic

With an allegorical prologue based on an ancient Chinese legend, "The Giant's Sword," Isaac O. Upham's travel picture, "Pieces of China," will have its first presentation at the Philharmonic Auditorium, tonight. The Chinese giant Liu, who was brought here from Peking to appear with Upham's picture, will be in the cast of the prologue.

Moon Kwan, a young Chinese poet who was educated at the University of California, wrote the prologue. Moon was technical advisor to D. W. Griffith during the making of "Broken Blossoms."

He has served in like capacity with Viola Dana in the "Willow Tree," and Sessue Hayakawa in the "City of Dim Faces." Further distinction came to Moon Kwan when Charles Wakefield Cadman set to music his "Willow Wind Cycle."

A special score of oriental music has been arranged by J. P. Schinhan for both the prologue and the picture.

FOX FILM DIRECTOR GOES TO EAST COAST

CUMMINGS WILL START WORK ON OLD MELODRAMA IN NEW YORK

Irving Cummings, Fox Films director, having seen his production of "The Country Beyond" in the final stages of cutting, departed yesterday for New York, where he will start production on "Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl." This is a modernized version of the old melodrama and will be made in the William Fox eastern studios and in the clothing manufacturing district of the lower east side of New York.

Madge Bellamy has been chosen for the title ole of Bertha and Allan Simpson will play the male lead. Miss Bellamy is now in New York, having just finished work in "Summer Bachelors," the Warner Fabian story directed by Allan Dwan. Mr. Simpson will go east in two weeks, when actual production on "Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl" will start. Others of the cast will probably be selected in New York.

Theodore Kremer is the author of "Bertha." Gertrude Orr adapted it for screen purposes.

WHITEMAN WILL OPEN CONCERTS

"Jazz King" Arrives in Los Angees Tomorrow Morning

Beginning tomorrow Los Angeles will be under the reign of a "King." Paul Whiteman, "monarch of jazz," arrives at the Union Pacific station tomorrow at 2 p.m. and will be greeted by Mayor Cryer, a host of friends and screen stars, several bands and representatives from musical organizations. The rotund master of jazz arrives to begin his engagement at the Million Dollar Theater Saturday, in conjunction with the first showing of Thomas Meighan in "Tin Gods."

PAUL WHITEMAN

This engagement is the first under a contract said to be the largest ever signed for entertainment and recently consummated between Whiteman and the Publix Theaters Circuit. Whiteman chose Los Angeles as the city in which to open this popular-priced tour.

The leader has just returned to America after a tour of Europe's capitals where he succeeded in teaching the Europeans to enjoy and appreciate the peppy American music.

Among the bands which will serenade his arrival will be Eddie Peabody and his syncopators from the Metropolitan, Brick English and his singing band from the Million Dollar, three bands from Solomon's Penny Dance, a college band and other musical organizations.

Meantime, Red Grange, the "Galloping Ghost" of the gridiron is proving a sensationally popular attraction in his first picture, "One Minute to Play." Tuesday night has been set aside as University of Southern California Night, in honor of Coach Howard Jones and his 1926 gridiron squad, who will be presented to the audience. Wednesday night will be similarly dedicated to the University of California, Southern Branch. Coach Bill Spaulding and his squad will be the honor guests on that occasion.

Dramatic Work is Life Study of Ralph Ince

Ralph Ince.

After finishing school he went on the stage, and after a brief experience, went in repertoire with Richard Mansfield. Next he appeared with Florence Reed in "Today," and was starred in "Ben Hur." Then he was featured in "The College Widow," and was with Ethel Barrymore in "Mrs. McChesney."

Following a tour of the Orpheum circuit, where he was headlined, Ince entered motion pictures. His first screen experience was with Vitagraph, where he spent ten years. He directed "The Goddess," one of the first serial pictures. Among the pictures he has directed are "Souls for Sale," "The Sea Wolf" and "Dynamite Smith."

Majestic Show Nearing Close of Engagement

"Monkey Business," said to be one of the gayest and most sprightly musical revues the local stage has seen in months, is rapidly nearing the close of its engagement at the Majestic Theater, according to Producer Michael Corper, who announces that he is making preparations for his forthcoming production.

Starring Olsen and Johnson and featuring William Demarest, Estelle Collette, Lynn Cowan, Percy Bronson, Edyth Evans, Clyde Hager, Angelus Sisters and others, "Monkey Business" will probably play in San Francisco following the termination of its Los Angeles run.

San Francisco managers have been dickering with Michael Corper for "Monkey Business" for the last four weeks, it was said at the Majestic, but no definite plans have yet been made concerning the booking.

Many radical changes have been made in "Monkey Business" since the opening at which time Olsen and Johnson made their debut in musical comedy. With many new sketches, new faces and opening numbers and finale entirely new, "Monkey Business" is now entertaining again many playgoers who saw the revue in its early weeks.

"DANCING MOTHERS" STARTS SECOND WEEK

The success of the play "Dancing Mothers" which began a second week yesterday has proved to be one of the biggests hits seen at the Morosco for some time and promises to duplicate its New York success.

The new cast which made its Los Angeles debut with this play include Alma Tell, John Litel, Elizabeth Allen, Mitchell Harris, James Bush, J. Morris Foster, Jane Morgan, Harry Garrity, Jasoda Maranoff, Edward Wade, Frederick Pymm, Judith Ames, Ida Maye, Harry Hoyt, Aline Bryant, Ivan Fonera, Valerie Baldwin, Guy L. Dennison and Phyllis Warde.

COSGROVE CAST IN "JEWELS OF DESIRE"

Supporting Miss Dean are John Bowers, Walter Long, Tote Du Crow, Fred Peters, Raymond Wells and Ernie Adams. The production is being directed by Paul Powell.

HAMBURG EGGS

Cream two tablespoonfuls of butter, four tablespoonfuls of soft bread crumbs, and a teaspoonful of minced parsley, seasoning to taste with salt, paprika and celery salt. Work all to a smooth paste, and with it line small individual patty pans that have been brushed with melted butter; break an egg carefully into each, and, after dusting lightly with salt, cover with a mixture of melted butter and browned bread crumbs, cooking for six minutes in a hot oven. Serve in the pans garnished with parsley.

SPARERIBS STUFFED

Sew together several pounds of fresh spareribs, so that they form a pocket, then stuff with the following: One pound of prunes boiled for five minutes (pour the juice of the prunes into a bowl.) Peel and cut a quart of sour apples into small pieces then mix them with the prunes, adding to this mixture, sugar, a little cinnamon and a tablespoonful of cracker dust. Put this stuffing into the spareribs and sew the pocket together. Put juice of the prunes into the pan in which the spareribs are to be roasted and cook in the oven for one hour.

DATE PIE

Wash one pound of dates and soak over night, stew in the same water till soft enough to rub through colander. Add one cupful of sour cream, two level tablespoonfuls of butter, yolks of three eggs, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one of nutmeg, and a little salt. Bake in one crust. Make a meringue of whites of eggs, if liked.

FLANK STEAK WITH ONIONS

Place in a casserole a flank steak cut from the thick end of the flank, one and one-half inches thick. Cover with two inches depth of onions sliced and well seasoned with salt and pepper. Finally cover with thin slices of salt pork and add one cupful of water. Cover closely and bake in a slow oven or a fireless cooker all the afternoon. There will be little evidence of the salt pork when done. Just before serving remove cover and brown. Serve from the casserole.

GRAPE JUICE SOUFFLE

To one pint of grape juice, add two tablespoonfuls of granulated gelatine and heat until gelatine is dissolved. Strain and cool. When mixture begins to stiffen, beat in the stiffly beaten whites of four eggs, and fold in one cupful of stiffly beaten cream. Turn into molds and chill.

At Casa Del Mar

Club Casa Del Mar is popular for dinner-dances, even so late in the season. Among the charming events given there last week were the affairs of Mrs. James Lyons Belt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Stanley and Dr. A. F. Morgan.

Mrs. Belt had as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Morgans, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Heckmans, Walter Calahan and Arthur Hobel. Dahlias and zinnias in pastel shades formed the table decorations.

Mrs. Howard Polts, Miss Roudda Edwards, Miss M. Rhoades, Mr. and Mrs. Helen Whalen, Mr. and Mrs. George Foley, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James Titus and Mrs. Audley McDonald were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley. Their table was decorated in summer blossoms.

Dr. Morgan entertained a brilliant party of eight.

Freshman Frolic

One of the first social events of the fall season at the University of Southern California was the freshman frolic in the women's gymnasium, Friday afternoon. Miss Ruth Carr, as social chairman of the Women's Self-Government Association, was in charge of the informal dance which followed the reception. She was assisted by Miss Eleanor Mix, president of the organization; Miss Betty Farmer, vice-president; Miss Martha Wigget, president of the Trojan Amazons, and Miss Margaret Burke, president of the Y.W.C.A. branch.

Bridge-Tea

Miss Margaret Michel entertained at a delightful bridge-tea at one of the beach clubs last Tuesday, in the form of a linen shower for Miss Marjorie Ruth Edinger.

Henchy, Mr. and Mrs. Wait, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Moses, Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Eiber and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carpenter.

Engagement Announced

Forty members of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority from the University of Southern California were entertained Saturday afternoon at a bridge-tea at the Mary Louise by Miss Alta King and Miss Ruth King, the occasion serving to announce the engagement of Miss Alta King to Lester A. McMillan, member of Gamma Epsilon fraternity and student in U.S.C. law school

The secret was revealed by small cards bearing the names of the betrothed couple in the center of corsage bouquets of pansies and roses. Decorations were beautifully carried out in the sorority colors of turquoise blue and steel gray.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. King of Palms, while Mr. McMillan is from Chicago. No date has been set for the wedding, but it will occur in the late fall.

SHINGLES (HERPES ZOSTER)

Among the letters that have accumulated during my vacation in Europe this summer, I find quite a number from those suffering with shingles; that is, according to their own diagnoses.

As those of you who follow the column know, I cannot diagnose nor answer you personally in regard to treatment, and it is just as impossible and probably unwise for you to diagnose your own troubles, and you should go to a competent physician. However, I am going to give a paper on shingles, for the condition is not uncommon and it is possible your diagnosis is correct, and you may be in a locality where you cannot visit a physician.

First let me tell you that there is no foundation to the old saying that if shingles come on both sides of the chest and meet in front, death will result. In the first place, shingles very rarely appear on both sides of the body and even if they should, and meet, this does not mean anything except that the disease is a little more extensive than usual. As shingles follow the main nerve tracks and as there is no nerve which completely encircles the body, you can see how unlikely it is for the eruption to meet. Of course in old people and those greatly under par in health, the disease may go on to ulceration and produce complications which might be serious.

Definition: Shingles is defined as "an acute, inflammatory, self-limited disease, characterized by the appearance of several groups of vesicles (small blisters) on slightly elevated and inflamed areas of unilateral distribution (on one side) and corresponding to the distribution of the nerve trunk." (By a self-limited disease is meant one which tends to recover within a certain period whether treatment is given or not.) There may be some pain and itching.

New patches may come out for several days, but in most cases most of them are out within two days, and in five to ten days they reach their full development and then begin to subside. At the end of one or two weeks the blisters dry to thin, brownish crusts which in several days drop off leaving red spots which gradually fade.

Sites—Shingles may appear on any part of the body following the course of the main skin nerves. They most often appear on the chest, in the lumbar region ("small of the back") and above the eyes.

Causes and treatment—It is not known what the cause of shingles is, but the belief is growing among skin specialists that it is due to some sort of an infection similar to the chicken pox. It has been found that it is often associated with pyorrhea and the teeth abscesses and bad tonsils, so it looks as though some cases are due to poisons absorbed from disease elsewhere in the body.

However, we have to always hold this thought in mind; usually before an infection can take place, there is something that has made the tissues lose their fighting power against germs and you have got to determine what this factor is and remedy it. We know that the nerves and, of course, all of the tissues of the body are profoundly affected by diets that are wrong, especially diets that are lacking in the elements which go to build up the tissues and keep them in working order.

While a great deal is written on the need of getting the vitamins and mineral elements from liberal amounts of fresh fruits and vegetables and milk, there are still far too many people who believe that this diet business is a fad and pay no attention to it. Now it is not a fad. We have absolute evidence that wrong diets can cause more sorts of ill health than any other one factor. So in your treatment of shingles or any trouble this must be taken into account. Overeating and undereating both should be corrected. (If you are overweight, you are eating too much, and if you are underweight you probably are eating too little. In either case the pamphlet on reducing and gaining will guide you aright. Enclose 10 cents in stamps with your self-addressed, stamped envelope.) Tomorrow I'll give you the local treatment of shingles.

Tomorrow—Shingles (No. 2.)

My dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your full name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

Fruit Juice Drinks

One Mother Says:

When I am canning fruit I keep some of the juice that would ordinarily be poured over the fruit and save it for the children to drink. Diluted with cold water, this makes an excellent hot weather beverage. The children like it and I know that it is perfectly pure.

New Welfare Conference for Infants Formed

The recent rapid growth of the infant welfare conferences of the health department has necessitated the establishment of a new conference and a change of location of another, according to Dr. A. V. Nasatir, director in charge.

A new conference will be located this week at the Arroyo Seco playground at 6150 Piedmont street, next to the Arroyo Seco library. The conference at the Echo Park Mothers' Club will be moved into more spacious quarters at the Echo Park community playground house at 1632 Bellevue avenue.

More than 100 mothers are expected to bring their infants weekly to these conferences for inspection and health advice, according to the director

"Turning On the Light"

If Electricity Sold by the Pound

IF ELECTRICITY could be sold by the pound over the counter like butter or cheese, you could see with your own eyes exactly how much you were buying.

Electricity can't be sold that way, of course. It has to be wired to your house and the amount used measured by passing it through a simple device—the electric meter.

Your electric meter is one of the most accurate of instruments—just as accurate as any measuring device by which you buy other commodities.

We keep tabs on our electric meters by testing everyone before it is put in use. Large meters we test semi-annually while in service, and house meters every four or five years. Besides, we test a meter any other time there seems to be a need for it.

All tests are made with apparatus which measures up to U.S. Government standards.

Of the 20,989 electric meters we tested during 1925, only 854 did not come up to Railroad Commission standards of accuracy.

Of these 854, only 73—thirty-five hundreths of one per cent—were "fast", or registered more current than actually passed through them. The rest were either "slow" (registered less current) or didn't register.

Attorney Will Give Talk on Redistricting

Speaking on Southern California's urgent need of proper representation in the State Senate and Assembly, Raymond L. Haight, attorney, will address a meeting of the Angeleno Heights Improvement Association tonight in the Park Congregational Church, Bellevue avenue and Douglas street.

Mr. Haight will outline the provisions and purpose of Proposition No. 20 on the November election ballot, an amendment of the constitution for reapportionment of the Legislature on a basis of population, which is sponsored by the All Parties Reapportionment Committee, 246 South Hill street.

The committee also reported an indorsement of Proposition No. 20 by Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin of Temple B'nai B'rith, who said: "I am strongly in favor of a just and equitable reapportionment of the State Legislature as provided for by our Constitution and in accordance with the spirit thereof."

Japanese Envoy to Brazil Here for Brief Visit

Hachita Tatsuke, Japanese Ambassador to Brazil, arrived in Los Angeles last night from Mexico for a two-day visit before sailing to Japan on a vacation. Accompanied by his secretary, T. Fukuma, the Japanese Ambassador registered at the Ambassador Hotel after being greeted at the Southern Pacific station by the Japanese Consul, C. Ohashi.

Mr. Tatsuke left Brazil about two weeks ago and stopped off in Mexico for a five-day tour of that country. He said that there were about 5000 Japanese in Brazil, most of whom were interested in agricultural work. Mr. Tatsuke will leave on the steamship La Plata Tuesday after a sightseeing trip here.

TELLS OF PROGRESS IN TREATING CANCER

HEAD OF RESEARCH INSTITUTE, BACK FROM ABROAD, FINDS USE OF LEAD EFFECTIVE

Marked progress in the results obtained from the use of lead in the treatment of cancer were reported lately by Dr. Francis Carter Wood, director of the Institute of Cancer Research, Columbia University, and vice-president of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, who has just returned from Europe.

Dr. Wood and Dr. Howard Canning Taylor, president of the society, visited the clinic of Prof. W. Blair Bell of Liverpool, to see the latest developments in the use of lead.

"Since my last visit to Prof. Bell's laboratory in January considerable improvement has been made in the application of the lead treatment," Dr. Wood said. "Marked progress also has been made in the preparation of a form of lead which is permanent enough to be placed on the market, and as soon as satisfactory arrangements can be made this preparation will be made available in Great Britain and the United States. A certain number of physicians connected with large hospitals, who wish to take up this treatment, will then be trained by Prof. Bell in all the details concerning the proper use of the remedy.

"Unfortunately, however, the improvement in the lead preparation has still not removed all of its dangers and it is therefore only proper to use it at present on those in whom surgery, radium or X-ray are powerless. While lead is effective in a few patients it fails in many others and it is impossible at present to determine before the treatment is begun whether any patient will be benefited or not. Despite this, colloidal lead still remains the only medicine which has any effect on cancer and full credit should be given to Blair Bell for his discovery of that fact."

Dr. Wood said there was very great interest in Europe concerning the symposium on cancer to be held under auspices of the American Society for the Control of Cancer at Lake Mohonk, N. Y., on the 20th and 24th inst.—[New York Herald-Tribune.
